Point Reyes Park Bills Introduced

A SAN RAFAEL SIGNATURE

Fifteen-year-old Jim Garrett, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. G. Garrett of 150 Valley View avenue, San Rafael, is shown signing autographs for visiting Filipinos at the U. S. camp site in Jamboree City, Mt. Makiling, Philippines, where more than 11,000 Boy Scouts from 51 nations are roughing it during the 10th World Jamboree. Jim is attending with his brother, Larry, 16. Both are Eagle Scouts and members of the San Rafael Military Academy troop.

RAINDROPS FALL, BUT NOT ENOUGH TO HELP

A few drops of rain fell in San Rafael about 8 a.m. today.

Novato had a light shower, lasting about five minutes, a half hour earlier.

"A very few drops" were reported in South Marin.

None of the locales, however, had enough rain to be measurable — to say nothing of ending the drought arising from light rains of the past winter.

There was hope, though: The U. S. Weather Bureau at San Francisco International Airport forecast a few light showers tonight.

Planners Reject Sausalito Hotel, Motel Projects

San Rafael contractor William H. McDevitt came up with one win and two losses before the Sausalito Planning Commission last night.

One of the losses, however, may be appealed.

A large crowd of residents was present as McDevitt lost, 4-3, his plea for approval of plans for a hotel on Bulkley avenue which would contain 100 rooms, with parking for 120 cars, a swimming pool and other modern developments. He spoke for Mrs. Marian Warnock Frick, real estate broker and owner of the property.

RESIDENTS OBJECT

But residents objected to the proposal, chiefly because of expected traffic problems.

Isabel Chesnut, whose mother resides in the Scatena Apartments now on the land, was told that building would be wrecked to make way for the new building.

Harry Braun, who owns nearby property, was assured by McDevitt that soil tests would be made to insure there would be no damage from slides.

Walter Thompson, speaking for the nearby Presbyterian Church, expressed concern over the expected parking problems. "It is bad enough now," he said. "In addition," added Thompson, "I don't want to see another liquor license come in here."

STREET JAMMED

Mrs. Robert (Pat) Browell, also a nearby resident, said the street is jammed already by traffic to the nearby Alta Mira Hotel. Robert McCabe felt it would be inappropriate to allow the hotel prior to the adoption of the city's master plan.

Mrs. William Wachter, wife of the Alta Mira manager, replied to a question that the Alta Mira has 46 rooms. She said she wished the new owners well "although their entrance would come ahead of ours on Bulkley avenue."

Clyde Trudell, Sausalito architect and Bulkley avenue resident, suggested that arrangements might be made to use the large downtown parking lot and operate shuttle buses between the hotel and the lot.

Herter Makes New Attack On Russ Plans

GENEVA (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today there is now little hope for success of the Big Four conference unless Gromyko abandons key Soviet demands for a stopgap agreement on Berlin.

Herter made a new attack on Soviet proposals which he said would reserve the Soviet threat against West Berlin as a weapon against the West and would also turn over negotiations on German unification to an East-West German committee.

CITES OBSTACLES

He branded these Soviet proposals obstacles to an accord and said that unless they can be overcome there is clearly little hope for the success of the Geneva conference.

Although Herter did not say so in the meeting at the Palace of Nations, Western leaders were reported to feel their pessimism about the outcome was confirmed by statements made by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

ISSUES WARNING

Khrushchev warned in a statement issued in Warsaw last night that unless the Western powers accept Soviet requirements for a Berlin truce the Soviet government will back up Communist East Germany in taking whatever action it considers necessary to "liquidate the abnormal situation" in West Berlin.

On returning to Moscow today the Soviet premier declared his country would continue to "undertake all efforts" to liquidate the occupation regime in Berlin.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville were reported to have backed up Herter's firm stand today in once more rejecting the Soviet price for a truce deal.

Herter said the Western powers are willing to enter into a Berlin agreement not directly tied to continued negotiation on a German settlement.

SOMEHOW SHE JUST DOESN'T FEEL WANTED

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jeanne Smith divorced policeman James Smith today, saying: "I came home and found he had moved out. I went in search. When I found him I asked him to come back. He refused. I cried. He struck me . . .

"I somehow got the impress that he didn't want me around any more."

Lack Of Water Hits Facilities At Parks Here

Shower and restroom facilities at one state park in Marin have been shut down because of a water shortage, and showers and laundries at another may be cut off if there isn't rain soon.

The state Division of Beaches and Parks announced in Sacramento that three parks, the two in Marin and one in San Diego County, face serious water shortages.

At Tomales Bay State Park, Tom Drew, assistant park supervisor, said showers at the restroom on the beach has been closed, and that the new restroom in the picnic area, built this year, has been closed entirely and locked.

"We're going to do everything we can to keep ahe park open and find additional source of water," Drew said. He added there are plans to start drilling soon for a well and that it may have to be done horizontically in the side of a hill. He said it is hoped this well will be available before the end of the season.

Supervisor William Allison at Samuel P. Taylor State Park said showers and laundries are still available, but "we are worried about August and September." Spring sources and water tanks are checked daily, he said.

Allison said the park has been used by night campers to capacity every night during the past few days, a situation that normally exists only on weekends.

Measures Sent To 2 Houses

Bills to authorize a national seashore recreation area on up to 35,000 acres of the Pt. Reyes Peninsula were introduced today in both houses of Congress.

Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera) introduced a bill in the House, and Sen. Clair M. Engle (D-Calif.) introduced an identical measure in the Senate.

The two legislators had held up introduction of the bills earlier in hope of an expression from the Marin County Board of Supervisors. But the board, which once went on record against the park plan, took no action regarding the enabling bills.

GOES TO COMMITTEES

Congressman Miller said he has no expectation of passage during this session of the measures, which will be referred to interior committees of the House and Senate.

But, said Miller and Engle in a joint statement, introduction of the bills "stakes California's claim for congressional consideration of Pt. Reyes for national seashore status at the appropriate time."

Both said they would not press for passage until a $15,000 feasibility survey, now under way by National Park Service direction, is completed.

Meantime, they say, they hope their authorization bills will "enourage restraint" of developers in subdividing the area.

HOMES PLANNED

(David S. Adams of San Anselmo has issued brochures announcing plans for 800 homesites in "Drake's Beach Estates," which Miller said is in the heart of the proposed recreation area.)

Several general bills on national park developments, proposed by the administration, are before the interior committees of both houses.

Interim hearings probably will be held on these bills, Miller and Engle said. Introduction of the Pt. Reyes bill will make it possible to include the Pt. Reyes site among those on which testimony is taken at the hearings.

The site is one of five proposed for national seashore recreation areas by the National Park Service. The others are the Oregon Dunes near Florence, Ore.; the Indian Dunes on Lake Michigan; Cape Cod, Mass., and Padre Island off the Texas gulf coast. Bills authorizing these had been introduced in Congress earlier.

'MUST LOOK AHEAD'

In their joint statement, Miller and Engle declared they are not committed to creation of the seashore park on the Pt. Reyes Peninsula, but "we must look ahead and set some of the remaining California landscape as outdoor breathing spaces."

The alternatives, they said, are not whether to leave the land as it now is, or develop part as a park, but whether to allow it all to be subdivided or to allow some subdivision and commercial development

3 San Rafael Tracts Pass; One Rejected

Tentative maps for three new subdivisions in San Rafael were approved last night, but the San Rafael Planning Commission denied the fourth request—Calvin Wheeler's 70-lot Terra Linda Meadows.

Wheeler wants to put in his new subdivision at the end of Manuel Freitas Parkway, just west of Terra Linda unit 9.

The planning commissioners denied the subdivision on grounds Wheeler did not agree to dedicate and improve one half of Manuel Freitas Parkway adjacent to the new subdivision.

Subdivisions that won the green light were:

1. Commonwealth Development Co.'s light industrial area just north of Marin Professional Center, across from Terra Linda. The area now has a nursery and an engineering office.

Approval of the industrial subdivision is subject to a 40-foot paved street being put through the subdivision. It will be called Joseph court.

2. Loch Lomond Unit 6 next to Villa Real subdivision. The new unit has 17 lots.

3. Dominican Heights, a 30-

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A new Douglas DC8 jet airliner sped 2,336 miles from Long Beach to Miami in 4 hours, 43 minutes, 11 seconds yesterday. Average speed was 512 m.p.h.

There was no established jet record for the flight.

The record for a piston engine plane from Los Angeles to Miami, 2,339 miles, is 5 hours, 50 minutes, made by a DC7 in November, 1953.

McELROY DUE TO VISIT HAFB TODAY

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy was scheduled to arrive at Hamilton Air Force Base at 4 p.m. today on what a spokesman for Western Air Defense Force termed an "unofficial" visit in the Bay Area.

McElroy has announced he would hold no press conference and give no interview at Hamilton.

The secretary is expected to remain in the Bay Area for several days before returning to Washington, D.C. He has been conducting conferences on military strategy at Middle West Air Force bases.

Boys Accused Of Vandalism At Canteen

Two boys who overturned wooden tables from the Canteen next to Tamalpais High School and dumped them in the middle of the street about midnight last night were in Marin Juvenile Hall today on various charges including malicious mischief and curfew violation.

The youths are both from Mill Valley and both 16 years old. Blanda Telander, operator of the Canteen, called the sheriff at 12:20 a.m. By the time Deputies D. L. Greeson and Boyd Burnham arrived, the youths were gone.

Just about that time, Glen Frederick Walk of 118 Cornelia street, Mill Valley, reported his 1955 coupe stolen from the area.

Greeson stopped the car at Homestead and Gomez streets and nabbed the two 16-year-olds.

The stolen car charge was not pressed because the owner recognized the youths as friends.

Beer Stolen, Guzzled By Boys 10, 6

Two beer thieves, who broke into a beer truck in Novato last night and had a ball for themselves, turned out to be boys aged 10 and 6.

Willis Robert Bradey of 1268 Cambridge avenue left his Hamm's beer van parked at 1400 S. Novato boulevard. When he returned about 7:30 p.m. he noticed the van open and two boys nearby. When he asked for their names, the older boy gave his name and the two ran off.

Sheriff's deputies tracked the boys to their homes, where both youngsters admitted they broke several bottles and drank beer. Their parents agreed to pay for damages.

NO STRONG FEELINGS

Robes? Marin Judges Can Take, Leave 'Em

Marin County judges indicated they have no strong feelings either for or against recently passed legislation which requires all judges in California to wear robes during court sessions.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in signing the measure this week, announced the robes will be required after September. The style of the robes, he said, would be determined by the state's Judicial Council.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court indicated he does not mind either way. "I've got along for years without them, and, with the people of the county permitting, I can get along for years with them," said Judge Brusatori.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Superior Court, asked to comment on the robes, sent word through the court clerk that he had "no comment."

Judge Jordan L. Martinelli of Superior Court is on vacation.

Both Marin Municipal Court judges said it "doesn't matter" to them. Said Judge Richard M. Sims: "I have no feeling one way or the other." Designating a certain style of robe for all judges "seems logical," he added.

Judge Harold J. Haley had this comment: "If the Legislature feels it will add dignity, I'm perfectly willing to try it." He said uniformity in style of robe is highly desirable.

Retired Superior Court Judge Edward I. Butler had this to say: "If judges maintain a fair but firm decorum in the courtrooms, the robes will not add much."

Judge Butler indicated he certainly would not have been the first to wear a robe, but if it becomes uniform practice throughout the state, he sees nothing wrong with it.

Incorporation Election Still Some Time Off

Novato will get a chance to vote on whether it will incorporate into a city, but the election will not be held for some time yet. A series of preliminary steps are required before the question comes to a vote.

On Tuesday, County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel certified to County Clerk George S. Jones that the legal minimum of petitions asking for incorporation had been found in order.

The supervisors will then fix a time by which the petitioners must deposit the estimated amount of money needed for publication.

Then the supervisors will set a time for hearing to fix the boundaries of the proposed new city. At this hearing, those who wish to be excluded from the incorporation may protest.

FINAL DECISION

The supervisors will have the final decision on boundaries. The supervisors may not add any property not included in the petition, but they may exclude certain areas.

After the boundaries are fixed, the supervisors will set an election date. A simple majority of those voting is sufficient to incorporate.

If all proceeds smoothly, a special election could be called by the end of the year.

4th San Rafael Parking Lot Assured By Yule

Another offstreet parking lot in downtown San Rafael, the fourth to be opened under Parking District 1, will be in operation in plenty of time for Christmas.

The new lot, at the northeast corner of Third and Cijos streets, will accommodate 64 cars. City Manager Dan E. Andersen today predicted the existing structures would be out, and the area paved and striped for customer use by October.

Tenants in the existing homes have all moved out, but one of them has until the end of August to remove material from his building, the city manager reported. After the end of August all buildings will be demolished and carted away.

Originally, some city officials speculated that the buildings to be destroyed might be burned on the spot as a training program for the fire department. But this idea was turned down because of objection from various quarters including the fire commission. The concensus was that burning on the spot would be too dangerous.

The city paid $93,000 for the land. Demolition of buildings and construction of the parking lot is expected to cost another $30,000. Total cost comes to about $2,000 per stall, which is much cheaper than the first three parking lots which ran as high as $4,000 per stall, Andersen pointed out.

The county clerk must certify to the board of supervisors that the incorporation petition has qualified. (This will probably be done next Tuesday.) At the same time, the county clerk will make an estimate on the cost of publishing various notices.

The supervisors will then fix a time by which the petitioners must deposit the estimated amount of money needed for publication.

Then the supervisors will set a time for hearing to fix the boundaries of the proposed new city. At this hearing, those who wish to be excluded from the incorporation may protest.

FINAL DECISION

The supervisors will have the final decision on boundaries. The supervisors may not add any property not included in the petition, but they may exclude certain areas.

After the boundaries are fixed, the supervisors will set an election date. A simple majority of those voting is sufficient to incorporate.

If all proceeds smoothly, a special election could be called by the end of the year.

4th San Rafael Parking Lot Assured By Yule

Another offstreet parking lot in downtown San Rafael, the fourth to be opened under Parking District 1, will be in operation in plenty of time for Christmas.

The new lot, at the northeast corner of Third and Cijos streets, will accommodate 64 cars. City Manager Dan E. Andersen today predicted the existing structures would be out, and the area paved and striped for customer use by October.

Tenants in the existing homes have all moved out, but one of them has until the end of August to remove material from his building, the city manager reported. After the end of August all buildings will be demolished and carted away.

Originally, some city officials speculated that the buildings to be destroyed might be burned on the spot as a training program for the fire department. But this idea was turned down because of objection from various quarters including the fire commission. The concensus was that burning on the spot would be too dangerous.

The city paid $93,000 for the land. Demolition of buildings and construction of the parking lot is expected to cost another $30,000. Total cost comes to about $2,000 per stall, which is much cheaper than the first three parking lots which ran as high as $4,000 per stall, Andersen pointed out.

SUMMER SCHOLARS IN SCIENCE

Arthur Allione, ordinarily a science and mathematics teacher at Encinal High School in Alameda, instructs a life science class in the intricacies of microscopes at San Rafael High School. The class includes eighth through 12th graders and will be in session for another two weeks. Some of the summer session classes end today. About 1,100 students from the fifth through 12th grades enrolled for San Rafael's summer session, said Principal Webster D. Wilson. (Independent-Journal photo)

Addict Admits Marin Theft Of Narcotics

A 28-year-old narcotics user from San Francisco gave a detailed account this week of how he stole $400 worth of narcotics from West Marin Pharmacy, Pt. Reyes Station, last March.

Inspector William Bradley of the sheriff's office got the admission from Robert James Emmett, 28, who is being held in San Francisco city prison. Bradley said Emmett is wanted by San Francisco for drug possession, by the United States marshal for selling narcotics, and in Berkeley and Alameda for suspicion of drug violations. Total bail on Emmett is $75,000.

Emmett told the Marin inspector he tried drilling through the front door of the dentist's office next to the drug store, but the brace and bit failed. He said he then pried open the front door of the drug store and took a variety of drugs and about $80 in cash.

Inspector Bradley said the Marin case is closed, because other counties have more serious charges and will prosecute.

A large proportion of the nickel produced goes into the making of stainless steels.

EATING AWAY FROM HOME SHOWS GAIN

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department says an increasing share of the nation's food is being marketed by such food service establishments as restaurants, cafeterias, hotels, schools, and other away-from-home eating places.

The Agricultural Marketing Service estimated that one-fourth of the consumer's food dollar on the average is spent for food served away from home.

while keeping much of the unspoiled land for recreation use.

The Pt. Reyes area is not proposed for a national park in the strict sense of the term. A national seashore recreation area would provide for wider recreation development — including boat harbors and even a golf course.

The bills propose no boundaries and set a maximum of 35,000 acres on the size of the proposed seashore park. The National Park Service has outlined a 29,000-acre area as its proposal.

Solons Loyal To Leadership

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Clair Engle and all 16 of California's Democratic representatives today issued statement affirming their loyalty to the majority leadership in Congress.

In a joint release, the Californians expressed their "complete confidence" in Speaker Sam Rayburn (Tex.), House Democratic leader John W. McCormick (Mass.), Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) and Senate Democratic whip Mike Mausfield (Mont.).

Airman Taken To Hospital

A young airman, who the Marin sheriff's office said took 15 tranquilizer pills, was being treated today at Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco.

S/Sgt. Donald Loflin, 23 Airways and Aircraft Communications Squadron of the 1850th at Hamilton Air Force Base, was taken to the hospital by ambulance at about 6:30 p.m. yesterday after he could not be aroused at a table in a Novato tavern.

A hospital spokesman said a combination of tranquilizers and alcohol could have been fatal. He said Loflin, who lives with his wife at 7530 Redwood way, Novato, underwent stomach lavage treatment and "is up and around today."

The sheriff's office quoted a bar patron as saying the airman and had swallowed the 15 pills and had the empty bottle with him.

Lightning Starts 28 Forest Fires

SONORA (AP)—Twenty-eight forest fires, started by lightning, burned in Northern California today.

Bolts hit last night in northeast Lassen County, touching off two large fires of 600 and 500 acres. Fourteen lesser fires were ignited nearby.

Lightning storms in the High Sierra caused a forest fire in Sequoia National Park and two outside the park in the Sequoia National Forest.

Another blaze was reported in the high country of the Sierra National Forest. Forest officials said the blazes were small and were not expected to cause much trouble.

Stewart Finally Wins Promotion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Movie star James Stewart at long last won promotion today to brigadier general in the Air Force reserves.

By voice vote and without a word of debate, the Senate finally approved the promotion which has been bogged in controversy since 1957.

The long delay was due chiefly to opposition from Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.) who questioned that Stewart, a World War II combat pilot, had put in as much time as he should have at reserve duties.

Library Study Groups Set Up In Mill Valley

Mill Valley library trustees last night launched a long-range planning program by setting up three committees with specific objectives.

Trustees Dorothy Peavey and Harry A. Bell are to develop recommendations as to the scope of services which the library should provide. Trustees Robert Jenkins and Robert G. Randolph will study possibilities of inter-library relationships. Mrs. Donald Schlemmer will investigate new site possibilities and areas to be served.

Jenkins, board president, said the three committees will present preliminary reports at the next meeting, which will be held Aug. 12 in place of Aug. 13 which would be the normal meeting date.

Drunken 'Cycle Driver Begins Serving Term

A San Geronimo painter-roofer began serving a 75-day jail sentence last night for drunken driving of a motorcycle and for driving repeatedly while his license was suspended.

James W. Giambra, 28, admitted drunken driving and driving with suspended license on July 3. He was caught on his motorcycle at Cijos and A streets in San Rafael.

Giambra was previously convicted on June 10 for driving with a suspended license and drew a 30-day suspended jail sentence. Four days later he was caught driving again.

Judge Harold J. Haley revoked probation and ordered Giambra to serve out the 30 days. For the offense which occurred four days later, he must serve another 20 days.

Then for drunken driving on July 3, Giambra drew $250 fine or 25 days in jail.

He said he has no money to pay the fine.

Collection Agency Measure Signed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislation transferring regulation of bill collecting agencies from the Secretary of State to the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards has been signed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Sen. Edwin J. Regan (D-Weaverville) introduced the bill after an interim committee he headed reported corruption in the industry was unchecked.

The measure creates a Collection Agency Bureau in the department in place of the state Collection Agency Board, plus an advisory board with five members named by the governor with four-year terms.

voted against the plan. McDevitt was supported by chairman Victor Hecht and commissioners Robert Walt and Rolland Simpson.

Mrs. Frick, who was not present, may appeal the decision to the city council.

McDevitt again spoke for Mrs. Frick in seeking a use permit for a 22-unit motel at Second and Valley streets but was unanimously turned down.

Coming back for the third time, to the chuckles of the audience, McDevitt was successful when he sought preliminary approval of a use permit for a million-dollar 69-unit garden apartment project to be built on the Weber property at the foot of Valley street.

Although some objections were expected, none developed.

The commission also approved an application by Morton Karp for an "autoboative" storage park near the Marincore Building and put over an application by John Haviland for a sailboat excursion operation in his large catamaran to operate from the sandspit.

Grand Jury Indicts Three Men For Robbery In S.F.

Three men, arrested in a $3,200 robbery of a San Francisco savings and loan company after a Corte Madera woman took down their getaway car license number, were formally charged yesterday.

The Federal Grand Jury in San Francisco returned indictments against Jack Sayerdoff, 33; Richard McCune, 24, and Joseph Timmins Jr., 21, for the robbery of the Home Mutual Savings and Loan Assn.

Mrs. Elinor Ralston, 40, of 31 Corte Madera avenue, Corte Madera, a teller at the company, took down a license number after three men, one of them, carrying a gun, demanded money of her July 8.

Youth, 14, Admits Disrobing Girl, 6

A 14-year-old San Rafael boy admitted to police yesterday he disrobed a 6-year-old girl in the bushes along San Rafael Canal and molested her.

The girl's mother complained to police when the girl went home with a piece of chewing gum the boy gave her and related what had happened. The girl was not physically harmed.

The case was turned over to Juvenile Officer Louis Foster.

MARIN MISSILE ALMOST DOESN'T MAKE IT

Terra Linda Bond Issue Foes Rap Recreation, Parks Plan

Opponents to the proposed $350,000 Terra Linda recreation bond issue today emphasized they are not opposed to recreation or bond issues, but only to the recreation and parks development plan that has been presented by directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District.

They said the plans are not detailed enough and are not accurate, and the bond issue is being rushed to a vote during summer vacation months.

An election has been set for Sept. 15.

Their views and those of the proponents were heard this morning over radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board," which presented the question: "Is the proposed $350,000 Terra Linda park and recreation bond issue advisable at this time?"

The program will be rebroadcast from a recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Speaking in favor of the bond issue were Mrs. Bertram Koel, recreation committee member, and Joseph R. Gunn, a service district director and chairman of the steering committee for the proposal. Against it were Joseph Shipman, past president of the Terra Linda Parents Group, and Henry H. Pierce, a member of a recently organized opposition committee. Pierce replaced Mrs. Edward Wills, originally scheduled to appear on the program. She spearheads the opposition.

Mrs. Koel asserted that Terra Linda is now nothing but a tract area, but with the proposed recreational facilities could become an "exciting" place to live. She listed possible recreation as ranging from tennis and swimming to jazz concerts. She said if the program is delayed it might cost almost another $100,000 a year from now.

Shipman said persons fighting the election are not against recreation, but "we are against a package deal being rushed to the public. We don't feel it's been presented accurately or in enough detail. We ask for more and complete facts. We're not rabble rousers. We've been active in every phase of community life, both culturally and recreationally. We intend nothing personal.

"We have less than two months to allow us concerted thought, and this during summer vacation months. All promotion from the CSD has not been objective and unbiased. It's always in favor. We want a complete and factual account of what is proposed."

In answer to a telephone question, Shipman said he made his opposition known several months ago. In answer to a question from Gunn, he said he did not have an alternative proposal. "You've had a year," he said, "Do you want me to answer on the spur of the moment?"

Gunn traced the history of the proposal, and said a survey was conducted which a committee felt showed support for the recreational development.

He said the cost of the center would be about 10 cents a family per day.

Pierce asked for the complete results of the survey. "We were told," he said, "that about 206 families favored" the plan. But, he said, a complete tabulation of the results were never made public.

"Our task in the next two months," said Gunn, "is to educate you and everyone on all phases of the program."

"I don't want to be educated," Pierce replied, "I want to be informed."

Both Gunn and Mrs. Koel attempted to refute assertions by Pierce and Shipman that the recreation center would preclude annexation by San Rafael.

Airmen Fined, Rank Reduced For Brawling

Two airmen, charged with brawling over a game of cards, have been found guilty at courts-martial. They were fined and reduced in rank at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The airmen were charged with brawling during a card game July 1 in the quarters of A/3c John P. Queen, 20. At a special court-martial Queen was found guilty of hitting Airman John E. Barns, 27, over the head with a chair. Both are of the 78th Installation Squadron.

Queen was reduced to airman basic and fined $30 of his pay for three months. Barns, in a summary court-martial, was found guilty of being drunk and disorderly. He was reduced to airman second class and fined $50.

Rec Group Resets Meet

A scheduled meeting of the Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission was canceled last night because of lack of a quorum.

The meeting was reset for next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the town hall annex.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices slipped below early highs this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,200,000 shares against 3,310,000 yesterday.

Motors shares attracted much of the trading interest and generally pushed a notch higher. Some steels, aluminums and electronics also ran ahead.

But most stock relinquished part of their morning advances and were only fractionally higher on the session. A number of losers cropped up with declines of a point or more.

Chrysler climbed nearly a point in the active motors section. General Motors and Ford each moved up about half a point. American Motors fell more than a point after the company reported record nine months earnings and declared the same dividends as the last quarter.

Youngstown Sheet and Tube starred in the steels group by spurting ahead more than two. Jones and Laughlin, following record first half company earnings, added close to a point.

Strength in aluminums put Alco up also two.

American Machine and Foundry leaped around three and National Distillers nearly two.

Rubbers and tobaccos weakened.

U.S. government bonds turned mixed with some weakness in long term maturities.

Optimist Club May Form At Hamilton

Plans for forming a new Optimist Club at Hamilton Air Force Base are to be discussed by the Mill Valley Club at its dinner meeting this evening at Sabella's.

Earl Pascue and Harry Martin, district governor and lieutenant governor, are expected to be present, as are a number of officers from the air base.

AEC Uses Only Best Hounds For Radiation Experiment

WASHINGTON (AP) If they can beat the law of averages and the laws of nature, the Atomic Energy Commission's pack of hound dogs may become howling scientific successes.

At least one of them will have to live to the ripe old age of 15 years. If he makes it, he will the hottest dog in history.

The law of averages is against the approximately 400 dogs of the AEC being used in a 15-year experiment on the effects of radiation. The average life of a dog, say commission experts, is 7 to 10 years.

And the laws of nature, as currently interpreted, say that not even the average dog can stand the amount of radiation the commission's animals will be exposed to.

But Dr. C. L. Dunham, director of the AEC Division of Biology and Medicine, said he has "a hunch that the last dog may live as long as 15 years from birth."

"Every time you set up a biology experiment, nature has a way of fooling you," Dr. Dunham said.

If the doctor's hunch is right, the beagle or foxhound that survives is likely to be so hopped-up from radiation that he could tree a rocket.

Dr. Dunham explained the experiments to the House Appropriations Committee during recent hearings on the AEC's fiscal 1960 budget. He elaborated in a subsequent interview.

Two groups of dogs are being used in the tests, one group of beagles at the University of Utah and another group of foxhounds at the University of California School of Agriculture at Davis.

There's not a mongrel in the lot.

"They have to be the best," Dr. Dunham said.

Except for the addition of a little radium, plutonium, strontium 90 and thorium to their diets from time to time, the dogs eat what the average well-cared-for dog should eat.

"They have a very carefully planned diet," Dr. Dunham said.

They seem to be enjoying a normal dog's life, too, the doctor explained, although from time to time one of them will pass out permanently from an overdose of something or other.

The experiments have been going on since 1951. Dr. Dunham said he believes that when the results are all in—or the last dog is all out—"We will have a very good idea of what actually is a permissible body burden for any of those elements in the human body."

Demo Leader Says Conclave Shift Unlikely

Los Angeles might still lose the 1960 Democratic national convention but it's "unlikely," Mrs. Elizabeth Smith of Kentfield, Democratic national committeewoman, said today.

Mrs. Smith said that of only 7,000 tickets available for the new Sports Arena, National Chairman Paul M. Butler is willing to allot 1,500 to Edwin W. Pauley, wealthy oil man in charge of raising $350,000 for convention expenses.

Pauley is said to have demanded 5,000 tickets and the feud has been reported to have put the choice of Los Angeles in jeopardy. But Butler denied in Washington that there was any thought of canceling plans for the conclave in Los Angeles starting July 11. Nevertheless California Democratic leaders are said to be worrying.

Subdividers Must Post Street Bonds

Contractors opening a subdivision will be required to post a completion bond for street work by terms of Senate Bill 618, signed today by Gov. Edmund G. Brown and introduced by Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-Marin), himself a contractor.

Terra Linda Bond Issue Foes Rap Recreation, Parks Plan

Opponents to the proposed $350,000 Terra Linda recreation bond issue today emphasized they are not opposed to recreation or bond issues, but only to the recreation and parks development plan that has been presented by directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District.

They said the plans are not detailed enough and are not accurate, and the bond issue is being rushed to a vote during summer vacation months.

An election has been set for Sept. 15.

Their views and those of the proponents were heard this morning over radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board," which presented the question: "Is the proposed $350,000 Terra Linda park and recreation bond issue advisable at this time?"

The program will be rebroadcast from a recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Speaking in favor of the bond issue were Mrs. Bertram Koel, recreation committee member, and Joseph R. Gunn, a service district director and chairman of the steering committee for the proposal. Against it were Joseph Shipman, past president of the Terra Linda Parents Group, and Henry H. Pierce, a member of a recently organized opposition committee. Pierce replaced Mrs. Edward Wills, originally scheduled to appear on the program. She spearheads the opposition.

Mrs. Koel asserted that Terra Linda is now nothing but a tract area, but with the proposed recreational facilities could become an "exciting" place to live. She listed possible recreation as ranging from tennis and swimming to jazz concerts. She said if the program is delayed it might cost almost another $100,000 a year from now.

Familiar Jeep To Be Missing From Hamilton Parking Spot

Brig. Gen. Tucker Retiring After 32 Years Service

By BETSY M. WOODMAN

A green Jeep station wagon with a base bumper decal showing one blue star has been a familiar sight at Hamilton Air Force Base for the past four years.

On work days the jeep could be seen parked in front of the headquarters building of the Western Air Defense Force in the spot marked for the vice commander.

The jeep of Brig. Gen. Edwin L. Tucker, driven by the general himself, would be in its place by 7 a.m. even though the Hamilton work day begins at 8. "I don't come to work early just to impress people," the general said. "It's mostly because of my feet."

The grinning general continued: "They're the most peculiar feet in the world—they jump out of bed at 5:30 a.m. and I follow them. I can get a lot of work done in that hour before the interruptions begin."

The general says the early rising habit undoubtedly began in his youth, when he was roused before daybreak in his home town of Charlotte, N.C., to milk the cows.

At the end of next week the green Jeep will be on its way to Florida, for General Tucker is retiring from the Air Force after 32 years of service. He and his wife will move to a home they own in Tampa. Their 20-year-old daughter, Sara Legare Tucker, will join them there in September. She is in Europe now with a University of California world tour group.

The general received his regular commission as a second lieutenant in 1929. He was married that same year in Baltimore, Md., to the former Gertrude Moore. He was rated a pilot and aircraft observer and the next year he was a flight instructor at Brooks and Randolph Fields.

In reviewing his years of service, General Tucker says he enjoyed this tour the most because "I was young with not so much responsibility, and I had more fun."

General Tucker participated in the test and development program of the original B-17's at Langley Field, Va. He was one of the six pilots to fly in the goodwill flight of the "Flying Fortress" to Buenos Aires in 1938, the longest non-stop mass Air Force flight to that date. Flying time was 33 hours and 30 minutes.

In 1945 the general became chief of staff of Air Forces, Middle Pacific, and in 1948 he was in Japan as deputy for operations of Headquarters 5th Air Force in the Far Eastern Air Forces. He received his promotion to brigadier general in 1952 and came to Hamilton to be vice commander of Western Air Defense Force in June, 1955. He has been awarded the Legion of Merit and the Bronze Star, and is rated a command pilot.

Golf is one of the general's hobbies, although he says he is not a golfer—"but I always wanted to be one."

Another hobby shows up in the quarters of the Tuckers on base.

The fine antique furniture been invited by General Tuckcollected by Mrs. Tucker has been beautifully restored by the general. He has gained some knowledge of antiques in the process, but his main interest, he says, is working on the old woods.

Plans call for settling in the family home and remodeling it to suit the needs of their new life. As for a job, he has no immediate plans: "I am not going to subordinate my life to a job. I'm not really retiring, anyway. This is just another 'permanent change of station.'"

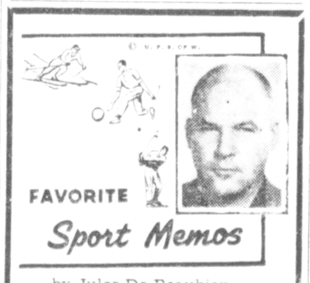

A public formal review with more than 1,000 marchers will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. in honor of the general. Over-all commander for the parade is Col. Benjamin B. Cassidy. Colonels Robert Baseler, Paulett Spivey and Rupert Welch will command the three main groups in the review.

Four F-101 Voodoos from Hamilton's 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron and eight F-102 Delta Daggers from Castle and Travis Air Force Bases will make two passes in V-formation over the parade ground during the ceremonies.

The three master sergeants retiring at the same time have er to be present with him on the reviewing stand. They are Sergeants Jack D. Kane, with more than 25 years service, Everett Frank Parker, more than 30 years, and William E. Everett, more than 24 years.

Radio Thief Given Fine, Probation

William J. Korpa, 18, of San Francisco, who became drunk at Samuel P. Taylor Park and stole a transistor radio, drew a $50 fine and one year probation from Marin Municipal Judge Richard M. Sims yesterday.

Korpa is the same youth who last week was ordered to attend church on Sundays by Judge Andrew J. Eyman in San Francisco. Korpa was sentenced there for battery.

The Marin County incident occurred on June 7, a Sunday, when Korpa and his companions were caught causing a disturbance at Taylor Park. Officers noticed Korpa had a transistor radio identical with one reported missing by a camper.

Probation officers recommended supervised counseling for Korpa yesterday, but since he is already on two years' probation in San Francisco, the Marin judge turned supervision responsibilities over to San Francisco authorities.

BOARD PLANS SURVEY

College Adult School Program Discussed

A district wide survey of what Marin Junior College District residents want College of Marin's adult school to teach was discussed last night by the college trustees.

The survey may even be enlarged to include the day program of the Kentfield college, the trustees indicated at an informal meeting last night.

Almost every phase of the adult education program was discussed in detail at the special meeting by the trustees and Samuel N. LeCount, adult school principal.

LeCount, who said he had been waiting for years for just such a meeting, uncorked comment after comment and idea after idea, effervescent as a bottle of champagne at a coming-out party.

Here are some of the main points of the discussion and the results of them:

1. The board at its next regular meeting will very likely ask the college administration to make plans for the district-wide survey.

2. The board is expected to ask LeCount to set up a citizen advisory board to suggest courses in the adult program.

3. LeCount will prepare for the board a complete cost breakdown, showing how tuition and state funds are used. He said last night the program is probably operating on about a break-even basis, with state funds and tuition paying for instruction of classes. District funds have not been budgeted for the program.

4. The board will seek the opinion of the county counsel on whether teachers in the adult program are acquiring tenure. This is a sore point with the board because, after it discontinued its San Quentin program, it was sued by teachers who claimed they had tenure. The matter is still before the courts.

5. LeCount will prepare for the board by September a complete report on his administrative procedures.

6. LeCount will present to the board an explanation of the possibility of expanding the counseling program.

Most of these ideas were put forth by LeCount, but the tenure matter was decided informally by the board.

Several times during the discussion members of the board expressed their confidence in LeCount's administration of the adult education program. The majority of the board showed enthusiasm for most of his ideas, although chairman Rupert E. Kent said that a "go-slow" policy should be adhered to, and trustee George G. Washburn questioned the value of many of the adult school courses.

LeCount also asked for long-range thinking toward establishment of extension courses on the campus from universities, and for possible extension of the day program so that the college's associate of arts degrees could be gained through night classes.

All members of the board were present including newly appointed Robert E. Oliver of San Rafael, who has not yet attended a regular meeting. Also at the meeting were George Duncan, assistant night supervisor in adult education, and Mrs. Clarice Corbett, another LeCount assistant.

Tires, Wheels Taken From Trunks of Cars

Two tires and wheels were stolen from the trunk compartment of two cars parked at Redwood Motors in San Rafael, the owner reported Tuesday night.

Franklin Earl Hawkins, who operates the firm at 1826 Fourth street, estimated loss at $80. The thefts occurred sometime during the past three weeks. The tires, size 590 by 15, are mounted on red wheels.

Familiar Jeep To Be Missing From Hamilton Parking Spot

Brig. Gen. Tucker Retiring After 32 Years Service

By BETSY M. WOODMAN

A green Jeep station wagon with a base bumper decal showing one blue star has been a familiar sight at Hamilton Air Force Base for the past four years.

On work days the jeep could be seen parked in front of the headquarters building of the Western Air Defense Force in the spot marked for the vice commander.

The jeep of Brig. Gen. Edwin L. Tucker, driven by the general himself, would be in its place by 7 a.m. even though the Hamilton work day begins at 8. "I don't come to work early just to impress people," the general said. "It's mostly because of my feet."

The grinning general continued: "They're the most peculiar feet in the world—they jump out of bed at 5:30 a.m. and I follow them. I can get a lot of work done in that hour before the interruptions begin."

The general says the early rising habit undoubtedly began in his youth, when he was roused before daybreak in his home town of Charlotte, N.C., to milk the cows.

At the end of next week the green Jeep will be on its way to Florida, for General Tucker is retiring from the Air Force after 32 years of service. He and his wife will move to a home they own in Tampa. Their 20-year-old daughter, Sara Legare Tucker, will join them there in September. She is in Europe now with a University of California world tour group.

The general received his regular commission as a second lieutenant in 1929. He was married that same year in Baltimore, Md., to the former Gertrude Moore. He was rated a pilot and aircraft observer and the next year he was a flight instructor at Brooks and Randolph Fields.

In reviewing his years of service, General Tucker says he enjoyed this tour the most because "I was young with not so much responsibility, and I had more fun."

General Tucker participated in the test and development program of the original B-17's at Langley Field, Va. He was one of the six pilots to fly in the goodwill flight of the "Flying Fortress" to Buenos Aires in 1938, the longest non-stop mass Air Force flight to that date. Flying time was 33 hours and 30 minutes.

In 1945 the general became chief of staff of Air Forces, Middle Pacific, and in 1948 he was in Japan as deputy for operations of Headquarters 5th Air Force in the Far Eastern Air Forces. He received his promotion to brigadier general in 1952 and came to Hamilton to be vice commander of Western Air Defense Force in June, 1955. He has been awarded the Legion of Merit and the Bronze Star, and is rated a command pilot.

Golf is one of the general's hobbies, although he says he is not a golfer—"but I always wanted to be one."

Another hobby shows up in the quarters of the Tuckers on base.

The fine antique furniture been invited by General Tuckcollected by Mrs. Tucker has been beautifully restored by the general. He has gained some knowledge of antiques in the process, but his main interest, he says, is working on the old woods.

Plans call for settling in the family home and remodeling it to suit the needs of their new life. As for a job, he has no immediate plans: "I am not going to subordinate my life to a job. I'm not really retiring, anyway. This is just another 'permanent change of station.'"

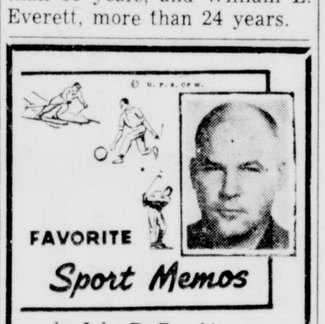

A public formal review with more than 1,000 marchers will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. in honor of the general. Over-all commander for the parade is Col. Benjamin B. Cassidy. Colonels Robert Baseler, Paulett Spivey and Rupert Welch will command the three main groups in the review.

Four F-101 Voodoos from Hamilton's 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron and eight F-102 Delta Daggers from Castle and Travis Air Force Bases will make two passes in V-formation over the parade ground during the ceremonies.

The three master sergeants retiring at the same time have er to be present with him on the reviewing stand. They are Sergeants Jack D. Kane, with more than 25 years service, Everett Frank Parker, more than 30 years, and William E. Everett, more than 24 years.

FAREWELL TO HAMILTON — Brig. Gen. Edwin L. Tucker, vice commander of Western Air Defense Force with headquarters at Hamilton Air Force Base, waves goodbye from his jeep as his retirement date approaches.

UNASSIGNED ROLE — Val Bleeker of Sausalito holds bottle in comedy scene with Russ Boren of Corte Madera during rehearsal of "On The Town" at the Gate Playhouse. When the play opens tomorrow night, Miss Bleeker won't be in the role. She hurled the bottle yesterday at director Leslie Abbot. He didn't appreciate the gesture, which was not in the script.

DIRECTOR TARGET

Bottle-Tossing Costs Actress Her Role

A bottle intended as a stage prop flew through the air yesterday, aimed at director Leslie Abbott of "On the Town," scheduled to open tomorrow night at the Gate Playhouse in Sausalito.

"That'll learn you," shouted Val Bleeker of Sausalito as she hurled the bottle at the climax of an angry exchange of words with the director.

Miss Bleeker learned shortly thereafter that she was no longer in the cast.

Gloria Mendenhall was given the part of the teacher, until yesterday rehearsed by Miss Bleeker. The show will open as scheduled tomorrow, declared producer Sherman Wayne.

The ousted Miss Bleeker is well known in the Sausalito art colony as a painter and also is a zither player and singer of folk songs. She currently is appearing in an olio act, a before-curtain solo act, prior to the start of "The Drunkard" at the Sausalito Little Theater.

Miss Mendenhall, who is taking over in the comedy role of the teacher with only two days to learn her lines, played the leading female part in "Visit to a Small Planet" which closed its run last Saturday night at the Gate Playhouse.

Lead parts in the new show's cast of 25 will be played by Zane Tamas and Raquel Lopez. (Miss Bleeker said Miss Lopez' husband was trying to get her to drop out.)

Performances are scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings with curtain time at 8:30 o'clock, for an indefinite run.

Lakeport Curbs Use Of Water

LAKEPORT (UPI)—All use of water except for household purposes was banned here in an emergency measure yesterday.

Following last week's rationing that failed to alleviate the Lake County city's critical water shortage, Mayor Olga Hudson announced the ban. She said the curtailment will be lifted when additional supplies are made available to the city from private wells.

The city's reservoir remains below a safe level, and if private sources fail, plans are underway to request water from Clear Lake.

Exciting Experience, Says HAFB Pilot Who Bailed Out

Capt. Benjamin R. Battle, 28-year-old Hamilton Air Force Base pilot who bailed out of an F104 Starfighter July 5 in a New Mexico thunderstorm, was back home with his family in Ignacio today.

"It was by far the most exciting experience I've had as a pilot," Captain Battle related. "It was the first time I had ever bailed out."

The Starfighter's jet engine went dead during the electrical storm.

"There was a great deal of turbulence. I felt something pop in my back, and I was blacked out," said Battle.

Seconds later as he regained consciousness, he saw that the wingtip fuel tanks and horizontal stablizer had been torn off.

"I did manage to get the engine back on again briefly," he related, "but it was too late. I couldn't have flown it in that condition anyway."

So Battle reached down and pulled the seat ejection handle. He estimated he was then flying at 2,000 to 3,000 feet.

"Everything worked like a charm—I'm grateful to say. For a while it looked like I was going to land on top of a caprock. If that had happened, the wind probably would have pulled the 'chute and me over a sheer cliff. Luckily, I landed in the gully, instead."

The demolished Starfighter was later found about 25 miles away. Battle picked himself up and began walking through driving rain toward a distant windmill.

"I must have walked three or four miles before coming to an oil field where I found a house trailer—complete with bed. There was no one there and no telephone. I spent the night there very comfortably."

The next morning he was sighted by a rancher on horseback, who took him to his nearby home. Battle telephone his wife, Marcia, and his 13-month-old daughter, Angela — and then the Air Force.

It was not until X-rays were taken at Walker Air Force Base that Battle learned he had been walking with two fractured vertabrae—the "pop" he felt when the engine quit.

The injured airman landed at Hamilton last Friday in an Air Force evacuation plane, accompanied by his wife, who had flown to the New Mexico base to join him. He will be "grounded" for about three months—until the injured back has healed.

Driver Cited After Crash

A San Rafael driver last night was cited for making an improper turn after a two-car crash in Woodacre. Two passengers in the second vehicle complained of pain.

Cited was Eldon Garn Easterday, 25, of 534 Canal street, San Rafael. He was traveling south on Park street, and the California Highway Patrol said his car struck one going north on Park at 10:15 p.m.

Passengers Marie Dentkos of Ivy lane, Woodacre, and Alice Beck, in a car driven by Rudolph Beck, 63, of Alameda, complained of back and neck pains, the CHP said.

IT'S 'SCOTTY' KOGA, 'PEANUTS' KUNISHA ON HAWAIIAN BALLOT

HONOLULU (AP)—Candidates of Japanese and Chinese ancestry running in Hawaii's first state election Tuesday seem to have a fondness for American nicknames.

Under Hawaiian law, a candidate's nickname may appear on the ballot.

The ballot shows these Japanese-Americans among political hopefuls for the state House of Representatives:

Democrats George (Scotty) Koga and Walter (Mits) Harada; Republicans Yoshiichi (Big Mice) Yoshida and Katsugo (Kats) Miho.

Republican Lawrence (Peanuts) Kunisha is running for the state Senate.

Among Chinese-Americans seeking office are Republican Wing Kong (Winkie) Chong for the state Senate and Democrat Frank W. C. (Honolulu Loo) Loo for the state House.

Jurors Agree Driver Drunk

Drunken driving suspect Emlen Griffith Taylor, 50, of Fairfax, who got off with a hung jury last month, was found guilty yesterday by a second jury in Marin Municipal Court.

A jury of 11 men and one woman deliberated for about two and one-half hours and found Taylor guilty. The first trial on June 12 ended with the jurors split about eight to four for conviction. Judge Harold J. Haley set 3:30 p.m. tomorrow as time for sentencing.

Taylor, a Fairfax lumber company employee, was arrested on Sir Francis Drake boulevard at Broadmoor avenue in San Anselmo last Jan. 17 after a two-car accident. His attorney, Carl Shapiro, said Taylor was suffering from diabetic shock.

But Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich argued that the blood alcohol test showed the man had also been drinking, and that the two factors combined made it even more dangerous for him to be driving.

Highway Link Gap Closing Recommended

Final gap in new expressway construction almost linking U. S. Highway 101 at Ignacio with U. S. Highway 40 north of Vallejo would be closed by construction of an additional 2.3 miles recommended today.

State Highway Engineer G. T. McCoy made this recommendation, involving a cost of $4,600,000, to provide for construction of expressway on the Sears Point road in Sonoma County. The proposal was taken under advisement by the state Highway Commission.

The proposed new freeway link would follow an existing road, State Highway 48. This joins with previously constructed expressway, Route 37, at its western end at Sears Point, and runs eastward to the Solano County line.

Traffic started flowing June 11 on 6.1 miles of new four-line divided expressway on the western portion of Route 37, the Black Point cutoff. This joins the freeway from Petaluma Creek to Sears Point which was finished in May.

The present boardwalk in Atlantic City is the fifth one since the first one was built in 1870. Although it is still "a boardwalk," it now has a concrete foundation.

WATER LINE DELAY HOLDS UP ROAD JOB

Completion of the 1,200 feet of road connecting the east end of the Bon Air Bridge to Magnolia avenue in Larkspur will be "sometime in September," Ronald E. Piper, Larkspur city manager, said today.

General contractor constructing the $29,684 stretch of roadway is O. C. Jones of Berkeley.

Delay in construction, Piper said, has been due to delayed delivery of a water line to be installed alongside the road.

A road connecting the west end of the bridge with Sir Francis Drake boulevard was completed by the county last April.

Liaison Officer To CAP Named

Lt. Col. Richard L. Portillo has been appointed liaison officer for the Air Force-Civil Air Patrol at Presidio of San Francisco, it was announced by Col. Howard Freeman, commander, Civil Air Patrol.

Colonel Portillo and his wife and two children will live at 31 Balboa avenue, San Rafael.

He replaces Lt. Col. Lawrence T. Gordon, Pacific region liaison officer for the past three years, who has been transferred to Lincoln Air Force Base, Lincoln, Neb.

Zoning Study Group Holds Second Meet

A group of citizens who want to study the economic effects of Marin County's zoning regulations and explore the possibility of an "economic master plan" met last night at a second organizational meeting but took no action to formally organize, reported Mrs. Margaret B. Azavedo of Tiburon, a county planning commissioner and a member of the group.

Another meeting is scheduled for Aug. 26.

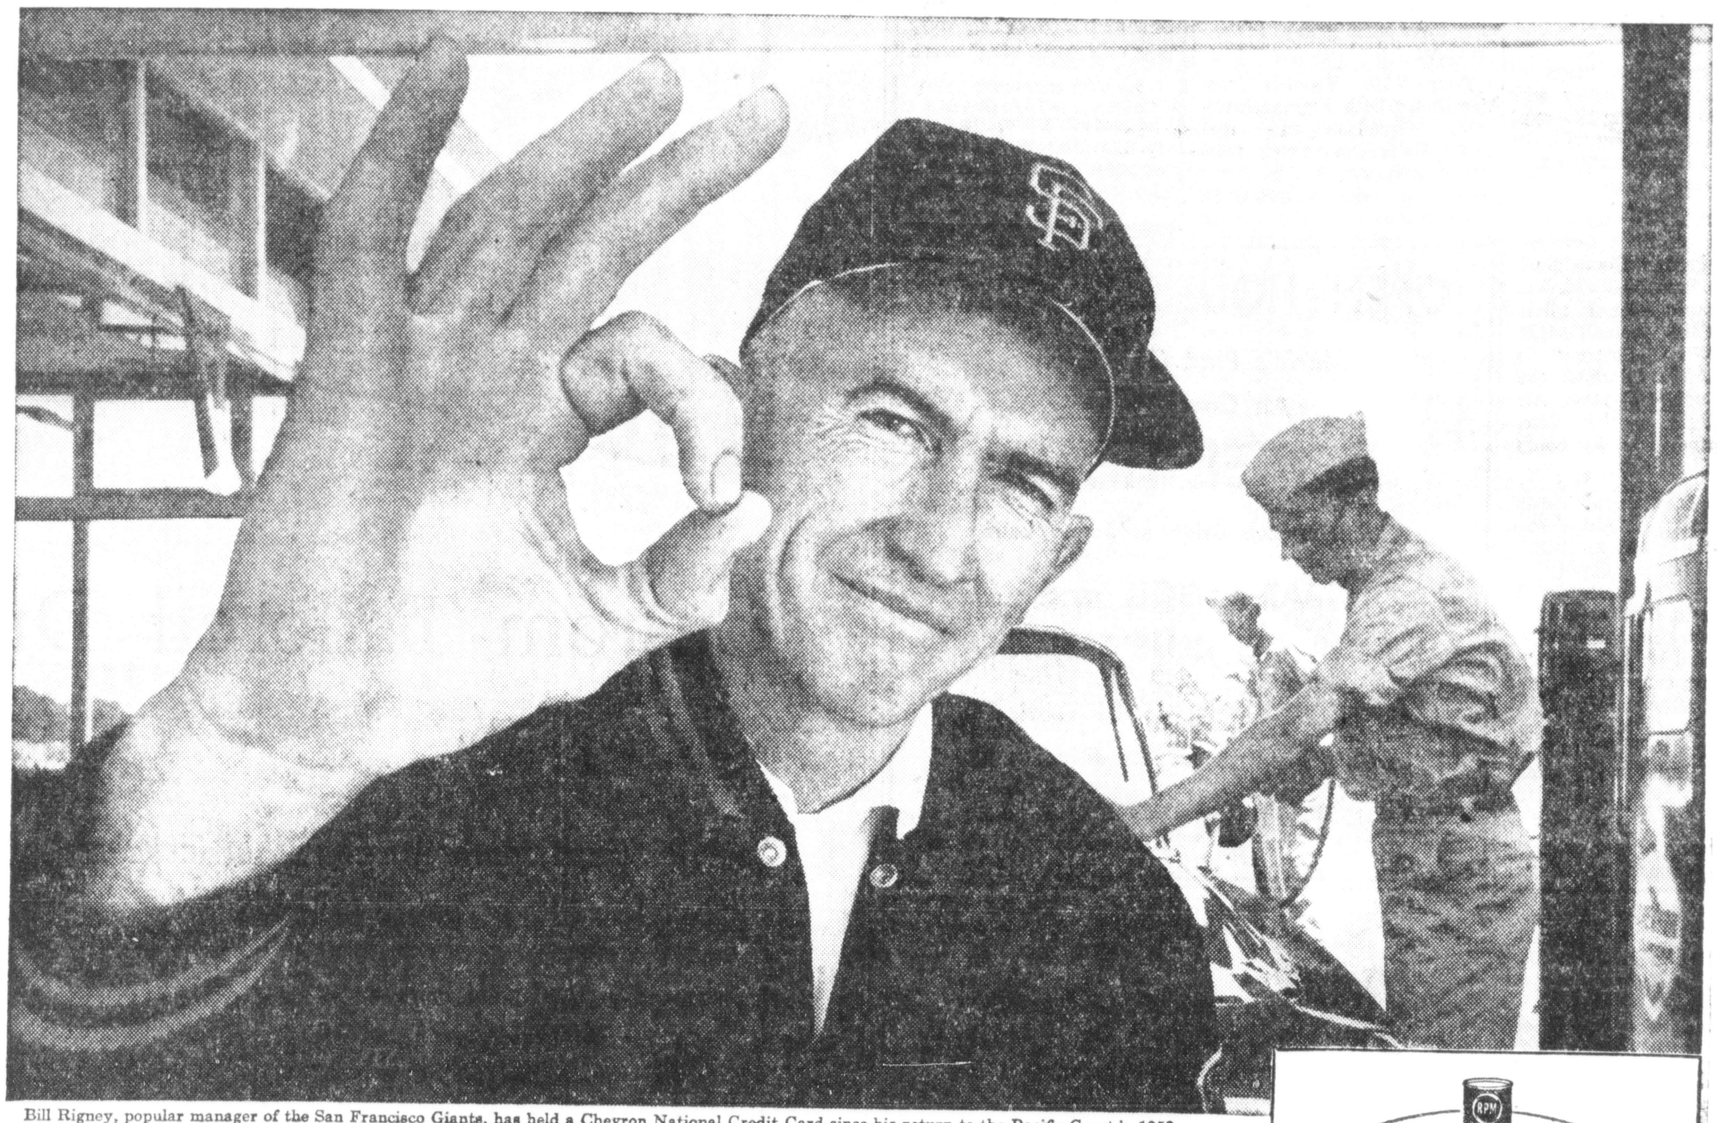

The 14 persons at the meeting, moderated by Dr. George C. Feliz of Homestead, discussed what form the group should take, and whether it should remain an independent citizens' study group or whether it should have some sort of official status, Mrs. Azevedo said. No decision was reached.

A proposed purpose is to decide what kind and what amount of non-residential uses of land are desirable in Marin County.

Steering committee members include Mrs. Azevedo, Charles M. Geller, Ovid C. Porter, Carroll A. Snyker, Harold Stockstad, Charles J. Hendrickson, Felix M. Warburg and Paul T. Wilson.

Exciting Experience, Says HAFB Pilot Who Bailed Out

Capt. Benjamin R. Battle, 28-year-old Hamilton Air Force Base pilot who bailed out of an F104 Starfighter July 5 in a New Mexico thunderstorm, was back home with his family in Ignacio today.

"It was by far the most exciting experience I've had as a pilot," Captain Battle related. "It was the first time I had ever bailed out."

The Starfighter's jet engine went dead during the electrical storm.

"There was a great deal of turbulence. I felt something pop in my back, and I was blacked out," said Battle.

Seconds later as he regained consciousness, he saw that the wingtip fuel tanks and horizontal stablizer had been torn off.

"I did manage to get the engine back on again briefly," he related, "but it was too late. I couldn't have flown it in that condition anyway."

So Battle reached down and pulled the seat ejection handle. He estimated he was then flying at 2,000 to 3,000 feet.

"Everything worked like a charm—I'm grateful to say. For a while it looked like I was going to land on top of a caprock. If that had happened, the wind probably would have pulled the 'chute and me over a sheer cliff. Luckily, I landed in the gully, instead."

The demolished Starfighter was later found about 25 miles away. Battle picked himself up and began walking through driving rain toward a distant windmill.

"I must have walked three or four miles before coming to an oil field where I found a house trailer—complete with bed. There was no one there and no telephone. I spent the night there very comfortably."

The next morning he was sighted by a rancher on horseback, who took him to his nearby home. Battle telephone his wife, Marcia, and his 13-month-old daughter, Angela — and then the Air Force.

It was not until X-rays were taken at Walker Air Force Base that Battle learned he had been walking with two fractured vertabrae—the "pop" he felt when the engine quit.

The injured airman landed at Hamilton last Friday in an Air Force evacuation plane, accompanied by his wife, who had flown to the New Mexico base to join him. He will be "grounded" for about three months—until the injured back has healed.

Driver Cited After Crash

A San Rafael driver last night was cited for making an improper turn after a two-car crash in Woodacre. Two passengers in the second vehicle complained of pain.

Cited was Eldon Garn Easterday, 25, of 534 Canal street, San Rafael. He was traveling south on Park street, and the California Highway Patrol said his car struck one going north on Park at 10:15 p.m.

Passengers Marie Dentkos of Ivy lane, Woodacre, and Alice Beck, in a car driven by Rudolph Beck, 63, of Alameda, complained of back and neck pains, the CHP said.

9:31 p.m., Ross—False alarm at Katharine Branson School; 11-year-old boy, in house that his family had rented for the summer, accidently hit an alarm box while playing.

10:42 p.m., San Rafael—Report of smoke at Redwood and Tiburon roads proved false.

IT'S 'SCOTTY' KOGA, 'PEANUTS' KUNISHA ON HAWAIIAN BALLOT

HONOLULU (AP)—Candidates of Japanese and Chinese ancestry running in Hawaii's first state election Tuesday seem to have a fondness for American nicknames.

Under Hawaiian law, a candidate's nickname may appear on the ballot.

The ballot shows these Japanese-Americans among political hopefuls for the state House of Representatives:

Democrats George (Scotty) Koga and Walter (Mits) Harada; Republicans Yoshiichi (Big Mice) Yoshida and Katsugo (Kats) Miho.

Republican Lawrence (Peanuts) Kunisha is running for the state Senate.

Among Chinese-Americans seeking office are Republican Wing Kong (Winkie) Chong for the state Senate and Democrat Frank W. C. (Honolulu Loo) Loo for the state House.

Jurors Agree Driver Drunk

Drunken driving suspect Emlen Griffith Taylor, 50, of Fairfax, who got off with a hung jury last month, was found guilty yesterday by a second jury in Marin Municipal Court.

A jury of 11 men and one woman deliberated for about two and one-half hours and found Taylor guilty. The first trial on June 12 ended with the jurors split about eight to four for conviction. Judge Harold J. Haley set 3:30 p.m. tomorrow as time for sentencing.

Taylor, a Fairfax lumber company employee, was arrested on Sir Francis Drake boulevard at Broadmoor avenue in San Anselmo last Jan. 17 after a two-car accident. His attorney, Carl Shapiro, said Taylor was suffering from diabetic shock.

But Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich argued that the blood alcohol test showed the man had also been drinking, and that the two factors combined made it even more dangerous for him to be driving.

Highway Link Gap Closing Recommended

Final gap in new expressway construction almost linking U. S. Highway 101 at Ignacio with U. S. Highway 40 north of Vallejo would be closed by construction of an additional 2.3 miles recommended today.

State Highway Engineer G. T. McCoy made this recommendation, involving a cost of $4,600,000, to provide for construction of expressway on the Sears Point road in Sonoma County. The proposal was taken under advisement by the state Highway Commission.

The proposed new freeway link would follow an existing road, State Highway 48. This joins with previously constructed expressway, Route 37, at its western end at Sears Point, and runs eastward to the Solano County line.

Traffic started flowing June 11 on 6.1 miles of new four-line divided expressway on the western portion of Route 37, the Black Point cutoff. This joins the freeway from Petaluma Creek to Sears Point which was finished in May.

The present boardwalk in Atlantic City is the fifth one since the first one was built in 1870. Although it is still "a boardwalk," it now has a concrete foundation.

WATER LINE DELAY HOLDS UP ROAD JOB

Completion of the 1,200 feet of road connecting the east end of the Bon Air Bridge to Magnolia avenue in Larkspur will be "sometime in September," Ronald E. Piper, Larkspur city manager, said today.

General contractor constructing the $29,684 stretch of roadway is O. C. Jones of Berkeley.

Delay in construction, Piper said, has been due to delayed delivery of a water line to be installed alongside the road.

A road connecting the west end of the bridge with Sir Francis Drake boulevard was completed by the county last April.

Liaison Officer To CAP Named

Lt. Col. Richard L. Portillo has been appointed liaison officer for the Air Force-Civil Air Patrol at Presidio of San Francisco, it was announced by Col. Howard Freeman, commander, Civil Air Patrol.

Colonel Portillo and his wife and two children will live at 31 Balboa avenue, San Rafael.

He replaces Lt. Col. Lawrence T. Gordon, Pacific region liaison officer for the past three years, who has been transferred to Lincoln Air Force Base, Lincoln, Neb.

Zoning Study Group Holds Second Meet

A group of citizens who want to study the economic effects of Marin County's zoning regulations and explore the possibility of an "economic master plan" met last night at a second organizational meeting but took no action to formally organize, reported Mrs. Margaret B. Azavedo of Tiburon, a county planning commissioner and a member of the group.

Another meeting is scheduled for Aug. 26.

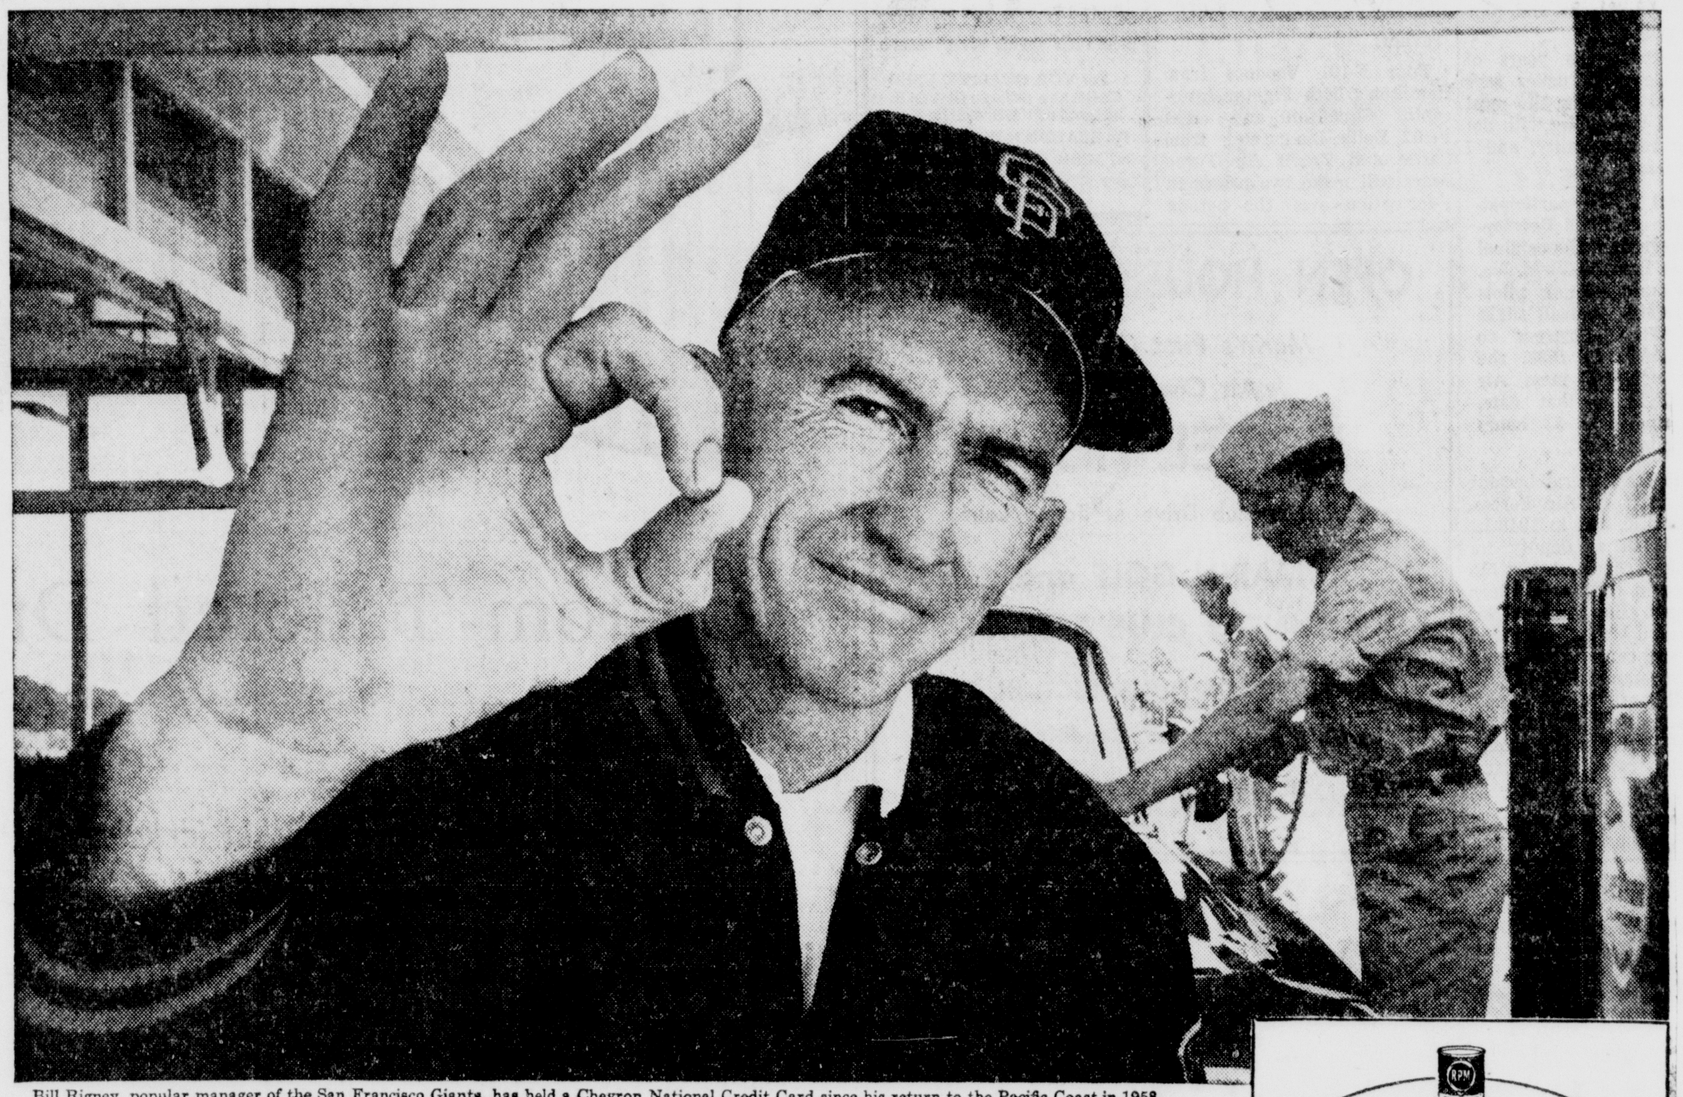

The 14 persons at the meeting, moderated by Dr. George C. Feliz of Homestead, discussed what form the group should take, and whether it should remain an independent citizens' study group or whether it should have some sort of official status, Mrs. Azevedo said. No decision was reached.

A proposed purpose is to decide what kind and what amount of non-residential uses of land are desirable in Marin County.

Steering committee members include Mrs. Azevedo, Charles M. Geller, Ovid C. Porter, Carroll A. Snyker, Harold Stockstad, Charles J. Hendrickson, Felix M. Warburg and Paul T. Wilson.

Joint Steel Talks Set; Aluminum Industry Rejects Union Demands

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal mediators have arranged the first joint peace talks in the nine-day-old steel strike for next Monday.

But Joseph F. Finnegan, head of the Federal Mediation Service, repeated that he sees no early solution to the strike which has idled more than half a million steelworkers.

Meanwhile, the three top aluminum companies—Alcoa, Reyonlds and Kaiser—rejected the United Steelworkers wage demands and lined up with the steel industry stand. The Steelworkers' contract with the aluminum companies expires July 31.

The aluminum companies followed the pattern of the original proposal by the steel producers to the union by urging the union to accept a one-year wage freeze and give up the cost-of-living escalator provision in the old agreements.

A total of 30,500 alumium workers are represented by the union. About 28,000 other aluminum workers are covered by other unions.

After meeting yesterday with union representatives and twice with steel industry negotiators, Finnegan said: "We feel we now have a better orientation on the differences" between the two sides.

He planned to meet today with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell in Washington.

Bolinas District To Buy New Bus

Bolinas school district trustees decided Tuesday to purchase a new 52-passenger school bus from Gillig Brothers of Hayward which will be put into operation as a part of the new inter-district arrangement with the Stinson Beach School District.

Trustees also devoted some time to a policy discussion with newly named Principal Richard A. Miller.

Arthur E. Carpenter, senior board member, was named clerk of the board.

NICE GOING, MR. VICE PRESIDENT — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov, right, compliments Vice President Richard Nixon on his knowledge of Russian after the vice president had uttered a few phrases in that language prior to his departure from the Friendship Airport at Washington for Moscow. Acting Secretary of State C. Douglas Dillon, center, was also among those on hand to see Nixon off and joins in the laughter. (AP Wirephoto)

Nixon Arrives In Moscow With Friendship Plea

MOSCOW (AP) — U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon flew into Moscow today with a plea for friendship. He found the atmosphere frigid—with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev again blasting the United States for its attitude toward the Soviet Union.

The two leaders did not meet face to face; that was to come later. But while Nixon was getting an official welcome at the airport, Khrushchev was talking to a Sports Palace crowd welcoming him home from a nine-day trip to Poland. He again took the United States to task for proclaiming this week as "Captive Nations Week," and said:

"They send their governors here (referring to the recent visit of nine U.S. state governors). They send their vice president here. They are opening an exhibit here—and they do a thing like this."

Nixon's jet plane brought him to Moscow in 10 hours 54 minutes. He was met by Frol R. Kozlov, first deputy premier, who recently toured the United States. The Nixon trip is in effect an exchange visit. The vice president's official purpose is to open the U.S. exhibit Friday.

In his brief airport remarks Nixon warned that in another war "there will be no victors, only losers."

"There are grave and serious problems which divide us—differences which if not resolved could endanger the peace to which we are all dedicated," he said.

Nixon spoke for about 12 minutes. About 100 diplomats were grouped around him. A few American and Soviet flags fluttered in the background. There were no signs or slogans displayed as is customary when visitors from the Soviet bloc come in.

Kozlov responded briefly and the interpretation was even more brief. The interpreter said merely: "The message is peace."

Nixon entered a Soviet limousine flying the U.S. flag and headed out the airport gates to the city and Spaso House, the residence of U.S. Ambassador Lewellyn Thompson. That will be his home in Moscow.

There were about 200 Soviet and foreign newsmen present but only a small crowd of Russians at the airport itself.

As Nixon's car headed around the airport building he spotted a large group of travelers, mostly Russians, on the plaza of the administration building. He ordered the car stopped, jumped out and began shaking hands.

A small crowd then collected around the car and Nixon, beaming, shook hands with everyone. Then he got in his car and resumed the trip to the city.

It was anticipated he and President Eisenhower's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, and other members of his party, would closet themselves with Thompson and his principal aides for a final briefing on Soviet affairs.

PIECE OF 'CHUTE NEW CLUE TO FATE OF GHOST BOMBER

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — Five days of search in the wastes of Libya have produced another clue to the fate of nine U.S. airmen missing from a World War II bomber.

U.S. Air Force European headquarters said today that another piece of parachute has been found. It was picked up in the area where an earlier search last month discovered a trail of markers apparently left by the airmen in a trek to death in the North African desert.

The Army mortuary search team messaged that up to Tuesday no trace of the airmen's remains had been found.

The ghost bomber, a four-engine Liberator, made a pilotless belly-landing on its return from a bombing raid on Naples, Italy, in the moonless night of April 4, 1943.

It was found practically intact by a team of geologists earlier this year on hard-packed sand 440 miles southeast of the Libyan port of Bengasi.

Drunken Drivers Hear Sentences

Four more drunken drivers have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court.

Bennie Rae White, 21, of 842 Wilmot avenue, Novato, must serve five days during weekends and pay a $250 fine. Judge Richard M. Sims also suspended White's license for 90 days, and put him on probation for one year. White was caught on Highway 101 on June 17. He had a prior conviction in Los Angeles in February of 1957, but this had been stricken from the records.

Judge Harold J. Haley sentenced the following:

Wilbert O'Neil Harris, 22, of 50 Marin View avenue, Mill Valley, was fined $250 and put on nine months probation. He was caught on Freitas Parkway in Terra Linda last Saturday.

Emil Andrew Peterson, 37, of 711 Alta Vista road, Mill Valley, drew $200 fine and one-year probation. Peterson must also pay five dollars for driving with an expired license, and $20 for resisting arrest.

Florence Helene Paar, 38, of Post Office Box 223, Forest Knolls, was fined $250 and put on 10 months probation. She was caught on Sir Francis Drake boulevard in San Anselmo on July 11.

Compromise Labor Bill Wins Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Labor Committee, by a narrow 16-14 vote, today formally approved a compromise labor control bill.

Committee Democrats split down the middle 10-10. Six of the 10 Republicans voted for the bill which was a watered-down version of the measure passed by the Senate earlier this session.

Republicans immediately served notice they will fight to strengthen the committee bill drastically when it reaches the House floor.

Rep. Joseph Holt (R-Calif.) told reporters that, "All Republicans who voted for the bill did so only to get a bill on the floor."

Rep. William H. Ayres (R-Ohio) said "not one Republican who voted for this bill will vote for it on the floor unless it is amended by the House."

The bill as approved is the product of five weeks of acrimonious bill-drafting sessions. Actually, it seems to please nobody.

Study Unit Says Foreign Aid Must Continue, But Urges Some Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential study committee said today many forms of U.S. economic aid abroad must continue as long as the Communist threat exists.

The group recommended more selective choosing of recipient nations, however.

The committee also called for creation of a new government agency—to be set up outside the State Department—for administration of the major economic assistance programs.

President Eisenhower sent the report to Congress as a House Appropriations subcommittee made public charges of waste and mismanagement in the multi-billion-dollar foreign aid program.

That report came out on the heels of final congressional action on a bill authorizing $3,556,200,000 in foreign aid for the coming year. The amount, covering military as well as economic assistance, was only $353,200,000 below Eisenhower's recommendations.

The mismanagement complaint from the House subcommittee was a sequel to a long series of similar criticisms.

In one unnamed country, investigators found a 20-year supply of WAC clothing, a 45-year supply of 30-caliber carbine ammunition, 70,000 sets of new tire chains left outside without storage and more than a million new carbine and submachine clips wasting away.

NICE GOING, MR. VICE PRESIDENT — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov, right, compliments Vice President Richard Nixon on his knowledge of Russian after the vice president had uttered a few phrases in that language prior to his departure from the Friendship Airport at Washington for Moscow. Acting Secretary of State C. Douglas Dillon, center, was also among those on hand to see Nixon off and joins in the laughter. (AP Wirephoto)

Nixon Arrives In Moscow With Friendship Plea

MOSCOW (AP) — U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon flew into Moscow today with a plea for friendship. He found the atmosphere frigid—with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev again blasting the United States for its attitude toward the Soviet Union.

The two leaders did not meet face to face: that was to come later. But while Nixon was getting an official welcome at the airport, Khrushchev was talking to a Sports Palace crowd welcoming him home from a nine-day trip to Poland. He again took the United States to task for proclaiming this week as "Captive Nations Week," and said:

"They send their governors here (referring to the recent visit of nine U.S. state governors). They send their vice president here. They are opening an exhibit here—and they do a thing like this."

Nixon's jet plane brought him to Moscow in 10 hours 54 minutes. He was met by Frol R. Kozlov, first deputy premier, who recently toured the United States. The Nixon trip is in effect an exchange visit. The vice president's official purpose is to open the U.S. exhibit Friday.

In his brief airport remarks Nixon warned that in another war "there will be no victors, only losers."

"There are grave and serious problems which divide us—differences which if not resolved could endanger the peace to which we are all dedicated," he said.

Nixon spoke for about 12 minutes. About 100 diplomats were grouped around him. A few American and Soviet flags fluttered in the background. There were no signs or slogans displayed as is customary when visitors from the Soviet bloc come in.

Kozlov responded briefly and the interpretation was even more brief. The interpreter said merely: "The message is peace."

Nixon entered a Soviet limousine flying the U.S. flag and headed out the airport gates to the city and Spaso House, the residence of U.S. Ambassador Lewellyn Thompson. That will be his home in Moscow.

There were about 200 Soviet and foreign newsmen present but only a small crowd of Russians at the airport itself.

As Nixon's car headed around the airport building he spotted a large group of travelers, mostly Russians, on the plaza of the administration building. He ordered the car stopped, jumped out and began shaking hands.

A small crowd then collected around the car and Nixon, beaming, shook hands with everyone. Then he got in his car and resumed the trip to the city.

It was anticipated he and President Eisenhower's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, and other members of his party, would closet themselves with Thompson and his principal aides for a final briefing on Soviet affairs.

PIECE OF 'CHUTE NEW CLUE TO FATE OF GHOST BOMBER

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — Five days of search in the wastes of Libya have produced another clue to the fate of nine U.S. airmen missing from a World War II bomber.

U.S. Air Force European headquarters said today that another piece of parachute has been found. It was picked up in the area where an earlier search last month discovered a trail of markers apparently left by the airmen in a trek to death in the North African desert.

The Army mortuary search team messaged that up to Tuesday no trace of the airmen's remains had been found.

The ghost bomber, a four-engine Liberator, made a pilotless belly-landing on its return from a bombing raid on Naples, Italy, in the moonless night of April 4, 1943.

It was found practically intact by a team of geologists earlier this year on hard-packed sand 440 miles southeast of the Libyan port of Bengasi.

Drunken Drivers Hear Sentences

Four more drunken drivers have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court.

Bennie Rae White, 21, of 842 Wilmot avenue, Novato, must serve five days during weekends and pay a $250 fine. Judge Richard M. Sims also suspended White's license for 90 days, and put him on probation for one year. White was caught on Highway 101 on June 17. He had a prior conviction in Los Angeles in February of 1957, but this had been stricken from the records.

Judge Harold J. Haley sentenced the following:

Wilbert O'Neil Harris, 22, of 50 Marin View avenue, Mill Valley, was fined $250 and put on nine months probation. He was caught on Freitas Parkway in Terra Linda last Saturday.

Emil Andrew Peterson, 37, of 711 Alta Vista road, Mill Valley, drew $200 fine and one-year probation. Peterson must also pay five dollars for driving with an expired license, and $20 for resisting arrest.

Florence Helene Paar, 38, of Post Office Box 223, Forest Knolls, was fined $250 and put on 10 months probation. She was caught on Sir Francis Drake boulevard in San Anselmo on July 11.

Compromise Labor Bill Wins Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Labor Committee, by a narrow 16-14 vote, today formally approved a compromise labor control bill.

Committee Democrats split down the middle 10-10. Six of the 10 Republicans voted for the bill which was a watered-down version of the measure passed by the Senate earlier this session.

Republicans immediately served notice they will fight to strengthen the committee bill drastically when it reaches the House floor.

Rep. Joseph Holt (R-Calif.) told reporters that, "All Republicans who voted for the bill did so only to get a bill on the floor."

Rep. William H. Ayres (R-Ohio) said "not one Republican who voted for this bill will vote for it on the floor unless it is amended by the House."

The bill as approved is the product of five weeks of acrimonious bill-drafting sessions. Actually, it seems to please nobody.

Brown Signs Bill On Park Commission

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state Park Commission won't be concerned with the details of running parks any more, but it will still set general policy.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown made that clear yesterday by signing a bill shuffling the commission's functions.

"A strong state park commission . . . is essential for our future park and recreation system," the governor said in a statement.

The measure by Assemblyman Pauline L. Davis (D-Portola) originally would have stripped the commission of both policy and administrative powers, making it only an advisory body.

It was amended as it passed through the Legislature, however, to keep the commission's policy-making power.

Administrative functions now shift to the state natural resources director.

Benefit Bills Become Law

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown signed into law yesterday four bills increasing aid to the aged, the needy disabled and the blind.

Two of the bills raise the maximum basic aid for the aged from $90 to $95 a month, and the maximum special needs grants from $106 to $115.

They also increase from $90 to $105 a month the maximum to which basic aid grants may be raised as a result of federal increases.

One of the bills provides that aid grants to the needy disabled be equivalent to the needs of those receiving them. They cannot exceed an average statewide grant of $98 a month.

The governor also signed a bill giving an across-the-board increase from $99 to $104 a month to the needy blind. It raises special needs grants from $110 to $115 a month.

A fourth bill gives $5 monthly across-the-board increase in aid to the partially self-supporting blind. It increases the amount of earnings such persons may keep from $1,000 to $1,200.

Kents Plan Radio Station in Hawaii

Attorney Roger Kent, Northern California State Democratic Central Committee chairman, and his wife, Alice, of Kent Woodlands have applied to the Federal Communications Commission for permission to start a new radio station in Hawaii.

The station, if approved, will operate at 1120 kilocycles on one kilowatt at Kailua on Oahu.

Kent said he and his wife probably will not receive final word on the application for seven or eight months.

They made the application, he said, because of sympathetic ties with the Hawaiian Islands, and because he learned the particular frequency was available.

Kent, prominent in politics for a number of years, admitted the station probably would devote considerable time to "the political scene." He said time would be open to anyone, "including other parties."

"But we would devote time also to public service," he said. The station probably would "cost something" as an initial development, he said, but it would be operated "as a profitable enterprise."

"Alice is an island girl," Kent explained. "She was Alice Cooke, and we were married in Honolulu in 1930. We've probably been there 20 times or more since then for pleasure and business, and I was there with the Navy."

"The idea of a radio station intrigues me. It would be a great deal of fun, and a means of disseminating information."

Asked if he planned to go there and retire, Kent said, "We probably would spend some time there."

He said the range of the station would cover most of the island, including Honolulu, but it would be "strictly a local station, covering mostly windward Oahu."

To get approval of the application, Kent said he must prove, among other things, that the station would not interfere with the operation of airplanes and that he is financially able to carry out the operations.

Chessman In New Appeal

Convict-author Caryl Chessman has asked the California Supreme Court for a rehearing on its July 7 decision upholding his death sentences.

Chessman was condemned on two counts after being convicted of kidnap and rape under the state's "Little Lindbergh Law."

In a personally prepared brief submitted yesterday, Chessman said the July 7 decision "sanctions continued infliction of a cruel and unusual punishment upon appellant that is without precedent in the annals of American jurisprudence."

He referred to the 11 years he has spent in San Quentin Prison's Death Row in anticipation of his execution while the case was carried through a round of appeals in court.

Yesterday's petition was a procedural step which clears the way for him to make another appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Mill Valley Legion Plans Stag Dinner

Mill Valley Post 284, American Legion, is completing plans for its stag birthday dinner Monday at 6:30 p.m. in the Legion Hall on Miller avenue, according to post commander Malcolm C. Piper.

Reservations should be made with Nelson H. Norgren, second vice commander, before tomorrow night, Piper said.

Ike Approves Postmaster For Tomales

Mrs. Veda W. Gilman has been approved by President Eisenhower as postmaster at Tomales. The president sent her name to the Senate yesterday for confirmation of appointment.

She has been acting postmaster under appointment since last Feb. 28, and operated the Tomales post office since Postmaster Bray Dickinson became ill Dec. 7, 1957. Dickinson died last August.

Mrs. Gilman, the wife of Laselle (Lou) Gilman, news editor of the Santa Rosa Press-Democrat and former Independent-Journal reporter, has been a resident of Tomales about two years, and of the Northwest Marin area for six.

The Tomales post office is third class and is located in the Diekmann General Store.

McGill To Quit Tiburon Board

Commissioners of the Tiburon Fire Protection District at their Aug. 3 meeting will consider choice of a successor to Commissioner Howard I. McGill, who has announced his intention to resign, according to chairman Jon F. Stanton.

Their recommendation will be forwarded to the board of supervisors for action.

Also on the agenda will be a discussion of the commission "Thank You" letter for its firehouse to Fred G. Zelinsky, Stanton said. The meeting will be held in the firehouse.

Patrolman Exam Slated Aug. 8 By Sausalito

The City of Sausalito will conduct an examination Aug. 8 to establish an eligibility list for patrolmen, according to City Manager Donald A. Duerr.

An immediate appointment from the list will be made to fill the vacancy created by resignation of Officer George Alberigi, who is joining the San Anselmo Police Department.

Salary range is $414 to $466, Duerr said. Applications for the examination may be obtained from Duerr or Police Chief Howard Goerndt until Aug. 5.

EARLIER COMMITMENTS

City Manager Says San Anselmo Tax Rate May Rise To $1.59½

San Anselmo's 1959-60 tax rate may rise to $1.59½ per $100 assessed valuation, but if it does, it will be because of commitments made by former city councils, City Manager Arthur W. Brewer declared today.

The budget approved by the city council will call for a tax rate of $1.33½, said Brewer. But it may be necessary to add 26 cents to that figure to finance completion of purchase of land for widening Sir Francis Drake boulevard.

The City of San Anselmo embarked several years ago on a program of purchasing land along one side of Drake boulevard through the city for eventual widening of the thoroughfare. If the city stops now, said Brewer, its purchases up to date will have been wasted as the widening cannot be undertaken. The city's program is forestalling any commercial development of the land.

Heretofore, the city has squeezed enough money out of its general fund for each year's land purchase. But it is committed to 1959-60 purchases too large for such a procedure, the city manager declared.

To cover the expenditure Brewer set up a special land purchase fund calling for a 26-cent tax rate in his 1959-60 budget. So far, however, the city council has taken no action on whether to create this fund.

Setting of the tax rate is not expected until the council meets Aug. 18 for its final session as a board of equalization, according to City Clerk Anita Gannon.

Brewer's original budget proposal called for a total tax rate of $1.66½. This broke down as follows: General fund, $1.20 (the same as last year); employees' retirement fund (authorized by voters in November), 13½ cents; library fund, 18 cents (including 7 cents toward building the library addition); recreation fund, 10 cents; land acquisition fund, 26 cents.

The council in a series of budget sessions cut 5 cents from the general fund rate, knocked one cent off the library fund rate and one cent off the recreation fund rate. This brought the total, aside from the proposed land purchase fund, down to $1.33½, the same rate as last year's plus the voter-authorized retirement fund.

Some further cutting is still possible, Brewer said today. It now appears that no start can be made on the second firehouse before next spring, so the city will not require so much toward its lease-option financing as had been placed in the budget.

"But this will amount to only a few thousand dollars," said the city manager. "It will not begin to cover the amount to which we are committed by the policy adopted by former city councils."

Indian Stories To Be Related

Indian stories will be related to Fairfax youngsters at 11 a.m. tomorrow by Mrs. Rosalie Moore Brown, poet and writer.

The regular Friday morning story hour is held at the Fairfax branch of the Marin County Free Library. Mrs. Emily Shortell, Fairfax librarian, reported that a large number of children attended the first two story hours.

A special feature of tomorrow's story telling will be a display of authentic Hopi Indian Kachina dolls, made by Abbot Sakiestewa, a Hopi Indian.

Pilot Who Hit Power Lines Sued

A Hamilton Air Force Base captain, whose private plane hit electricity wires near San Rafael airport in 1957, is being sued for $3,034 damages by Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

Defendant is Capt. Daniel R. Yankle, who lives on Ulloa street in Ignacio. On Nov. 1, 1957, shortly after 7 p.m., Yankle's plane nicked a transmission line that blacked out parts of Southern Marin and Hamilton Field.

William T. Bagley, one of the attorneys for PG&E, said the plane, instead of landing at San Rafael, flew safely on to Napa. PG&E says it cost $3,034 to repair the damage.

Kuala Lumpur, capital of Malaya, means "Muddy Mouth." It is located where two rivers meet.

COUNTY FIREMEN ADD TO PROTECTION

Fire trucks of the Marin County Fire Department were put on display in front of the department's new station on Throckmorton Ridge above Mill Valley yesterday as the board of supervisors dedicated the structure. Fire Chief Charles Reilley said the new station will add to protection of coastal slope lands, in line with county policy of establishing manned fire stations at strategic points throughout unincorporated areas. No —not all these trucks will be stationed at Throckmorton Ridge. (Independent-Journal photo)

Truck Spills Lumber Cargo On Highway

Lumber spilled from a truck and blocked a portion of southbound Highway 101 near the Sonoma-Marin County line at 5:45 a.m. today.

Truck driver Richard L. Moneymaker, 26, of Fulton, a driver for Idaco Lumber Co. of Healdsburg, told the California Highway Patrol he swerved to avoid hitting a car that was making an improper U-turn. The rear wheels of the three-axle flatbed struck a guard rail and the load of lumber fell to the highway.

The lumber was stacked on a shoulder and did not slow traffic, the CHP said.

Dixie School Board Won't Yield Marinwood Acreage Without Fight

Dixie School District won't give up four and one-quarter acres in Marinwood without an argument.

The district board decided last night that Supt. Dennie B. Willis should ask Howard Rowe of the Bureau of School Planning of the state Department of Education to meet with the board next week to discuss the amount of land needed for school purposes in Marinwood.

About 17 acres are shown on the master plan as allocated for school purposes, but Rowe has indicated belief that 12.75 acres may suffice. Last Monday the Marin County Planning Commission put over a scheduled amendment of the master plan because it understood that the school needs might be reduced from the original estimate.

This, the planners feel, might ease the problem of demands by Marinwood residents for more recreational area.

But school board members made clear last night that they feel there are points to be made in favor of keeping the whole 17-acre allotment. They said they will put new information before Rowe in an effort to change his attitude.

The board voted to continue its contract with KQED, San Francisco educational TV station, for school television programs.

The pupil insurance policies with North American Life and Casualty Co. will be continued, it was decided. These aren't paid for by the board but are made available to parents for insurance of children against mishaps on grounds, or going to and from school, at a cost of $1.50 a year.

Adoption of a school calendar similar to that of several other districts was voted. It provides that school opens Sept. 10 and closes June 16, including 180 school days.

The board decided against participation in the Junior Museum of Marin plan for payment on a basis of 10 cents a pupil, which for Dixie would have meant an aggregate cost of $156.

Reports on building projects, of which Dixie has five at present, showed there need be no double sessions in the district in September, according to Willis.

Willis said the Lucas Valley School will be completed about Aug. 15, and the addition to Bernard Hoffman School, about Aug. 20.

Willis said he will place applications before the state Department of Finance in Sacramento Aug. 13 for a three-room addition to the Lucas Valley School and purchase of 10 acres from the Freitas estate adjacent to the San Rafael high school site in Terra Linda.

MMWD, Mill Valley To Confer On Reservoir

William R. Seeger, general manager of the Marin Municipal Water District, will confer with Mill Valley city officials with a view toward arranging that the Cascade reservoir will be preserved as an emergency water source for fire-fighting.

The water district board, previously inclined to abandon the reservoir, decided at a meeting last night that Seeger should discuss the possible handover because the Mill Valley fire chief has strongly recommended that the reservoir be kept active as a safety measure.

Meanwhile Mill Valley's Parks and Recreation Committee is to report by Aug. 5 on possible usefulness of the reservoir for recreation purposes.

Various other reports, however, have indicated there would be considerable expense involved if the reservoir is to be made safe and sanitary, said Seeger.

The board received a letter from Richard Bemish of 524 Cascade drive, Mill Valley, offering to buy the reservoir but naming no amount. This was held on file pending Seeger's conferences with Mill Valley officials.

The board approved purchase of a $688 pump for replacement at the Scott station, Fairfax.

Tam Valley Group Holds Over Drama

The Tamalpais Valley Players will offer performances of "All My Sons" tomorrow and Saturday evenings with curtain time at 8:30, according to Cliff Badger, director.

The Arthur Miller drama had been presented for the two previous weekends but the large audiences called for a holdover third weekend, according to Badger.

The play is staged at the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Clubhouse on Maple street near Shoreline highway. Tickets and seat reservations are available from Mrs. Harrie Batz.

Duplicate Street Names Prove Dangerous In Marin

We don't know why the Tiburon peninsula residents of Hilary drive want to change the name of their street to Tioga.

But it doesn't make much difference. This is a free country. If they want to change the name of their street, they certainly ought to have that right.

But we have to string along with the County Planning Commission in objecting to Tioga on the grounds that there already is a street in Marin named Tioga. The planning staff refefred to a Tioga in Ignacio. We know of another in Greenbrae. Perhaps there are still others.

It shouldn't be.

Not so long ago a house burned down on one side of the San Anselmo-San Rafael city line while a fire truck was rushing around desperately on the other side of the line looking for the fire. Trouble was that the street address was duplicated on each side of the line and the fire call just happened to go to the wrong city's fire department.

Policemen can cite similar instances. So can ambulance drivers.

What happens to such as parcel deliverymen is a matter of simple inconvenience, but what happens to emergency vehicles like fire trucks, police cars and ambulances can be a matter of life and death.

Let the good folk of Hilary Drive change the name of their street; but let them pick a name that isn't duplicated elsewhere in Marin.

And people who live on streets with names duplicated elsewhere in the county would do well for their own safety to consider seeking a change.

RELIEF SHOULD HELP, NOT HARM

Eskimos want work, not relief, was a warning given the Canadian government recently.

Eskimo leader, Abraham Ogpik, claimed that letting his people go on relief indiscriminately was making "lazy bums" out of them.

"We want to work for a living instead of getting handouts," was the emphatic statement made by Mr. Ogpik before a government committee.

He added that when it is necessary for Eskimos to receive rations, they should have to do some work for the benefit of everybody.

When an individual depends as little as possible on government, the better it is for him and everyone else.

Those in real need should be adequately care for by the public. But caution should likewise be taken not to weaken the fiber of a nation by encouraging those who can very well take care of themselves to become hangers-on or ne'er-do-wells.

God expects each able person to contribute to life, not merely take out.

"Man is born to labor, and the bird to fly." (Job 5:7)

Help me to shoulder by own burdens, O Lord, rather than expect others to carry them.

Self-Improvement Cary Grant's Top Interest When Off Camera

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Cary Grant has become a symbol of suave certainty and self-assurance to millions of movie goers.

They might be surprised to learn what his biggest interest is when he isn't facing the cameras.

It's self-improvement!

"I'm interested in any kind of self-improvement," said Grant, who rose from a stilt walker and Coney Island barker to become one of the world's top-paid film stars.

He feels that life for every man is a constant search for himself.

"You go from one plateau to another," he said. "If a man every five years faithfully put down his views of life, love and the world, at the end of 20 years he would find a frightful mass of inconsistencies.

"People cannot stay the same. They change every second. They can't even stay the same in outward appearance."

The tall, handsome actor, visiting here, has learned one thing for sure about himself. Some 57 films in 33 years have given him no appetite for tragic parts. He'll leave Hamlet to others.

"You can make people cary very easily," he remarked. "But it is much harder to make them laugh.

"Yet that is always what I wanted to do. I still do. I love my business, and I shall keep on doing it.

"If I can make people laugh that's enough. It does some good."

GRANT IS convinced that what defeats most people is "their own egoes — which too often imprison them from new steps to knowledge.

"The biggest problem in the way of self-improvement is the ego — one's unwillingness to admit, even to one's self, one's own ignorance.

"You can never accomplish anything if you worry too much about staying in the same place.

"Lake a ship, you can't stay at the same rotting pier. You have to go out into the harbor."

What is the basic rule for self-improvement? Cary gave this answer:

"FIRST, YOU have to learn how to learn. You have to learn how to concentrate with out distraction and how to apply the results of your concentration in any field of endeavor you choose."

Asked what had been the biggest handicap in his own self-improvement campaign, Grant suddenly dropped his serious look, and replied smiling.

"Running off at the mouth. If I had any true wisdom, I wouldn't have need to talk about it — to convince you or myself."

Schmiedell Death A Loss To Marin

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In the death of Edward G. Schmiedell our Marin community has suffered a deep loss. Mr. Schmiedell has been identified with our County since long before the turn of the last century. It owes much to his high sense of public duty; without personal ambition, he gave himself, generously, to any cause he believed worthy; his own town of Ross, where he lived for over sixty years, is a continuing reminder of his interest and devotion to the common welfare. He was an outstanding example of modest and effective citizenship at its best.

But he was much more than that. He was a man of shining integrity. He was deliberate and fair in judgment, firm in conviction, loyal to principle and to friends. He was trusted on every side. To these qualities, which made him the man he was, fortune added kindness and compassion, a great love of nature and of the outdoors, a winning humor. He had friends in every rank. He was a gentleman of quality.

Finally, he was a dear friend of many who loved him. He leaves us rare memories. We shall not forget.

City Employees Ought To Account

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Last week in San Anselmo, the proposed change in the Civil Service ordinance to make certain department heads responsible to the City Council, was overwhelmingly defeated. The result readily indicates the success of a well-planned and concentrated effort by the San Anselmo Civil Service Employees Association. It also indicates, however, either considerable confusion on the part of the voters or else their complete lack of faith in four out of five of the very people they elected to office to set the policy of the city's government and to spend the tax money which these same voters will continue to pay.

The argument against the proposal by the Employees Association that it was an attempt to grab political control by the City Council under the old "spoils system" was, of course, utterly ridiculous. The Council is composed of five individual citizens and represents no political party or faction. These Councilmen, businessmen and housewives, devote many hours without pay to coping with the City's problems. They are hardly people one would associate with a corrupt political machine, though the Employees Association would evidently have the voters think this.

Though it is true that the present system may have worked satisfactorily in the past; much of its success undoubtedly stems from the fact that the two principal incumbent department heads are old timers, known by reputation and whose ability has been tested over the years. However, this proposition should not have been decided on the past records of Chiefs Wood and Marcucci, as this was not the objective. The objective was to properly establish the lines of responsibility of the City's department heads.

Whether the rsidents like it or not, San Anselmo is growing and, naturally, so are the responsibilities of these people and the departments they administer. Consequently, there comes a time when these positions become of such importance that they should be accountable to the taxpayers, through their elected representatives: a time when the position is beyond one of civil service status. It would have seemed that the prudent voter would have recognized that time was last Tuesday (July 14).

State Preparing To Enforce Ban On 'Loss Leader' Advertising

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Every minute of every hours of every day, the government has its hands in the pockets of the taxpayers and the people attempting to earn a living through the conduct of legitimate business enterprise. Added to pocket-tapping, the government imposes countless rules, regulations and ukases regarding methods of doing business.

And now, added to all this, Governor Edmund G. Brown has signed into law a new measure which will increase government control on business and deny businessman what should be his constitutional right to operate his business as he chooses.

THE NEW LAW provides $90,000 to the attorney general's office for enforcement of the so-called Unfair Practices Act, which prohibits the sale of goods for less than cost and implies a mark-up of at least six per cent on all goods purchased at wholesale and sold at retail.

The purpose of the Unfair Practices Act, which has been on the statute books for many years, is to prevent retail establishments from using what are known as "loss-leaders." This is the practice of luring customers into retail establishments by advertising some items at a very low price, in hopes that once in the store, they will more than make up the loss by purchases of other goods.

Although the statute has been on the books for many years, this is the first time, the governor said, that any considerable sum has been allocated toward serious enforcement of it. He also said the law has been held constitutional.

WITH THE MONEY, Attorney General Stanley Mosk plans to add to his staff in the attorney general's office by hiring a cost accountant an economist, and a couple of additional lawyers. This added staff will be a few more bureaucrats to harass the already be-deviled businessman.

The bill the governor signed, he said, also calls for treble damages in the event competitors are injured.

Of course, under the measure, it must be shown that the use of loss-leaders was for the purpose of injuring a competitor, and as this is difficult to prove, it becomes necessary for the state to hire more people for enforcement purposes.

UNDER THE ACT, there appears to be no benefit to the public at all, for it denies the public the right to purchase at lowered prices and places more governmental control on the cost of food the public eats, and the goods it buys for household purposes.

The independent retailer is deprived of his right to do business as he chooses.

For years, the people of California have been paying more than they should for milk, the only state-regulated commodity. Now it appears there will be an extension to other goods.

Commuters Find It's Possible To Get Stuck With Bridge Tickets

THE NEW COMMUTE books on the Golden Gate Bridge raise the question: How many times a week do you have to commute to qualify as a commuter?

Donald Dudley of 257 Morning Sun avenue, Mill Valley, who makes an average of six trips a week (or three round trips) always has considered himself a commuter.

On Monday of this week he invested nine dollars in a book of Golden Gate Bridge tickets which on examination he found good only during July and August. Quick calculation disclosed only 42 days remaining validity for the 52 tickets (or 26 round trips).

Dudley straight-away got embroiled in a discussion on how to get a refund on the 51 remaining tickets in his book. He stomped off when told there was a 50 cent bookkeeping charge. His refund for 51 un-used tickets would be $8.25.

Dudley, slightly red in the face, said he wished the days of the old commute books were back again. Until June 30 of this year a commuter such as he got along happily with a 40-trip book that cost $7 and was good for 45 days from the date of purchase.

Under the new system Dudley is one commuter who will either have to pay a straight 25-cent-a-trip fare or wait until the beginning of August to buy a new two-month ticket book.

THIS SYSTEM of a commute book ,good for the month in which it is purchased and the following month has been in effect on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge ever since it opened. Toll takers report that occasionally at the end of the month when someone is stuck with unused commute tickets that they will get complaints but that ordinarily there are none.

Most people would concede that anyone who commutes five days a week (10 trips) should get the benefit of a commuter's rate.

Even such a bona fide commuter can get stuck with unused commute tickets under unusual circumstances like the month of February having only 28 days. This year February was only four weeks long. The five-days-a-week commuter had to buy a January-February book before the last week in January to use all 50 tickets.

THE RICHMOND-San Rafael commute ticket represents a saving of 37½ cents on each trip compared to a saving of only 7.7 cents on the Golden Gate Bridge commute ticket.

Seventy-five cents is the regular toll on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

The reason for the high toll is the sixty million dollar bond issue floated by the California Toll Bridge Authority to build the Richmond-San Rafael span. At first the tolls collected didn't even pay for interest on the bonds. Now tolls have picked up and they do cover interest payments.

Action by the State Legislature would be needed in order to use tolls from other bridges to retire the bond issue or lower the Richmond-San Rafael toll.

Back to the subject of commute books, the Bay Bridge switched to a $10 book of 50 tickets good during two calendar months on Jan. 1, 1953.

For 13 years previously the Bay Bridge had offered commuters a choice: they could buy 40 tickets for $8 good only during the month purchased or a $10 book with enough tickets (the number varied from 50 to 54) for each working day during one calendar month.

LATIN AMERICAN UNREST—I

Cuba May Face Violent Revolution Yet This Year

(EDITORS NOTE: The following foreign news commentary is the first of three which will be devoted to background and reasons for current unrest in Latin America, with emphasis on the Caribbean area:)

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

NO MATTER HOW high Cuba's Fidel Castro may be riding now, there are many who predict his country will be involved in violent revolution before the year is out.

What manner of man is Castro — saviour, impractical idealist, trigger-happy zealot and tool of communism?

Whatever he is, few men have so stirred the imaginations of restless Latin Americans since Simon Bolivar, the South American liberator who was born in Caracas, Venezuela, in 1783 and who by the time of his death at the age of 47 was the liberator-hero of Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador Panama, Peru and Bolivia.

In the seven months since Castro drove former dictator Fulgencio Batista from Cuba, uprisings or threats of uprisings have occurred in the Caribbean nations of Panama, Nicaragua, Guatemala, Honduras, Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

Two of these, Nicaragua and the Dominican Republic are dictator nations especially earmarked by Castro as next on the liberation schedule. But each uprising has had the Castro trademark.

IN MOST CASES, the uprising has been generated by political exiles of the nation involved, aided by Cubans and sometimes abetted by training in Cuba's Pinar Del Rio Province, spawning grounds of revolutions.

The magnetism of Castro's leadership already has been demonstrated.

One news writer said of him:

"Fidel Castro and his 26th of July movement are the flaming symbol of opposition to the regime. The organization is formed of youths of all kinds. It is a revolutionary movement that calls itself socialistic. It is also nationalist which generally in Latin America means anti-Yankee. The program is vague and couched in generalities, but it amounts to a new deal for Cuba, radical, democratic and therefore anti-communistic."

That paragraph was phrased nearly two years in advance of Castro's final victory.

In one aspect it proved accurate. In another, at least open to doubt.

Castro obviously came to power with his ultimate objectives only vaguely couched in his mind. The result is today's chaos.

Laws or decrees have been promulgated at Castro's whim. Each is advertised as for the nation's good, but each has resulted in near or total dislocation of the area affected.

NEARLY HALF of Cuba's two-million-man working force is jobless. Rent reductions paralyzed the building field. The Agrarian reform law brought almost total paralysis to cane, tobacco and rice plantings. And so the list goes.

Castro's own headstrong nature has shown in the dismal, rhythmic sound of Cuban firing squads before whom nearly 600 already have fallen, with more promised. First victims were alleged Batistaites To them now are added "counter-revolutionaries" and opponents of the Agrarian reform law.

Castro's own handpicked president, Manuel Urrutia Lleo, found what could happen as result of criticizing the regime. He was dismissed and accused of near-treason because he protested the growing power of communism in Cuba.

Duplicate Street Names Prove Dangerous In Marin

We don't know why the Tiburon peninsula residents of Hilary drive want to change the name of their street to Tioga.

But it doesn't make much difference. This is a free country. If they want to change the name of their street, they certainly ought to have that right.

But we have to string along with the County Planning Commission in objecting to Tioga on the grounds that there already is a street in Marin named Tioga. The planning staff refefred to a Tioga in Ignacio. We know of another in Greenbrae. Perhaps there are still others.

It shouldn't be.

Not so long ago a house burned down on one side of the San Anselmo-San Rafael city line while a fire truck was rushing around desperately on the other side of the line looking for the fire. Trouble was that the street address was duplicated on each side of the line and the fire call just happened to go to the wrong city's fire department.

Policemen can cite similar instances. So can ambulance drivers.

What happens to such as parcel deliverymen is a matter of simple inconvenience, but what happens to emergency vehicles like fire trucks, police cars and ambulances can be a matter of life and death.

Let the good folk of Hilary Drive change the name of their street; but let them pick a name that isn't duplicated elsewhere in Marin.

And people who live on streets with names duplicated elsewhere in the county would do well for their own safety to consider seeking a change.

RELIEF SHOULD HELP, NOT HARM

Eskimos want work, not relief, was a warning given the Canadian government recently.

Eskimo leader, Abraham Ogpik, claimed that letting his people go on relief indiscriminately was making "lazy bums" out of them.

"We want to work for a living instead of getting handouts," was the emphatic statement made by Mr. Ogpik before a government committee.

He added that when it is necessary for Eskimos to receive rations, they should have to do some work for the benefit of everybody.

When an individual depends as little as possible on government, the better it is for him and everyone else.

Those in real need should be adequately care for by the public. But caution should likewise be taken not to weaken the fiber of a nation by encouraging those who can very well take care of themselves to become hangers-on or ne'er-do-wells.

God expects each able person to contribute to life, not merely take out.

Self-Improvement Cary Grant's Top Interest When Off Camera

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Cary Grant has become a symbol of suave certainty and self-assurance to millions of movie goers.

They might be surprised to learn what his biggest interest is when he isn't facing the cameras.

It's self-improvement!

"I'm interested in any kind of self-improvement," said Grant, who rose from a stilt walker and Coney Island barker to become one of the world's top-paid film stars.

He feels that life for every man is a constant search for himself.

"You go from one plateau to another," he said. "If a man every five years faithfully put down his views of life, love and the world, at the end of 20 years he would find a frightful mass of inconsistencies.

"People cannot stay the same. They change every second. They can't even stay the same in outward appearance."

The tall, handsome actor, visiting here, has learned one thing for sure about himself. Some 57 films in 33 years have given him no appetite for tragic parts. He'll leave Hamlet to others.

"You can make people cary very easily," he remarked. "But it is much harder to make them laugh.

"Yet that is always what I wanted to do. I still do. I love my business, and I shall keep on doing it.

"If I can make people laugh that's enough. It does some good."

GRANT IS convinced that what defeats most people is "their own egoes — which too often imprison them from new steps to knowledge.

"The biggest problem in the way of self-improvement is the ego — one's unwillingness to admit, even to one's self, one's own ignorance.

"You can never accomplish anything if you worry too much about staying in the same place.

"Lake a ship, you can't stay at the same rotting pier. You have to go out into the harbor."

What is the basic rule for self-improvement? Cary gave this answer:

"FIRST, YOU have to learn how to learn. You have to learn how to concentrate with out distraction and how to apply the results of your concentration in any field of endeavor you choose."

Asked what had been the biggest handicap in his own self-improvement campaign, Grant suddenly dropped his serious look, and replied smiling.

"Running off at the mouth. If I had any true wisdom, I wouldn't have need to talk about it — to convince you or myself."

Schmiedell Death A Loss To Marin

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In the death of Edward G. Schmiedell our Marin community has suffered a deep loss. Mr. Schmiedell has been identified with our County since long before the turn of the last century. It owes much to his high sense of public duty; without personal ambition, he gave himself, generously, to any cause he believed worthy; his own town of Ross, where he lived for over sixty years, is a continuing reminder of his interest and devotion to the common welfare. He was an outstanding example of modest and effective citizenship at its best.

But he was much more than that. He was a man of shining integrity. He was deliberate and fair in judgment, firm in conviction, loyal to principle and to friends. He was trusted on every side. To these qualities, which made him the man he was, fortune added kindness and compassion, a great love of nature and of the outdoors, a winning humor. He had friends in every rank. He was a gentleman of quality.

Finally, he was a dear friend of many who loved him. He leaves us rare memories. We shall not forget.

City Employees Ought To Account

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Last week in San Anselmo, the proposed change in the Civil Service ordinance to make certain department heads responsible to the City Council, was overwhelmingly defeated. The result readily indicates the success of a well-planned and concentrated effort by the San Anselmo Civil Service Employees Association. It also indicates, however, either considerable confusion on the part of the voters or else their complete lack of faith in four out of five of the very people they elected to office to set the policy of the city's government and to spend the tax money which these same voters will continue to pay.

The argument against the proposal by the Employees Association that it was an attempt to grab political control by the City Council under the old "spoils system" was, of course, utterly ridiculous. The Council is composed of five individual citizens and represents no political party or faction. These Councilmen, businessmen and housewives, devote many hours without pay to coping with the City's problems. They are hardly people one would associate with a corrupt political machine, though the Employees Association would evidently have the voters think this.

Though it is true that the present system may have worked satisfactorily in the past; much of its success undoubtedly stems from the fact that the two principal incumbent department heads are old timers, known by reputation and whose ability has been tested over the years. However, this proposition should not have been decided on the past records of Chiefs Wood and Marcucci, as this was not the objective. The objective was to properly establish the lines of responsibility of the City's department heads.

Whether the rsidents like it or not, San Anselmo is growing and, naturally, so are the responsibilities of these people and the departments they administer. Consequently, there comes a time when these positions become of such importance that they should be accountable to the taxpayers, through their elected representatives: a time when the position is beyond one of civil service status. It would have seemed that the prudent voter would have recognized that time was last Tuesday (July 14).

State Preparing To Enforce Ban On 'Loss Leader' Advertising

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Every minute of every hours of every day, the government has its hands in the pockets of the taxpayers and the people attempting to earn a living through the conduct of legitimate business enterprise. Added to pocket-tapping, the government imposes countless rules, regulations and ukases regarding methods of doing business.

And now, added to all this, Governor Edmund G. Brown has signed into law a new measure which will increase government control on business and deny businessman what should be his constitutional right to operate his business as he chooses.

THE NEW LAW provides $90,000 to the attorney general's office for enforcement of the so-called Unfair Practices Act, which prohibits the sale of goods for less than cost and implies a mark-up of at least six per cent on all goods purchased at wholesale and sold at retail.

The purpose of the Unfair Practices Act, which has been on the statute books for many years, is to prevent retail establishments from using what are known as "loss-leaders." This is the practice of luring customers into retail establishments by advertising some items at a very low price, in hopes that once in the store, they will more than make up the loss by purchases of other goods.

Although the statute has been on the books for many years, this is the first time, the governor said, that any considerable sum has been allocated toward serious enforcement of it. He also said the law has been held constitutional.

WITH THE MONEY, Attorney General Stanley Mosk plans to add to his staff in the attorney general's office by hiring a cost accountant an economist, and a couple of additional lawyers. This added staff will be a few more bureaucrats to harass the already be-deviled businessman.

The bill the governor signed, he said, also calls for treble damages in the event competitors are injured.

Of course, under the measure, it must be shown that the use of loss-leaders was for the purpose of injuring a competitor, and as this is difficult to prove, it becomes necessary for the state to hire more people for enforcement purposes.

UNDER THE ACT, there appears to be no benefit to the public at all, for it denies the public the right to purchase at lowered prices and places more governmental control on the cost of food the public eats, and the goods it buys for household purposes.

The independent retailer is deprived of his right to do business as he chooses.

For years, the people of California have been paying more than they should for milk, the only state-regulated commodity. Now it appears there will be an extension to other goods.

Giants (Not Willie) Finally Snap Slump

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants today enjoyed a game and one-half hold on the top rung in the National League thanks to a trio of youngsters who broke them out of a slump.

Left-hander Mike McCormick, just 20 although in his fourth major league campaign, put the St. Louis Cardinals down with six hits last night for a 6-1 victory.

Third baseman Jimmy Davenport, in his second season with the Giants, knocked in two of the runs and scored two.

Left fielder Jackie Brandt, in his first full season since returning from military service, collected two hits and scored two runs.

Both Davenport and Brandt had taken extra batting practice in the afternoon as Manager Bill Rigney's Giants battled successfully to break a three-game losing streak. There was one bleak spot — center fielder Willie Mays, hitless in three trips, dropped below a .300 average for the first time since the Giants moved west.

If one hero had to be singled out, it would be McCormick, the young southpaw who now has won his last five games and boosted his won-lost record to 9-7 in what should be his best season in the majors. Last year he was 11-8.

"He's the most mature 20-year-old pitcher I've ever seen," declared catcher Hobie Landrith. "He looks like he's been up here 89 years. He knows what he wants to do and how to do it."

Mike says the big difference now is control for his fast ball.

"I used to get it over only about once in five pitches although I had control of my curve," he explained. "Last night the fast ball was my 'out' pitch, the one they hit into the dirt."

MISSES SHUTOUT

McCormick came within one out of his fourth shutout of the campaign. Catcher Hal Smith hit a drive down the left field line that eluded Brande and scored Alex Grammas from first.

Davenport knocked in a run and scored a run in both the first and fifth frames, doubling in the first and singling in the fifth.

Willie Kirkland hit his 16th homer of the season in the seventh off Marshall Bridges, who relieved loser Dick Ricketts in that frame. The Giants added a finale in the ninth when McCormick hit a squeeze bunt scoring Daryl Spencer from third.

"I did it on my own," the hurler said in the clubhouse. "Rigney had told me to be alive."

Although the sign wasn't flashed for the play, Spencer said he expected it and slid in under first baseman Bill White's throw to score.

Rigney figured he'd keep Brandt in the leadoff spot since the blond youngster jumped off to such an auspicious start in the No. 1 batting position against the Cardinals. But the skipper may move Mays back to his usual third spot. Willie batted fifth last night going hitless in three trips to put his season's average at .299.

The manager figured it was the first time since 1956 that Mays had been below .300 this far along in the season. That year he hit .296 for the campaign.

Sixto Works Hard For 1st Big Test

Sixto Rodriguez, California state light heavyweight boxing champion, is in his third week of sparring for his important 10-round bout with hard-hitting Jesse Bowdry of St. Louis next Thursday at the Civic Auditorium, San Francisco.

The 22-year-old, six-footer from San Anselmo—realizing he is in for some good money shots with a win over seventh-ranked Bowdry—will have boxed between 70 and 80 rounds in the gym by the time he steps into the ring.

"I know this is a big opportunity for me," says the modest state champ, "and I'll be giving it my very best to win."

Rodriguez has a record of 22 wins against a lone defeat. His setback came at the hands of Monroe Ratliff in a title match in San Diego last January.

"Kid Sixto" regained the crown with a lop-sided triumph in the return match last month.

The champion feels his greatest effort came in his close win over Junius Washington at the Oakland Auditorium May 7, when he got off the floor in the eighth round and closed with a furious rally to gain the nod.

"That was my toughest fight," believes Sixto. "And the one that convinced me this kid is ready for top opponents now," chimed in his manager, Karl Ashley of San Anselmo.

Dove And Pigeon Seasons, Limits To Stay The Same

SACRAMENTO (AP)—It looks as if season dates and bag limits for both dove and bandtailed pigeons are going to be the same as last year.

The California Fish and Game Commission announced the dates yesterday, subject to formal approval at its meeting in San Diego next Monday:

Doves, Sept. 1-30, inclusive.

Pigeons, Oct. 1-31, in nine Northern California counties Del Norte, Humboldt, Mendocino, Siskiyou, Modoc, Lassen, Shasta, Trinity, Tehama; Dec. 11-Jan. 10 for balance of state.

Bag limits will be 10 mourning or turtle doves—or 10 white wing doves in Imperial and Riverside counties only—but no more than 10 of all species; bandtail pigeons, daily bag limit of six.

Avila New Milwaukee Hero; Braves' 2B Problems Over?

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bobby Avila, the American League transient, has found a home with the Milwaukee Braves.

At 33, the little infielder found himself shuffled off to Baltimore by Cleveland last winter. The Orioles used him here and there, even in the outfield, then packed him off to Boston. Then, after the better part of 11 seasons in the A.L. he was peddled to the Braves Tuesday.

At the moment, the only question about that deal in Milwaukee minds is why they didn't make it sooner. It was Avila who finally put an end to the Braves' losing string at seven last night with his first National League hit—a two-run homer in the ninth that beat Cincinnati 5-4.

The home run hoisted the Braves back into third place, 3½ games behind the San Francisco Giants, who beat St. Louis 6-1. Second-place Los Angeles slipped 1½ games back in a 7-2 pasting by the Chicago Cubs.

Last-place Philadelphia skidded Pittsburgh to fourth 11-4.

Avila's home run, after a walk, ruined rookie Jim O'Toole's first complete game and gave southpaw Warren Spahn (12-10) his 258th major league victory. Spahn hit a home run for the Braves' first run and scored their second after singling, but was tagged for a pair of two-run homers by Willie Jones and Frank Thomas.

The Braves may have lost third baseman Eddie Mathews, the N.L. home run leader with 29, however, while finding that long-sought second baseman in Avila. Mathews drove in a run with a single, but had to leave the game because of a bruised hip after crashing the fence in pursuit of a foul pop.

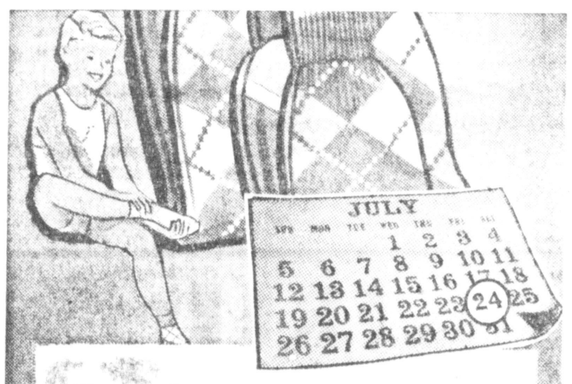

Earl Averill's second grand-slam homer of the season touched off a seven-run second inning for the Cubs, making it a breeze for rookie Bob Anderson (6-7). The young right-hander had a five-hitter.

The Phillies smacked 19 hits and had a 7-2 lead within four innings at Pittsburgh, scoring two on Ed Bouchee's homer off reliever Bennie Daniels after starter Ron Kline (7-9) failed to survive the second inning.

WELL DONE — Relief pitcher Gordon Jones, right, extends congratulatory hand to Mike McCormick as the latter nears the dugout after cinching his ninth victory last night, a 6-1 win over the St. Louis Cardinals. (AP Wirephoto)

Giants (Not Willie) Finally Snap Slump

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants today enjoyed a game and one-half hold on the top rung in the National League thanks to a trio of youngsters who broke them out of a slump.

Left-hander Mike McCormick, just 20 although in his fourth major league campaign, put the St. Louis Cardinals down with six hits last night for a 6-1 victory.

Third baseman Jimmy Davenport, in his second season with the Giants, knocked in two of the runs and scored two.

Left fielder Jackie Brandt, in his first full season since returning from military service, collected two hits and scored two runs.

Both Davenport and Brandt had taken extra batting practice in the afternoon as Manager Bill Rigney's Giants battled successfully to break a three-game losing streak. There was one bleak spot — center fielder Willie Mays, hitless in three trips, dropped below a .300 average for the first time since the Giants moved west.

If one hero had to be singled out, it would be McCormick, the young southpaw who now has won his last five games and boosted his won-lost record to 9-7 in what should be his best season in the majors. Last year he was 11-8.

"He's the most mature 20-year-old pitcher I've ever seen," declared catcher Hobie Landrith. "He looks like he's been up here 89 years. He knows what he wants to do and how to do it."

Mike says the big difference now is control for his fast ball.

"I used to get it over only about once in five pitches although I had control of my curve," he explained. "Last night the fast ball was my 'out' pitch, the one they hit into the dirt."

MISSES SHUTOUT

McCormick came within one out of his fourth shutout of the campaign. Catcher Hal Smith hit a drive down the left field line that eluded Brande and scored Alex Grammas from first.

Davenport knocked in a run and scored a run in both the first and fifth frames, doubling in the first and singling in the fifth.

Willie Kirkland hit his 16th homer of the season in the seventh off Marshall Bridges, who relieved loser Dick Ricketts in that frame. The Giants added a finale in the ninth when McCormick hit a squeeze bunt scoring Daryl Spencer from third.

"I did it on my own," the hurler said in the clubhouse. "Rigney had told me to be alive."

Although the sign wasn't flashed for the play, Spencer said he expected it and slid in under first baseman Bill White's throw to score.

Rigney figured he'd keep Brandt in the leadoff spot since the blond youngster jumped off to such an auspicious start in the No. 1 batting position against the Cardinals. But the skipper may move Mays back to his usual third spot. Willie batted fifth last night going hitless in three trips to put his season's average at .299.

The manager figured it was the first time since 1956 that Mays had been below .300 this far along in the season. That year he hit .296 for the campaign.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

It Took 'Hap' Chandler Long Time To Strike Back At Club Owners

CONNOLLY

From what the man on the radio said it seems that "Happy" Chandler, former High Commissioner of Baseball and presently the governor of Kentucky, was taking quite a whack at Ford Frick, present High Commissioner of Baseball.

According to Chandler, the game of baseball is not being operated quite according to Hoyle. Under the clammy eye of Frick, so Chandler maintains, the sport is becoming a very technical thing.

It took "Happy," a great guy, and a solid citizen, a long time to catch up with the owners who bounced him as Commissioner. One of the underlying reasons, I was told years ago, was that Mr. Chandler had a great fondness for the Kentucky Derby and of course that meant he might wager a couple of clams on a hay burner. Which in the days of Judge Landis was high treason for anybody connected with baseball to have anything to do with a sport wherein gambling played even a small part.

Chandler's beef against baseball was sort of general, but his whack at Frick was strictly his own opinion.

I DIDN'T quite agree with Chandler that Frick was misplaced. "Happy" probably forgot that Ford Frick was one of our smarter baseball critics, for many years, before he went into politics and graduated to the top spot in baseball. I daresay that Frick is much better acquainted with the techniques of baseball than Chandler ever dreamed of. But as to the other charges of Frick being a sort of rubber stamp for the owners, I am unable to verify such a report. But I doubt it.

For the sake of baseball and for the sake of the owners, it might better if they got another guy like Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the old Federal Judge, to handle their affairs.

I knew right after Landis became High Commissioner that organized baseball would never give its rights away again. The owners practically appointed their own "house dick" when Landis took over. And in a lot of ways Landis spanked the owners for their misgivings, a bit too hard.

Landis took over the job right after the 1919 scandal when club owners imagined the game was on its way out.

LANDIS straightened out the sport, even at the expense of the guys who paid his huge salary of $50,000 a year.

At the time Judge Landis was appointed High Commissioner, the "rap" was in for the slavery angle of baseball.

Landis had a lot to do with chilling the contractual row and until his death every club owner accepted his judgment as final.

Then came Chandler, the politician, who for a few years rode high, wide and handsome.

But Chandler wasn't a baseball man in any sense of the word. And he wasn't a character like Landis. Yet he inherited many of the things that made Landis supreme. So just as soon as the owners got a wedge in sideways, they tripped old Happy and slipped him a free ride down the soapy chute, and named Frick.

MAYBE CHANDLER has a beef coming. He thinks major league baseball is a monopoly because the big leaguer choke the minor league owners.

He thinks TV in minor league cities is good for the majors but bad for the minors.

A lot of things Happy Chandler thinks may be right. But to clobber baseball generally to get back at a few clubowners doesn't sound like Chandler. He was always known as a great sport. But this latest blast removes him from the list of top flight politicians and moves him back into the "also ran" class.

Green Scared Stiff In Bosox Debut

CHICAGO (AP)—"I was scared stiff. I was nervous and shaky. But I think I'll settle down and feel good now."

That is the reaction of second baseman Jerry "Pumpsie" Green who started his first major league baseball game for the Boston Red Sox yesterday.

Green, 24-year-old import from Minneapolis, replaced the ailing Pete Runnels as a starter after appearing in his first Boston game as a pinch-runner Tuesday night.

He is the Red Sox first Negro player, and was the center of a controversy when Boston shipped him to Minneapolis just before the season started. He was called up from Minneapolis Tuesday.

In his first start yesterday Green grounded out twice, lofted to center field and walked, stealing second, in four appearances. He performed well afield, handling three chances flawlessly.

"Of course, starting in the majors was the biggest thrill I ever had," he told The Associated Press in an interview. "But I was scared stiff. To tell you I wasn't, wouldn't be right. I was and I admit it.

"I certainly would like to have gotten at least one hit. But I was pretty shaky."

3 Marinites Win Prizes In D.U. Fund Campaign

Three Marin County residents won prizes last Sunday in the climax to Ducks Unlimited Inc's annual fund-raising campaign at a drawing held in San Francisco.

The lucky ticket-holders and their prizes were: Syd Boyle, Stinson Beach, Sunbeam Coffeemaker; A. Kwiathurst, Mill Valley, 10 boxes of shotgun shells; C. M. Cherrigan, Inverness, one case of champaign.

The campaign's first prize, a Pontiac automobile, was won by Frank MacBride of Sacramento.

CAL TAX MEN PREPARING FOR WORLD SERIES

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Giants or the Dodgers in the World Series?

State tax men aren't making any predictions, but they're sharpening their knives to carve out the state's share, just in case.

With the San Francisco and Los Angeles teams ranking 1-2 in the National League standings, the State Franchise Tax Board said yesterday that it's getting ready.

"It is more or less routine," said John J. Campbell, executive officer of the board. "We have had conferences with representatives of the Giants and Dodgers for the payment of corporation income taxes as California corporations."

It's necessary to do some advance planning, especially since any opponent would be from outside the state, and thus pose complicated tax problems.

Sign-Up Time For Y Camp

Registrations are open for boys between the ages of 9 and 13 for attending the YMCA resident camp in the Santa Cruz mountains, Brad Bayliss, Marin YMCA executive secretary, announced today.

He said a meeting for prospective campers and their parents will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Greenbrae School.

Sessions are planned Aug. 2 through 11. Bayliss said the sessions will be held at Camp Tolowa, which belongs to the San Francisco YMCA. It covers approximately 1,000 acres of coastal range land. The YMCA plans campfire meetings, hiking, archery, swimming and other athletic events.

Indians Find Yanks Still Team To Beat

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

You can say what you want about that American League pennant race, but as far as the Cleveland Indians are concerned, the New York Yankees still are the team to beat.

The still struggling champs, down 4-0 after five innings, knocked the Injuns out of first place for the third time this season and the second time in a week with an 8-5 victory at Cleveland last night.

That plunked the Indians a full game behind the Chicago White Sox, who climbed back on top with a 5-4 decision over Boston.

Detroit regained fifth place from Washington by beating the Senators 6-2. Kansas City edged within half a game of the sixth-place Nats with a 6-3 victory over Baltimore's third-place Orioles.

9-7 EDGE

The Yankees have won 9 of 16 games with the Indians this season and four of the last five. They're now within a game of third place.

Herb Score had the champs shut out on three hits until the sixth, when Hector Lopez hit a two-run, two-out homer. They chased the young lefty while taking a 5-4 lead in the seventh on Bobby Richardson's two-run double and a two-out single by Elston Howard. A walk and two-out singles by Richardson and Norm Sieborn put it away in the eighth.

Ryne Duron bagged his 12th save for the Yankees, giving up a run on two hits, but striking out four in three innings of relief that nailed it for Duke Maas (8-5).

Sherm Lollar and Nellis Fox each had three of the White Sox's 13 hits, with Fox scoring three runs and Lollar driving in two. It was Lollar's single that brought Fox home with the winner in the ninth to beat the Red Sox and reliever Leo Kiely (3-3). Turk Lown (6-2) won it in relief of Early Wynn.

TED HOMERS

Ted Williams hit his seventh home run of the year.

Right-hander Ray Herbert won his fifth in a row for the A's, beating the Orioles with a six-hitter for a 9-7 record. The A's clinched it on Wayne Terwilliger's squeeze bunt in the seventh.

Frank Lary (11-7), whose first homer triggered a winning, three-run seventh inning for Detroit, allowed only three hits, but needed Ray Narleski's hitless relief after Roy Sievers' 14th home run broke up his one-hit shutout in the eighth. Pete Ramos (10-1) lost it.

Bay Crossing Study Approved

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—An additional crossing of San Francisco Bay will be studied under a bill signed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The bill appropriates a balance in the southern crossing engineering fund and an additional $150,000 from Bay Bridge revenues for the surveys. It was authored by Assemblyman Edward Gaffney (D-San Francisco).

The new law specifies that the crossing must be between Alameda County and San Francisco or San Mateo counties. It also forbids a parallel bridge in the immediate vicinity of the present Bay Bridge.

County School Heads Get Raise

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown has signed legislation granting a 5 per cent pay raise for California's county school superintendents.

It will provide raises ranging from $300 to $950 a year, depending on the size of the county, up to a top of $19,500 in the largest counties.

Assemblyman William Biddick Jr. (D-Stockton), the author, originally sought raises ranging from $1,500 to $3,000, but the figure was slashed in the Assembly.

Spectacular Races On S.F. Bay This Weekend

The most spectacular sailing ever to be witnessed on San Francisco Bay is expected to take place this weekend. A dozen of the nation's fastest multihull sail boats will participate in the annual Pacific Coast Multihull Championship Regatta.

All capable of top speeds in excess of 20 miles an hour, far faster than even the largest conventional yacht, it will be the largest group of its kind ever to appear on local waters.

The event will cover the weekend, with three smooth water races to be held on Richardson's Bay off Sausalito on Saturday, to be followed Sunday with a similar series off the San Francisco Marina. First race on each day is 11 a.m.

Strong winds are hoped for on the second day, in order to furnish a thorough test for the various craft.

Three types of multihull sailboats will be represented. These will be the catamaran, the single outrigger, and the double outrigger, or trimaran.

At the present time, trimarans far outnumber the others on San Francisco Bay, apparently because they have proven more seaworthy on the turbulent Bay waters.

MARIN ENTRIES

For instance, one of the best known of these sailors is Fred Jukich of Mill Valley, who often sails his twenty-foot trimaran Caper in 40-mile-an-hour winds.

Such a blow would completely overpower a conventional boat, but Jukich not only often sails alone, but drives his craft full speed, every minute.

Another Mill Valley participant will be Larry Williams of Coronet avenue, who skipper his home-built 24-foot trimaran Nugget. Eighteen years old, he is also manufacturer of an advanced type paddle board he has designed.

Another Nugget will be entered by Jim Brown of Sausalito Yacht Harbor who, incidentally, is readying his craft for a deep-sea cruise to the Caribbean through the Panama Canal.

It is interesting to note that this new type, capable of long voyages, is expected to hold its own against pure racing sailboats.

Five of the craft to race were designed by still another local resident, Arthur Piver of Mill Valley, who has entered his latest creation, the 17-foot catamaran Pi-Cat.

Yell Leaders To Meet Saturday For Prep Grid Tilt

All of the high school head yell leaders and pom pom girls representing the West Bay in next month's 20-30 Club All-star football game in Kezar Stadium will meet at 12 noon Saturday in San Bruno's Community Park.

From among these prepsters, 20-30 Club officials will select the head yell leader for the West Bay.

High school yell leaders and pom pom girls for the fall semester only—from San Jose to Novato—who have not been informed of this meeting are invited to attend in their prep costumes.

The fifth annual benefit East Bay-West Bay prep grid contest will be played August 27.

Lions Win Title In Twin Cities Li'l Loop Playoff

Bucky Simpson pitched a three-hitter and aided his own cause with a home run last night as the Larkspur Lions clinched the Twin Cities Little League championship with a 6-1 victory over the North Bay Lumber.

It was the Lions' second straight victory in their best-of-three games playoff. Monday night the champs edged the Lumbermen, 4-3 behind Larry White's 12-strikeout pitching.

The Lions were the league's first half winners while the Lumbermen copped the second half of the schedule, necessitating this week's playoff.

Bridge Authority Change Vetoed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday pocket-vetoed a bill which would have removed him and the state finance director from the toll bridge authority and allowed him to appoint four new members.

Brown said he is not opposed in principle to the legislation by Sen. George Miller Jr. (D-Martinez), but felt there should be no change in the authority until completion of a legislative study of San Francisco Bay Area transportation facilities.

The study, due by 1961, will consider putting all bridges, harbors and airports in the area under a single control—the proposed Golden Gate Authority.

PACIFIC RACE

Tail-Ender On Time For Awards Fete

HONOLULU (AP)—One of the most casual boats to sail the Pacific crossed the finish line yesterday—dead last in the 21st Trans-Pacific Yacht Race.

This was the 56-foot schooner Corahleen, owned, skippered and navigated by lumberman Stanley Bishoprick of Vancouver, Wash. His six crew members included four other members of his family.

The Corahleen trailed the next to last yacht in the 41-boat race by three days, including one boat that was towed here.

But she got here in time for the big awards dinner. The Corahleen was awarded a wooden menehune (Hawaiian gremlin) for being "tail-end Charlie."

The yawl Cloud Nine, which lost both her masts and was towed in by a coast Guard cutter, arrived Sunday.

At the awards dinner, Ralph Larrabee's 161-foot schooner Goodwill, biggest boat in the race, received a trophy for first to finish.

Peter Grant's 46-foot sloop Nalu II won the major trophy for handicap winner and another award as the Class C winner. Sally Blair Ames' 75-foot schooner Constellation got the Class A award and Arnold Haskell's 66-foot yawl Chubasco won the Class B trophy. The Class D award went to Ted Stephens' 38-foot sloop Debit.

The Corahleen made the 2,225-mile crossing in an elpased time of 18 days, 8 hours and 32 minutes.

Machen Says He's Ready To Take On Johansson Again

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Heavyweight Eddie Machen, once the No. 1 challenger, neatly stopped Reuben Vargas here last night and then said he wants to fight champion Ingemar Johansson again.

Both Machen and his manager, Sid Flaherty, said he has regained the fighting form he had prior to being knocked out in the first round by Johansson last Sept. 14.

Prior to that bout, Machen was the top contender for then champion Floyd Patterson's crown. After knocking out Machen, Johansson went on to lift Patterson's title.

The fight here last night was the second meeting between Machen, who now makes his home in Portland, and Vargas, who fights out of the San Francisco area.

Last May 20 at San Francisco Machen won a unanimous decision.

Vargas had no defense for Machen's jolting left jabs and powerful rights and he seemed ready to go down in the third round.

VARGAS DROPPED

But it wasn't until the sixth, that Machen moved in to finish Vargas. Less than a minute had elapsed in that round when Machin threw a left that sent Vargas into the ropes and then dropped Vargas with a right.

Vargas lurched to his feet at the count of nine, blood running from his mouth. Vargas tried to clinch, but Machen knocked him into the ropes and belted him repeatedly until Referee Ralph Grumen stopped the bout.

Machen now has a 28-1-1 record. Vargas is 18-8.

The bout, televised nationally (ABC), drew a slim crowd of 1,418.

Green Bay Trades Marv Matuszak To Baltimore Colts

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — "Never mind that championship talk," said Weeb Ewbank of the world champion Baltimore Colts.

The pint-sized Ewbank shook his head as he said, "I've just told the boys the honeymoon is over. They've been champions from last December until today. Now it's a new shuffle and we're just looking for the best 35 players to make up a football squad."

Ewbank was talking to newsmen as the Colts checked into the Western Maryland College campus to begin their 1959 National Football League training season.

Things were hardly under way before Eubank announced the trade of Colt guard Fred Thurston for linebacker Marv Matuszak of the Green Bay Packers.

BAY AREA GAL CLAIMS FOUL IN ADAMS RACE

SEATTLE (AP)—Results of the Pacific Coast Adams Cup Sailing Championships were in doubt last night after Ricky Tracey of San Francisco claimed a foul against the winner of the third race.

Miss Tracey claimed Alice Burrows had committed a foul during the race which was postponed until dusk because of the becalmed waters of Lake Washington. Race officials took the claim under advisement.

Miss Tracey placed second to Miss Burrows. She was followed by fellow San Franciscan Nancy Rogers. Mary Davis of Seattle, winner of the first two races placed fourth.

Lack of wind forced postponement of the fourth race.

State Okays Middleweight Title Fight

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The proposed Carmen Basilio-Gene Fullmer middleweight title fight set for Aug. 28 in San Francisco has been approved by the State Athletic Commission, but a proposed welterweight title bout between Don Jordan and Art Aragon was denied.

Norman Rothschild, the Syracuse promoter, will take 60 per cent of the promoter's fees while Promoter Benny Ford and the San Francisco Boxing Club will get 40 per cent, under terms agreed to yesterday by the commission.

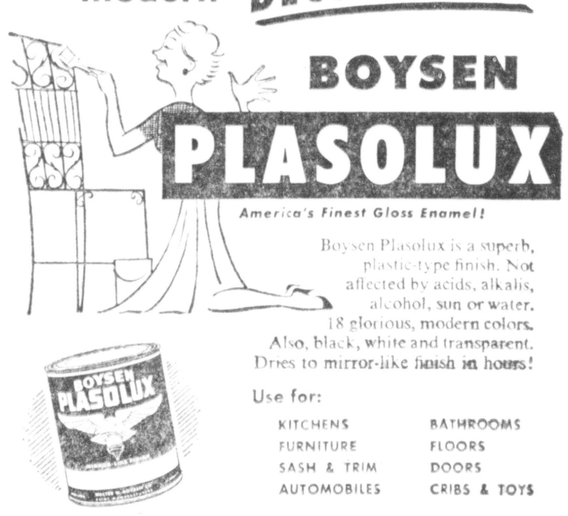

The fight will fill the vacancy in the middleweight division created when the National Boxing Assn. stripped the crown from Sugar Ray Robinson.

The proposed welterweight title fight between Jordan and challenger Aragon, once ranked No. 3 in the division, was turned down because Aragon no longer is among the top 10 rankings and hasn't met a ranked opponent recently.

It Took 'Hap' Chandler Long Time To Strike Back At Club Owners

From what the man on the radio said it seems that "Happy" Chandler, former High Commissioner of Baseball and presently the governor of Kentucky, was taking quite a whack at Ford Frick, present High Commissioner of Baseball.

CONNOLLY

According to Chandler, the game of baseball is not being operated quite according to Hoyle. Under the clammy eye of Frick, so Chandler maintains, the sport is becoming a very technical thing.

It took "Happy," a great guy, and a solid citizen, a long time to catch up with the owners who bounced him as Commissioner. One of the underlying reasons, I was told years ago, was that Mr. Chandler had a great fondness for the Kentucky Derby and of course that meant he might wager a couple of clams on a hay burner. Which in the days of Judge Landis was high treason for anybody connected with baseball to have anything to do with a sport wherein gambling played even a small part.

Chandler's beef against baseball was sort of general, but his whack at Frick was strictly his own opinion.

I DIDN'T quite agree with Chandler that Frick was misplaced. "Happy" probably forgot that Ford Frick was one of our smarter baseball critics, for many years, before he went into politics and graduated to the top spot in baseball. I daresay that Frick is much better acquainted with the techniques of baseball than Chandler ever dreamed of. But as to the other charges of Frick being a sort of rubber stamp for the owners, I am unable to verify such a report. But I doubt it.

For the sake of baseball and for the sake of the owners, it might better if they got another guy like Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the old Federal Judge, to handle their affairs.

I knew right after Landis became High Commissioner that organized baseball would never give its rights away again. The owners practically appointed their own "house dick" when Landis took over. And in a lot of ways Landis spanked the owners for their misgivings, a bit too hard.

Landis took over the job right after the 1919 scandal when club owners imagined the game was on its way out.

LANDIS straightened out the sport, even at the expense of the guys who paid his huge salary of $50,000 a year.

At the time Judge Landis was appointed High Commissioner, the "rap" was in for the slavery angle of baseball.

Landis had a lot to do with chilling the contractual row and until his death every club owner accepted his judgment as final.

Then came Chandler, the politician, who for a few years rode high, wide and handsome.

But Chandler wasn't a baseball man in any sense of the word. And he wasn't a character like Landis. Yet he inherited many of the things that made Landis supreme. So just as soon as the owners got a wedge in sideways, they tripped old Happy and slipped him a free ride down the soapy chute, and named Frick.

MAYBE CHANDLER has a beef coming. He thinks major league baseball is a monopoly because the big leaguer choke the minor league owners.

He thinks TV in minor league cities is good for the majors but bad for the minors.

A lot of things Happy Chandler thinks may be right. But to clobber baseball generally to get back at a few clubowners doesn't sound like Chandler. He was always known as a great sport. But this latest blast removes him from the list of top flight politicians and moves him back into the "also ran" class.

Green Scared Stiff In Bosox Debut

CHICAGO (AP)—"I was scared stiff. I was nervous and shaky. But I think I'll settle down and feel good now."

That is the reaction of second baseman Jerry "Pumpsie" Green who started his first major league baseball game for the Boston Red Sox yesterday.

Green, 24-year-old import from Minneapolis, replaced the ailing Pete Runnels as a starter after appearing in his first Boston game as a pinch-runner Tuesday night.

He is the Red Sox first Negro player, and was the center of a controversy when Boston shipped him to Minneapolis just before the season started. He was called up from Minneapolis Tuesday.

In his first start yesterday Green grounded out twice, lofted to center field and walked, stealing second, in four appearances. He performed well afield, handling three chances flawlessly.

"Of course, starting in the majors was the biggest thrill I ever had," he told The Associated Press in an interview. "But I was scared stiff. To tell you I wasn't, wouldn't be right. I was and I admit it.

"I certainly would like to have gotten at least one hit. But I was pretty shaky."

3 Marinites Win Prizes In D.U. Fund Campaign

Three Marin County residents won prizes last Sunday in the climax to Ducks Unlimited Inc's annual fund-raising campaign at a drawing held in San Francisco.

The lucky ticket-holders and their prizes were: Syd Boyle, Stinson Beach, Sunbeam Coffeemaker; A. Kwiathurst, Mill Valley, 10 boxes of shotgun shells; C. M. Cherrigan, Inverness, one case of champaign.

The campaign's first prize, a Pontiac automobile, was won by Frank MacBride of Sacramento.

CAL TAX MEN PREPARING FOR WORLD SERIES

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Giants or the Dodgers in the World Series?

State tax men aren't making any predictions, but they're sharpening their knives to carve out the state's share, just in case.

With the San Francisco and Los Angeles teams ranking 1-2 in the National League standings, the State Franchise Tax Board said yesterday that it's getting ready.

"It is more or less routine," said John J. Campbell, executive officer of the board. "We have had conferences with representatives of the Giants and Dodgers for the payment of corporation income taxes as California corporations."

It's necessary to do some advance planning, especially since any opponent would be from outside the state, and thus pose complicated tax problems.

Sign-Up Time For Y Camp

Registrations are open for boys between the ages of 9 and 13 for attending the YMCA resident camp in the Santa Cruz mountains, Brad Bayliss, Marin YMCA executive secretary, announced today.

He said a meeting for prospective campers and their parents will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Greenbrae School.

Sessions are planned Aug. 2 through 11. Bayliss said the sessions will be held at Camp Tolowa, which belongs to the San Francisco YMCA. It covers approximately 1,000 acres of coastal range land. The YMCA plans campfire meetings, hiking, archery, swimming and other athletic events.

Indians Find Yanks Still Team To Beat

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

You can say what you want about that American League pennant race, but as far as the Cleveland Indians are concerned, the New York Yankees still are the team to beat.

The still struggling champs, down 4-0 after five innings, knocked the Injuns out of first place for the third time this season and the second time in a week with an 8-5 victory at Cleveland last night.

That plunked the Indians a full game behind the Chicago White Sox, who climbed back on top with a 5-4 decision over Boston.

Detroit regained fifth place from Washington by beating the Senators 6-2. Kansas City edged within half a game of the sixth-place Nats with a 6-3 victory over Baltimore's third-place Orioles.

9-7 EDGE

The Yankees have won 9 of 16 games with the Indians this season and four of the last five. They're now within a game of third place.

Herb Score had the champs shut out on three hits until the sixth, when Hector Lopez hit a two-run, two-out homer. They chased the young lefty while taking a 5-4 lead in the seventh on Bobby Richardson's two-run double and a two-out single by Elston Howard. A walk and two-out singles by Richardson and Norm Sieborn put it away in the eighth.

Ryne Duron bagged his 12th save for the Yankees, giving up a run on two hits, but striking out four in three innings of relief that nailed it for Duke Maas (8-5).

Sherm Lollar and Nellis Fox each had three of the White Sox's 13 hits, with Fox scoring three runs and Lollar driving in two. It was Lollar's single that brought Fox home with the winner in the ninth to beat the Red Sox and reliever Leo Kiely (3-3). Turk Lown (6-2) won it in relief of Early Wynn.

TED HOMERS

Ted Williams hit his seventh home run of the year.

Right-hander Ray Herbert won his fifth in a row for the A's, beating the Orioles with a six-hitter for a 9-7 record. The A's clinched it on Wayne Terwilliger's squeeze bunt in the seventh.

Frank Lary (11-7), whose first homer triggered a winning, three-run seventh inning for Detroit, allowed only three hits, but needed Ray Narleski's hitless relief after Roy Sievers' 14th home run broke up his one-hit shutout in the eighth. Pete Ramos (10-1) lost it.

Early Deer Season Opens In Coastal Countis Saturday

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — About 200,000 hot weather deer hunters will tote their high-powered rifles into the steep, brushy hills of the coastal range at daylight Saturday. When the smoke clears after the final shot at sundown, Sept. 13, they probably will have killed between 20,000 and 25,000 bucks.

This year will find the earliest opening (July 25) and the longest season for the coastal hunters (53 days) in years.

Much of the forecast for the 1959 coastal season can be told from reading the reasons the season opening was advanced from the originally proposed date of Aug 8 to July 25 — hot and dry weather with a scarcity of feed and water.

The Fish and Game Commission set the season opener up two weeks because of the feed shortage. They reasoned that the heaviest kill of the early season, as well as any other season, occurs on the opening weekend. Thus if 10,000 or so deer could be removed from the ranges in late July, it would leave that much more feed for the rest of the deer.

Conditions for the early opener will be much the same as usual, only more so. Because of the shortage of food and water, legal bucks are apt to be bunched around what is available, probably at lower elevations.

Fire danger will be extreme, due to the lack of spring rainfall, warm weather in the spring and early summer and above normally hot temperatures during most of July and late June. As a result, there will be many closures and the need for extreme caution by hunters using the areas which are open.

2 BUCK LIMIT

Hunters in the early season are permitted two bucks each, with two or more points on at least one side of the antlers. The early season applies to all of Mendocino, Lake, Sonoma, Napa, Yolo, Solano, Marin, Contra Costa, Alameda, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, San Benito, Monterey, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Ventura counties. It also will be effective in parts of Humboldt, Trinity, Glenn, Colusa, San Joaquin, Stanislaus, Merced, Fresno, and Kern counties. Check hunting regulations maps for the exact location of the boundaries for the early season.

The later season in the inland-Sierra areas will open Sept. 26 and run to Nov. 1, with mostly one-buck limits in effect. The late season is about 10 days later than normal, due to fire danger, and about one week shorter. It will total only 37 days, as compared to the generous 53-day season afforded coastal hunters.

The prediction that only about one in 10 coastal hunters will bag a legal buck is based on past performances, and assuming that about half of the tag buyers will be in action sometime during the July 25-Sept. 13 period.

During the 1958 season, coastal hunters accounted for killing 20,348 bucks.

SMALL DEER

Most coastal bucks will be small, with 100-pounders above average. The law of averages says also, that of the 20,000 or so hunters who connect, nearly 15,000 will be taking home forked-horns.

The kill figures for 1958 showed 73.1 per cent of all bucks were the two-pointers, or 14,659. Another 21.1 per cent, or 4,297, were three-pointers, while the 1,029 four-pointers accounted for only 5.1 per cent of the kill; the 90 five-pointers made up only 0.5 per cent; and the trophy-racked bucks with more than five points, numbering 31, were only .02 per cent of the coastal total.

JACK HANLEY'S REPORT

See Giants, Dodgers In Race To The Wire

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

SEALS STADIUM — Perhaps it is due to the fact that the Dodgers just concluded their most recent visit to Seals Stadium, but the talk of the fans is that the 1959 National League pennant will be won by the Dodgers or the Giants.

An all-California down-to-the-wire finish would be a real dipsy-do affair with the natural rivalry between the northern and southern sections of the state and the age-old rivalry which the Giants and Dodgers brought with them in their move from the east to the west coast last year.

As the two-game Dodger-Giant series concluded Tuesday, one of the Los Angeles sports writers with the Dodger ball club waved goodbye to the Giant delegation of baseball reporters with this comment:

"If we don't win it, I hope you do. Let's keep it in California."

It was a gracious remark which received affable and good-natured replies wishing the Dodgers success provided the Giants were unable to turn the trick.

A WORLD SERIES in California would be the biggest sports event ever to be staged in the far west. Maybe some old, old-timers will dispute that by recalling the championship fights at the turn of the century in Colma.

Even some of the young, old-timers might dispute that by recalling memorable Cal-USC, Cal-UCLA, Stanford-USC or Stanford-UCLA football games. And there are the recent pro football fans who might point to tense games between the 49ers and Rams.

THERE ARE still other ardent sports advocates who might be inclined to put up an argument in behalf of the 1932 Olympic games in the Los Angeles Coliseum or the great tennis rivalry between Bill Tilden and Little Bill Johnston.

But compared with a World Series baseball rivalry, these bygone sports dramas seem to be second-rate or, at least, not entitled to top billing alongside the classic of all sports.

However, before there is any World Series in either the southern or northern part of the state some unfinished business with the Braves and Pirates must receive the attention of the Giants and Dodgers.

Even the Cubs and Cardinals feel that the pennant still is up for grabs, which it certainly is, but seemingly out of their reach. The Cards, a pushover during early season games, have pulled themselves up from the cellar in admirable fashion. The Cubs, a .500 ball club at the start, still are a .500 club.

The Redlegs and Phillies are the only teams that are in hopeless pursuit and without the necessary equipment to make a spectacular come-on finish. But both of these tailend clubs are going to be spoilers for some of those up front.

LOOK OUT for the Braves if Wes Covington starts hitting and ditto for the Pirates if Billy Virdon and Bob Skinner do the same. Virdon beat the Giants with a home run last Sunday, his first hitting contribution to a Pirate victory in some time.

Why Fred Haney keeps Covington in the clean-up spot behind Billy Bruton, Eddie Mathews and Hank Aaron when his RBI record is a miserable 31 or so this season, as contrasted with 74 last year, is a real puzzler.

But don't say that in a loud voice because Haney might bat him second and give clean-up chores to Mathews who can take care of them.

N. J. Socialite Beauty Missing In Mystery

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI)—A nationwide alarm was out today for a 21-year-old socialite beauty who disappeared at Newark Airport late Tuesday after kissing her fiance goodby at a plane gate.

Jacqueline Gay Hart, a 1955 debutante who was graduated from college in June and was to have been married in just five weeks, apparently never reached her graduation-present car, found parked in a brightly lighted area just 50 feet from the entrance to the airport terminal.

The only apparent clue to her fate was the report of her fiance, Stanley Noyes Gaines, 25, that he saw four or five "hoodlums" follow the small blonde from the airplane departure gate.

The youths, described only as having ducktail haircuts, were also seen by others, and are being sought by police for questioning. But their known activity only served to compound the mystery. The car they were believed to have been driving also was found abandoned at the airport.

JACQUELINE G. HART
'Hoodlums' were seen

Miss Hart is the daughter of Ralph A. Hart, executive vice president of Colgate-Palmolive Co. She had driven Gaines, son of wealthy Fayetteville, W.Va., coal operator L. Emersole Gaines, to the airport from her family's home.

Mass Walkout For Castro Idles Havana

HAVANA (UPI) — Havana, a city of more than a million people, and the rest of Cuba were paralyzed for one hour today by a strike called by organized labor to demand the return of Fidel Castro to power.

Exactly at 10 a.m. Havana time, the whole city's working force, with the exception of those persons in the most urgent jobs, walked out.

Roadblocks were erected throughout the city to prevent movement of any traffic and the quiet was broken only by the conversation of workers idling in the streets and sporadic parades of individuals demanding that Castro return to power.

McKAY'S EYES PROVIDE NEW SIGHT FOR TWO

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Former Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay, who died yesterday at Salem, Ore., willed his eyes to an eye bank here.

They provided new sight for two persons last night.

Shortly after his death in a Salem hospital, a physician removed the eyes of the former Oregon governor.

Then the eyes were taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital eye bank here and examined. Later the corneas were transplanted, one to each of two persons.

Each of those recipients previously had a bad eye, said Frank Walter, the hospital's administrator.

Grand Jurors To Hear Of Contra Costa Vice

RICHMOND (AP)—An undercover investigation into vice and gambling in Contra Costa County is under way.

The county's grand jury is to hear evidence Monday.

Dist. Atty. John A. Nejedly said four sheriff's deputies have been subpoenaed.

Gambling joints in North Richmond and outside the Concord city limits plus mushrooming of cash payoffs for pinball machines were among the reports coming from Nejedly's office.

He said "prostitution was getting organized."

Sheriff Walter F. Young declared he was "100 per cent behind each and every one of my men."

His undersheriff, Harry Ramsey, minimized the reports of gambling and prostitution and stressed the sheriff's vice squad consisted of only one man.

"We have 665 square miles of unincorporated area in our jurisdiction. And we have only 41 patrol deputies to cover this in three shifts over a 24-hour period," Ramsey said.

Novato Educational Council Will Meet

Members of the Novato Advisory Council for Education will meet July 30 at 8 p.m. at Novato High School to discuss educational problems.

Subjects to be discussed include: "Competition as a motivation for learning;" "School responsibility;" "Grouping of children according to ability," and "Problem of teachers."

California Coed Wins Title Of Miss U.S.A.

LONG BEACH (UPI)—Miss California, Terry Lynn Huntingdon, a 19-year-old UCLA coed who refuses to give up college for an acting career, is the new Miss U.S.A.

The green-eyed dark-haired beauty from Mount Shasta, Siskiyou County, won the title last night over four blondes in the final round at Municipal Auditorium and will represent the United States against 33 foreign contestants in competition for the Miss Universe title which gets under way tonight. Miss Universe will be chosen tomorrow night.

Runnersup in the finals were Miss Texas, Carelgean Douglas, 20; Miss Florida, Nanita Greene, 21; Miss Georgia, Dorothy Gladys Taylor, 18, and Miss New York, Arlene Nesbitt, 21.

Miss Huntingdon, who wore a pink bathing suit when the award was announced, said:

"I though for sure that Texas would win from the first day I saw her."

Asked if she would quit school to accept an acting career, she replied:

"If they let me go back to school I'd take a movie contract. But I'm not quitting school for anybody. I'm majoring in dance. If, after I finish school, there is still an acting career ahead of me I will consider it."

Franciscan Order Invests Marinite

Albert De Rosa, former Kentfield mail carrier, was invested as a Franciscan brother on Sunday at St. Francis Retreat in San Juan Bautista.

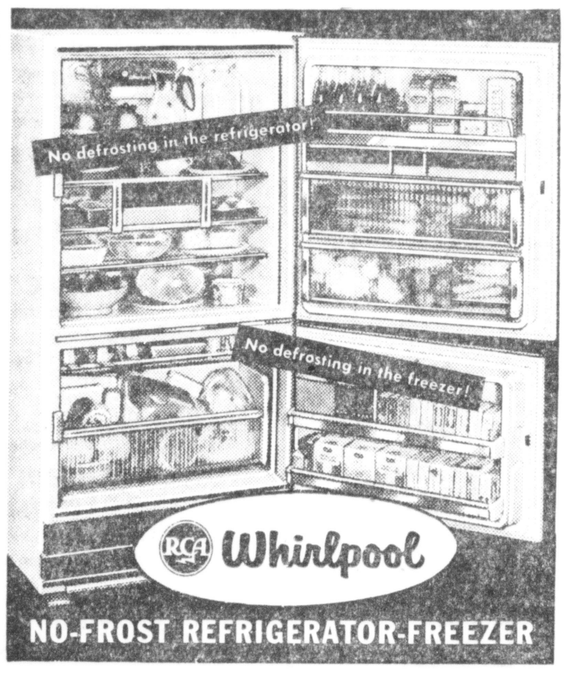

Attending the investiture were his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John H. De Rosa of San Rafael. The senior De Rosa is a retired Borden Dairy delivery driver now employed as a Marin County building maintenance man. Mrs. Lidia Pinheiro of Santa Cruz, a former San Rafael resident, accompanied the senior De Rosa's to the investiture.

Albert De Rosa henceforth will be known as Brother Regis, O.F.M. He is the brother of John De Rosa of Novato, a correctional officer at San Quentin Prison.

MISS CALIFORNIA

Fashion Show Set In Novato Sunday

A dozen of California's loveliest ladies, including Miss California, will model the latest in fashions in a show that is open to the public Sunday, July 26. The show will be held at Marin Golf and Country Club Estates' swimming pool and recreation area in Novato at 4 p.m. The commentator will be Don Steward, TV and radio personality.

Miss California, Susan Diane Bronson, heads the cast of beauties under the direction of Sarah Campbell, fashion coordinator of San Rafael. The singing stars Roy and Lisa Johnson will also appear.

In addition to Miss California, there will be Miss Palo Alto, Patricia Gullison and twin, Leisha Gullison; Miss San Francisco, Sharrill Ann Smith; Miss Marin, Tami Evans; Miss San Jose, Kathryn Ann Harrington; Miss Oakland, Patty Callahan; Miss Sonoma, Chonnen May Patton; Miss Contra Costa, Jo Ellen Fisher; Miss Hayward, Sandra Lee Dorsise; Miss San Mateo, Louise Saylor; Miss Solano County, Charlotte Joan Wood, and Miss San Leandro, Judi McGinnis.

The fashion show is highlight of an open house the object of which is to introduce the public to the new, furnished model homes in Marin Golf and Country Club Estates in Novato. The homes flank the 18-hole golf course and are designed particularly for those families that like plenty of outdoor activities.

THESE THREE will be the feature attractions on Sunday at a fashion show to be held at the Marin Golf and Country Club Estates in Novato. In the center is Miss California, Susan Bronson, with TV and radio personality Don Steward at the left, and fashion coordinator Sarah Campbell at the right. The fashion show will feature the latest fashions with 12 of California's loveliest ladies including Miss California as models. The show, open to the public, will begin at 4 o'clock. League Lists Next-To-New Shop Hours

The "best buys in town" will be featured at the Next-To-New Shop, 2216 Fillmore street between Clay and Sacramento, San Francisco starting Monday, July 27 through Saturday, Aug. 1.

All clothes and accessories, at the store with the red and white awning, will be for sale at 50 per cent below their regular price. Hours are Monday, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.; Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Staffed by members of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., who donate clothing in good condition, the shop has for the past 10 years been offering men's, women's and children's apparel, as well as millinery and accessories, at bargain prices. It is possible to pick up an almost new designer's dress or even a brand new frock at a fraction of the original cost. Proceeds from the shop go to support the Bay Area community projects of the Junior League.

Cotton dresses, men's suits, evening wear for both men and women, and wedding gowns are among the outstanding sale items, as well as other clothes for all occasions, sizes and shapes.

The shop will be closed during August and on Sept. 8 will reopen with a brand "new" collection of attractive merchandise. Mrs. Joseph V. Costello Jr. is chairman of the Next-To-New Shop.

CYO Will Sponsor 'Buttons And Bows'

Instead of the regular CYO meeting, Monday night, July 27, a dance entitled "Buttons and Bows" will be held. It will be from 8 to 11 p.m. at Our Lady of Loretto Catholic Parish hall in Novato.

Committee members working on the dance are Tess Hendricks, Anne Bettis, Bonnie Jackson, Jeanne Lutzi, Gail Coniglio, Judy Tyroler, Kathy Walsh, Elana Dyckman, and John Picchi.

GUESTS FLY FROM NEBRASKA FOR PARTY IN SAN ANSELMO

Three guests at the surprise dinner party given for Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Scott of San Anselmo on their twenty-ninth wedding anniversary, Tuesday night, flew from Omaha, Neb. to join in the celebration and flew home yesterday. The three, Mrs. Julie Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wollen have known Mr. and Mrs. Scott for many years and the Wollens have celebrated the Scotts' wedding anniversary with them for 21 years. They flew out last year for the event. Mr. and Mrs. Scott came to Marin from Omaha two and a half years ago. Their twenty-fifth anniversary celebration was a spectacular affair with 500 guests in attendance. Also present at Tuesday night's celebration were Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer now of Covina, Calif., formerly of Palmer, Neb., whom the Scotts had not seen since they left Omaha.

The surprise was arranged by the Scotts' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gale Mosier of Kentfield. Knowing the Scotts were going out on their boat, a 28-foot Hunter cruiser, on a "farewell" trip on Tuesday, the Mosiers asked them to be at home by 6:30 p.m. as they had something "to discuss." The Scotts have sold the Hunter but intend to get another boat.

When the Scotts arrived home they were greeted not only by the Mosiers and their children, Michael, Scott and Denise but by the Palmers, Wollens and Mrs. Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Paul of Fairfax and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne K. Ellerman of San Anselmo.

From the Scotts' other daughter, Mrs. E. L. Vincent, who with her husband and three children, lives in Omaha, came a message of congratulation.

Practical Way To Beat The Heat

Here's a practical hot weather tip. Tear off five or six Kleenex towels from the roll in the kitchen and stuff them in the pocket of your work clothes before beginning your outdoor gardening or other weekend chores.

They're useful when perspiration drips on your eye glasses, or stings your eyes when mowing or spading. Their larger size makes them better for this purpose than tissues.

Women use them in the kitchen, too, for quick "mop ups" of face, hands and arms while doing the family ironing on a hot day. They're clean and dry, absorb prespiration quickly and can be thrown away after use.

'Wipers' Are Needed Inside Car, Too

No one can resist an ice cream stand on a leisurely Sunday drive—especially the kids.

To prevent the car upholstery from getting stained, tuck a box of paper napkins in the dashboard compartment. Or make it half a box, if the space is crowded.

WARD HOME

Guild Party Held In Kent Woodlands

The Powder Puff Guild of Sunny Hills held its annual fund raising cocktail party recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ward of Kent Woodlands with 186 guests present.

Mrs. John Ward (Kay) and Mrs. Harding McPhun (Robert A.) received at the door. Kay Ward, lovely in figured silk, and Roberta McPhun, stunning in a white lace topped sheath, over which she later donned a lace lined white fox trimmed cashmere.

The Ward home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with massive arrangements of bird of paradise and gladioli.

White was a great favorite with the ladies. Among those wearing white: Mesdames Henry Skinner in a low back pleated crepe; Simon Anixter in a raw silk sheath; Rudy Lang, lovely in a draped sheath over which she wore a white fox trimmed cashmere; Floyd Gilman in a dynasty silk shirtwaist; Leon Smith in white crepe turquoise and white cashmere; Mel Baruh in raw silk with dark printed cummerbund and George Schirmer, white linen with velvet ribbon entwined in her hair.

Mrs. Irving Lyons wearing raspberry raw silk. Mrs. Paul Spengler in pale blue dynasty silk chinese style shirtwaist. Mrs. Thomas Brennan, lovely in beige embroidered organdie and beige jeweled veil on her blonde hair. Mrs. Horace Seaman also in beige with matching beige fox trimmed sweater. Mrs. John O'Connell in blue and pink sari sheath with matching short coat, and Mrs. Edward Mahoney in waterlily green print with shoes to match. Mrs. Robert Rothschild lovely in turquoise blue which complemented her tan. Mrs. Edgar Lindner in a black sheath with large white organdy collar and Mrs. Robert Grady in black linen appliqued with pink, and matching sweater. Mrs. Robert Quinlan in white embroidered in pale blue with matching sweater and a blue maline bow in her hair.

Seen in the crowd: Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Griffin and Edward Douglas over from San Francisco; Dr. and Mrs. Harold Essner. Messrs. and Mesdames Carl Bach, George Fay, Dan Sweeney Jr., Frank Dettner, Richard Tissott, Rowland Chapman, Wallace Hickman, Mel Wolf, Oliver Lombardi and Jack Gilman.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCollum attended with the J. D. O'Briens. Mrs. McCollum is Jerry O'Brien's sister and they are visiting from New York. Also visiting is Mrs. Elmer Speers who was the guest of the Rudy Langs. Mrs. Speers is Mrs. Lang's sister and is here from Arizona for a few weeks with her two children and they are houseguests of the Langs.

Walter Tait flew in that morning from the Islands, bringing beautiful fresh flower leis to his hostess, Mrs. Watson Bray, who distributed them to her guests.

Former Guild members, Mrs. Sam Schonwasser and Mrs. Harry Hensler enjoying the party wih their husbands.

S-Napkin Service

New and popular for speedy table setting at backyard or porch meals this summer are the unique boxes in which quality paper napkins now come. Each box converts into two Table Server cartons containing 50 pre-folded table napkins. The dispensers are attractive enough to set on your table.

Marin Women

Members' Daughters Brighten Northgate Group Luncheon

The second generation of the Northgate Group, sponsors of weekly summer luncheons at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross for thirteen years, was given its pony-tailed head yesterday when the teenage daughters of Northgate members were fully recognized as responsible volunteer waitresses at the opening event of the 1959 series.

In keeping with the "Salute to Hawaii" theme, the young girls wore colorful leis to accent their favored shirtmaker frocks or to top traditional Hawaiian costumes.

Under the chairmanship of Mesdames Aaron Kessler, Jay Hale, Harvie Freed (all three wearing fresh leis brought from Honolulu for the occasion by Mrs. Kessler a few days ago), the following Northgate daughters lent a new and light touch as they served:

Sue Buresh, Sue Jeffries, Sandy Hodgson, Lynn Cary, Gwen Morden, Jan Siemans, Susan Kane, Nora and Judy Baird, Pat Mahoney, Debbie Chamberlain, Ellen Costello, Peggy Poeschl, Pat Hickman, Cecille Geramoni, Kathy Walsh, Linda Michelotti.

Also serving was Miss Libby Lewis, fiancee of David Burmester, son of Mrs. Melvin Duncan who is general chairman of the luncheons this year.

Northgate mothers and friends joined the youngsters and gave friendly advice. They included Mesdames Ralston Hodgson, Donald L. Jeffries, George Geramoni, Charles Rosenbaum, James K. Peters, Francis L. Auger, Forest Williams, Richard Kure, Peter Barnato, Ben Morden, Allen Zeiss, William Cuneo, John Siemans, Roger Kane, A. C. Daniels, Balfour Jones.

The three hundred guests were welcomed by Northgate President Mrs. Andrew Halley. A message from the Honorable William F. Quinn, governor of Hawaii to Mrs. Duncan was read by Mrs. Halley. In his letter from the Iolani Palace, Honolulu, Governor Quinn said:

"Greetings from the 50th State! We thank you for honoring the State of Hawaii at your July 22 luncheon at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. Our traditional hospitality awaits all who come to our shores."

Large and small parties enjoyed the perfect weather in a charming outdoor setting under the trees, all to soft Hawaiian music. Following luncheon, Robert Kuala and his dance group entertained with a program of ancient and modern hulas.

Mrs. Frank C. Stratford and Mrs. Wallace Scott, both founders of the Northgate Group, were honored at a gala table for 65 Northgate members. Be sides Mrs. Jack Hunt and Mrs. Ralph Alden, "old-time Northgate members" who arranged the salute to Mrs. Stratford and Mrs. Scott, such early workers in the development of the group as the following were at the table: Mesdames H. Wallace Hickman, Leon Smith, Edgar Lindner, John Kirkpatrick, Hammond E. Wright, Arthur Feidler, Rolla Hess.

Among others at a table where Mrs. Frank Howard Allen and her sister Mrs. Uda Waldrop entertained were noted Mrs. Albert J. Evers and Mrs. Harold Fletcher. Others entertaining friends included Mrs. John Dowling, Mrs. Wallace Myers, Mrs. Harrison Leppo, Mrs. Lawrence McNear and Mrs. Fred Figone.

Hostesses for the punch table were Mesdames Henry Drath, Lowden Jessup, E. W. Landram.

Mrs. William Cuneo, table decorations chairman, added to the originality and color of the event with her pineapple and Hawaiian foliage centerpieces.

As is the usual custom at the summer luncheons, a fashion show will be presented at next week's event, July 29. Guide Dogs for the Blind and the Humane Society will present the show featuring fashions by the Tiki Sho and Kathleen Dowd.

Reservations for the event, which is open to the public, may be made by calling the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross.

League Lists Next-To-New Shop Hours

The "best buys in town" will be featured at the Next-To-New Shop, 2216 Fillmore street between Clay and Sacramento, San Francisco starting Monday, July 27 through Saturday, Aug. 1.

All clothes and accessories, at the store with the red and white awning, will be for sale at 50 per cent below their regular price. Hours are Monday, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.; Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Staffed by members of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., who donate clothing in good condition, the shop has for the past 10 years been offering men's, women's and children's apparel, as well as millinery and accessories, at bargain prices. It is possible to pick up an almost new designer's dress or even a brand new frock at a fraction of the original cost. Proceeds from the shop go to support the Bay Area community projects of the Junior League.

Cotton dresses, men's suits, evening wear for both men and women, and wedding gowns are among the outstanding sale items, as well as other clothes for all occasions, sizes and shapes.

The shop will be closed during August and on Sept. 8 will reopen with a brand "new" collection of attractive merchandise. Mrs. Joseph V. Costello Jr. is chairman of the Next-To-New Shop.

CYO Will Sponsor 'Buttons And Bows'

Instead of the regular CYO meeting, Monday night, July 27, a dance entitled "Buttons and Bows" will be held. It will be from 8 to 11 p.m. at Our Lady of Loretto Catholic Parish hall in Novato.

Committee members working on the dance are Tess Hendricks, Anne Bettis, Bonnie Jackson, Jeanne Lutzi, Gail Coniglio, Judy Tyroler, Kathy Walsh, Elana Dyckman, and John Picchi.

GUESTS FLY FROM NEBRASKA FOR PARTY IN SAN ANSELMO

Three guests at the surprise dinner party given for Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Scott of San Anselmo on their twenty-ninth wedding anniversary, Tuesday night, flew from Omaha, Neb. to join in the celebration and flew home yesterday. The three, Mrs. Julie Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wollen have known Mr. and Mrs. Scott for many years and the Wollens have celebrated the Scotts' wedding anniversary with them for 21 years. They flew out last year for the event. Mr. and Mrs. Scott came to Marin from Omaha two and a half years ago. Their twenty-fifth anniversary celebration was a spectacular affair with 500 guests in attendance. Also present at Tuesday night's celebration were Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer now of Covina, Calif., formerly of Palmer, Neb., whom the Scotts had not seen since they left Omaha.

The surprise was arranged by the Scotts' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gale Mosier of Kentfield. Knowing the Scotts were going out on their boat, a 28-foot Hunter cruiser, on a "farewell" trip on Tuesday, the Mosiers asked them to be at home by 6:30 p.m. as they had something "to discuss." The Scotts have sold the Hunter but intend to get another boat.

When the Scotts arrived home they were greeted not only by the Mosiers and their children, Michael, Scott and Denise but by the Palmers, Wollens and Mrs. Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Paul of Fairfax and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne K. Ellerman of San Anselmo.

From the Scotts' other daughter, Mrs. E. L. Vincent, who with her husband and three children, lives in Omaha, came a message of congratulation.

Practical Way To Beat The Heat

Here's a practical hot weather tip. Tear off five or six Kleenex towels from the roll in the kitchen and stuff them in the pocket of your work clothes before beginning your outdoor gardening or other weekend chores.

They're useful when perspiration drips on your eye glasses, or stings your eyes when mowing or spading. Their larger size makes them better for this purpose than tissues.

Women use them in the kitchen, too, for quick "mop ups" of face, hands and arms while doing the family ironing on a hot day. They're clean and dry, absorb prespiration quickly and can be thrown away after use.

'Wipers' Are Needed Inside Car, Too

No one can resist an ice cream stand on a leisurely Sunday drive—especially the kids.

To prevent the car upholstery from getting stained, tuck a box of paper napkins in the dashboard compartment. Or make it half a box, if the space is crowded.

WARD HOME

Guild Party Held In Kent Woodlands

The Powder Puff Guild of Sunny Hills held its annual fund raising cocktail party recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ward of Kent Woodlands with 186 guests present.

Mrs. John Ward (Kay) and Mrs. Harding McPhun (Robert A.) received at the door. Kay Ward, lovely in figured silk, and Roberta McPhun, stunning in a white lace topped sheath, over which she later donned a lace lined white fox trimmed cashmere.

The Ward home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with massive arrangements of bird of paradise and gladioli.

White was a great favorite with the ladies. Among those wearing white: Mesdames Henry Skinner in a low back pleated crepe; Simon Anixter in a raw silk sheath; Rudy Lang, lovely in a draped sheath over which she wore a white fox trimmed cashmere; Floyd Gilman in a dynasty silk shirtwaist; Leon Smith in white crepe turquoise and white cashmere; Mel Baruh in raw silk with dark printed cummerbund and George Schirmer, white linen with velvet ribbon entwined in her hair.

Mrs. Irving Lyons wearing raspberry raw silk. Mrs. Paul Spengler in pale blue dynasty silk chinese style shirtwaist. Mrs. Thomas Brennan, lovely in beige embroidered organdie and beige jeweled veil on her blonde hair. Mrs. Horace Seaman also in beige with matching beige fox trimmed sweater. Mrs. John O'Connell in blue and pink sari sheath with matching short coat, and Mrs. Edward Mahoney in waterlily green print with shoes to match. Mrs. Robert Rothschild lovely in turquoise blue which complemented her tan. Mrs. Edgar Lindner in a black sheath with large white organdy collar and Mrs. Robert Grady in black linen appliqued with pink, and matching sweater. Mrs. Robert Quinlan in white embroidered in pale blue with matching sweater and a blue maline bow in her hair.

Seen in the crowd: Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Griffin and Edward Douglas over from San Francisco; Dr. and Mrs. Harold Essner. Messrs. and Mesdames Carl Bach, George Fay, Dan Sweeney Jr., Frank Dettner, Richard Tissott, Rowland Chapman, Wallace Hickman, Mel Wolf, Oliver Lombardi and Jack Gilman.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCollum attended with the J. D. O'Briens. Mrs. McCollum is Jerry O'Brien's sister and they are visiting from New York. Also visiting is Mrs. Elmer Speers who was the guest of the Rudy Langs. Mrs. Speers is Mrs. Lang's sister and is here from Arizona for a few weeks with her two children and they are houseguests of the Langs.

Walter Tait flew in that morning from the Islands, bringing beautiful fresh flower leis to his hostess, Mrs. Watson Bray, who distributed them to her guests.

Former Guild members, Mrs. Sam Schonwasser and Mrs. Harry Hensler enjoying the party wih their husbands.

S-Napkin Service

New and popular for speedy table setting at backyard or porch meals this summer are the unique boxes in which quality paper napkins now come. Each box converts into two Table Server cartons containing 50 pre-folded table napkins. The dispensers are attractive enough to set on your table.

Members' Daughters Brighten Northgate Group Luncheon

The second generation of the Northgate Group, sponsors of weekly summer luncheons at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross for thirteen years, was given its pony-tailed head yesterday when the teenage daughters of Northgate members were fully recognized as responsible volunteer waitresses at the opening event of the 1959 series.

In keeping with the "Salute to Hawaii" theme, the young girls wore colorful leis to accent their favored shirtmaker frocks or to top traditional Hawaiian costumes.

Under the chairmanship of Mesdames Aaron Kessler, Jay Hale, Harvie Freed (all three wearing fresh leis brought from Honolulu for the occasion by Mrs. Kessler a few days ago), the following Northgate daughters lent a new and light touch as they served:

Sue Buresh, Sue Jeffries, Sandy Hodgson, Lynn Cary, Gwen Morden, Jan Siemans, Susan Kane, Nora and Judy Baird, Pat Mahoney, Debbie Chamberlain, Ellen Costello, Peggy Poeschl, Pat Hickman, Cecille Geramoni, Kathy Walsh, Linda Michelotti.

Also serving was Miss Libby Lewis, fiancee of David Burmester, son of Mrs. Melvin Duncan who is general chairman of the luncheons this year.

Northgate mothers and friends joined the youngsters and gave friendly advice. They included Mesdames Ralston Hodgson, Donald L. Jeffries, George Geramoni, Charles Rosenbaum, James K. Peters, Francis L. Auger, Forest Williams, Richard Kure, Peter Barnato, Ben Morden, Allen Zeiss, William Cuneo, John Siemans, Roger Kane, A. C. Daniels, Balfour Jones.

The three hundred guests were welcomed by Northgate President Mrs. Andrew Halley. A message from the Honorable William F. Quinn, governor of Hawaii to Mrs. Duncan was read by Mrs. Halley. In his letter from the Iolani Palace, Honolulu, Governor Quinn said:

"Greetings from the 50th State! We thank you for honoring the State of Hawaii at your July 22 luncheon at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. Our traditional hospitality awaits all who come to our shores."

Large and small parties enjoyed the perfect weather in a charming outdoor setting under the trees, all to soft Hawaiian music. Following luncheon, Robert Kuala and his dance group entertained with a program of ancient and modern hulas.

Mrs. Frank C. Stratford and Mrs. Wallace Scott, both founders of the Northgate Group, were honored at a gala table for 65 Northgate members. Be sides Mrs. Jack Hunt and Mrs. Ralph Alden, "old-time Northgate members" who arranged the salute to Mrs. Stratford and Mrs. Scott, such early workers in the development of the group as the following were at the table: Mesdames H. Wallace Hickman, Leon Smith, Edgar Lindner, John Kirkpatrick, Hammond E. Wright, Arthur Feidler, Rolla Hess.

Among others at a table where Mrs. Frank Howard Allen and her sister Mrs. Uda Waldrop entertained were noted Mrs. Albert J. Evers and Mrs. Harold Fletcher. Others entertaining friends included Mrs. John Dowling, Mrs. Wallace Myers, Mrs. Harrison Leppo, Mrs. Lawrence McNear and Mrs. Fred Figone.

Hostesses for the punch table were Mesdames Henry Drath, Lowden Jessup, E. W. Landram.

Mrs. William Cuneo, table decorations chairman, added to the originality and color of the event with her pineapple and Hawaiian foliage centerpieces.

As is the usual custom at the summer luncheons, a fashion show will be presented at next week's event, July 29. Guide Dogs for the Blind and the Humane Society will present the show featuring fashions by the Tiki Sho and Kathleen Dowd.

Reservations for the event, which is open to the public, may be made by calling the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross.

Salt, Pepper Tweeds Highlight Collection

By SUE CARDOZO

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Salt and pepper tweeds seasoned for differing palates have been featured throughout the Italian fashions now being shown for fall and winter. But nowhere have they seemed more appetizing than in coats seen in Veneziani's collection.

Some were more salty than peppery, others vice versa. Some were supple and whiskery, others shaven or gnarled. There was plenty to suit the taste of everyone among the slim, belted Veneziani coats.

One was reversible, with shaggy white fleece on one side and salt and peper tweed on the other. Underneath was a shaggy white blouse and tweed skirt to match either reversal.

Fur hats and fur pocketbooks spiced Veneziani's suits, which were mostly long-jacketed and belted, the prevailing trend. Layered skirts were seen among the collection's dresses.

The best thing about the Guidi collection shown at the Pitti Palace was an ensemble of salt and pepper tweed. The dress was straight-belted, the box-buttoned coat lined in bright red and slit at the sides and center into high-flying panels.

Another standout in Guidi's otherwise unspectacular collection was an emerald green raw silk ball gown, full length and full in the back. It had a high standup collar, plunging over the shoulder and down the back.

Men's fashions by Brioni included such things as felt-covered buttons on a glen plaid suit and a silk blazer striped in navy blue and olive green. He also showed a double-breasted blazer with white saddle stitching and a striped tweed sports jackets with two vents and no lapels.

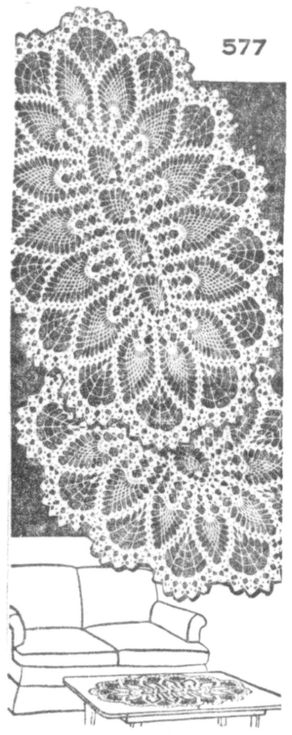

Emilio Schuberth's collection lived up to his reputation for frills and furbelows. He startled the fashion audience with hobble skirts, puffed peplums, shirring, tucking, embroidery and beads.

A choice number was a tight grey redingote bound in black velvet, trimmed with white leather collar and cuffs and worn with a white fox stole. Mae West would love it.

Carosa's collection featured a dropped shoulder and straight back skirts, slightly full in front. Carosa's conservative bent was reflected in hemlines which covered the knee, and cautious styling that made even the most elaborate brocades appear sedate.

Be Prepared For Highway Emergencies

Carry an old shower curtain or rug with you on vaction or long motor trips this summer.

It will protect your clothes if misfortune strikes and you have to change a flat tire or effect emergency repairs to your car.

In fixing the flat tire, lay the spare wheel directly behind the flat tire, then run the flat up on the inflated tire of the spare wheel and set the brake. The extra height thus gained makes it easier to place the jack under the axle or bumper.

If you're a damsel in distress looking for help in changing a flat, place the spare wheel on the road side of the car. It stands out as a signal.

And before you leave home, be sure the spare tire is properly inflated and in good condition and that you have all the proper tools in working order—jack, screwdriver, lug wrench flashlight, pliers.

Officers' Wives Host Party At Sonoma Hospital

Six Hamilton Air Force Base Officers' Wives gave a party last week in one of the wards for boys at Sonoma State Hospital. It was the first party this ward has been given. Approximately 105 boys are in the ward.

Refreshments, donated by officers' wives, of cupcakes and punch were served following games and singing conducted by the women.

Mrs. John H. Parratt, Sonoma Hospital chairman for the Officers' Wives Club, asks that anyone having MJB coffee-can bands which may be redeemed for an institutional size coffee maker, that they wish to donate to contact her. The OWC is collecting them in order to give this size coffee-maker to the hospital.

Mrs. Parratt also states that anyone wishing to donate gym and playground equipment, spring mounted hobby horses or roller skates to the hospital may contact her. She makes her home in Novato.

Those giving the party were Mesdames Merlin Chandi, Ronold Layton, Jack Clark, Peter Sammett, Rupert Welsh and Parratt.

Mrs. Clapp In East

Mrs. Lewis A. Clapp flew east today to visit her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Riegle, and her five children, in Columbus, Ga. for a week. On return, Mrs. Clapp, newly-elected president of the San Rafael Improvement Club, will prepare her list of chairmen of standing committees and make preparations for the opening meeting of the club year in September.

Garden Tea To Fete Mrs. Clement Miller

Democratic Women of Marin will honor Mrs. Clement W. Miller, wife of the First District Democratic Congressman, at an afternon garden tea on Thursday, July 30. Hostess for the afternoon will be Mrs. F. F. Weiss, Clyde avenue, San Rafael.

Mrs. Herbert Appenzeller of San Rafael is chairman of the tea committee. She has asked Mrs. Fred Smith, National Committee woman from California and Mrs. Samuel Swadesh, First District co-chairman to assist at the tea table. In the receiving line with Mrs. Miller, according to Mrs. Appenzeller, will be Mrs. Vera Schultz, Marin County Supervisor, and Mrs. Weiss.

Special guests from San Francisco who will attend the affair are Mrs. Jack Morrison, Vice-president of the Northern Division, Democratic State Central Committee, and Mrs. Donald Shaskin, chairman of Women's activities, Northern Division.

Assisting Mrs. Appenzeller with tea arrangements are the following Marin Democratic Women: Mesdames Harold Watkin, Kentfield; Harry Black, Corte Madera; Wyman Hicks, Sausalito; Kenneth Nelson, Mill Valley; Oliver Smith, Tiburon; Joseph Guthrie, Ross; Fred Volz, Novato; Peter Krug, Larkspur; and Peter Diffley and William Deaver, San Rafael.

Grandmothers Club Has Picnic At Ranch

The ranch of Mrs. Ethel Murphy on Atherton avenue in Novato was a delightful setting for the annual picnic of Novamarin Grandmothers Club on Sunday. A pot luck luncheon was served and entertainment included games and the showing of pictures of Mrs. Murphy's Caribbean cruise. Cohostesses were Mrs. James Silk and Mrs. Ross Stangle. Twenty-five guests, including husbands of members, attended.

The next meeting will be Sept. 9 at the home of the president, Mrs. Lawrence Schmidt of Novato.

Scat Moth

Moths will stay out of your clothes closet if you wipe the floor with a cloth that has been moistened with turpentine.

Mrs. Maxim Schapiro Specializes In Music To Rehabilitate Blind

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Mrs. Maxim Schapiro of Mill Valley, who is well known in Marin social and music circles, has an accomplishment that is most unusual.

She is a specialist in the use of music to help rehabilitate the blind.

Jane Eddy Schapiro used the material she gathered over a number of years employing the piano in this work as the basis for the thesis she wrote for the doctorate degree in education she received from Columbia University, New York.

And she has kept up this interest by doing volunteer work at the San Francisco Center for the Blind and working with individual cases.

Music has played a major role in her life, for she received both her bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees, with majors in music, from Mills College. She studied there under Darius Milhaud and is an accomplished cellist.

As wife of Mill Valley's late concert pianist, Maxim Schapiro, she traveled all over Europe and South America with him on his concert tours and was active on the Board of the Mill Valley Concert Series, which he founded 11 years ago.

Artist appearing in the Mill Valley Concert Series also appeared on an Alaskan circuit Schapiro founded, and Jane Schapiro will carry on her husband's work in this field.

Jane Eddy was born in Colby, Kansas, the county seat of Thomas County, which is the largest wheat producing center in the United States. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gates Eddy, and her grandparents were pioneer Kansas homesteaders.

She attended junior high and was graduated from East Denver High School in Colorado before entering Mills College on a scholarship. There she met Schapiro, whom she later married.

After working for some time for the American Trust Company in San Francisco, during World War II, Jane decided to enter the WAC and took training to become a medical and surgical technician.

MENLO PARK

Upon completion of this training Sgt. Jane Eddy was assigned to Dibble General Hospital in Menlo Park, and it was here that she first became interested in problems of the blind, because it was one of the two hospitals in the country which had a program for rehabilitation of the blind.

There was no such thing as musical therapy then, and she was given a free hand in starting such a program.

"It was a matter of trial and error," she said. "We couldn't use braille because it was too slow and laborious, and we had to have some method without notation."

As she worked with the patients, she evolved her own system, using the piano, and eventually had 10 detailed lesson plans that accomplished extraordinary results.

"The first problem in working with persons suddenly blinded," she explained, "is one of motivation. The first reaction is likely to be one of complete hopelessness, and they won't even try to do anything."

The basic aims of a rehabilitation program, Mrs. Schapiro pointed out, are to get the person to accept his physical handicap, to encourage him to assume or resume normal life by reconstructing his self confidence, and to provide enough activities to touch off the right spark of motivation for him.

Those who have been without sight for some time and have not had the benefit of a rehabilitation program often are even more set in their ways and require the same help, she said.

GRATIFICATION

"The special value of playing the piano," she continued, "is that it provides immediate gratification. Since this is something most patients couldn't do when they were sighted, it gives a sense of accomplishment that bolsters self confidence so much that they are ready soon to try other things."

The 10 piano lessons Jane Schapiro devised are cleverly constructed to enable students to make rapid progress. At the end of the first, all but the very slow are able to play a complete tune with the right hand, and at the end of the second, they are able to play a whole piece consisting of a melody and block chord accompaniment.

A new piece is learned each day so that at the end of the first week they know four or five pieces. Frequently as early as the second week they are composing their own little pieces.

Two of the many case histories recorded by Jane Schapiro in her thesis are especially fascinating.

One 38-year-old Philippino man blinded by glaucoma, who hadn't stepped outside his room in seven years, was finally persuaded to try the piano lessons, and within a short time was playing Bach and Chopin. And within six months he was going all over San Francisco without assistance.

Although professional musicianship is not the aim, the lessons did lead to this in one instance.

Nineteen-year-old Joe Hattier, with only slight vision in one eye and hands damaged so that he had only three whole fingers as a result of World War II, became a professional musician.

After getting out of the hospital he attended Greunwald School of Music in New Orleans. Finally he was able to play a concert to such critical acclaim that he was affered a position on the school's teaching staff. His story was told on "We The People" as an example of the possibility of overcoming almost superhuman obstacles.

When Jane left the army after two and one-half years, doctors urged her to go into the field of working with the blind, but it was not until she married Maxim Schapiro in 1948 and was living in New York that she decided to attend Columbia University.

ON FULBRIGHT

Under a Fulbright fellowship, which was extended for a second year, Jane Schapiro did research in music as a major occupation for the blind both in Paris, France, and in England.

In England she also did research in the use of music with blind mentally retarded children. "Two schools there accomplish positively phenomenal things with these children," she said.

In addition to acting as consultant in the state rehabilitation center for the blind in Topeka, Kansas, Jane Schapiro worked two years gathering data and preparing case histories for her thesis while she was a volunteer teacher at the San Francisco Center for the Blind.

Finally after many interruptions necessitated by accompanying her husband on his concert tours, she received her doctorate in education from Columbia University in 1955.

Mrs. Schapiro plans to spend the month of September in Alaska before going on to Japan for two or three months. Then she hopes to visit some British friends in India and others in Europe. She does not expect to return to Mill Valley until some time next July.

JANE EDDY SCHAPIRO goes over on the cello at her home in Mill Valley some selections she expects to play with Perle A. Lee of Sausalito, a former student. He is now a representative for the Baldwin organ. (Independent-Journal photo)

'ARTISTS AT WORK'

San Francisco Art Studios Will Be Opened For Drive

"Artists at Work" is the theme chosen by the Telegraph Hill Neighborhood Association for its fund raising tour of local studios which will take place on Wednesday, Sept. 16.

A number of internationally famous San Francisco artists have agreed to open their studios and work rooms to the general public for this one day to assist the Neighborhood Association in the first operational fund raising drive in its 70-odd year history.

In addition to painting and sculpture studios the public will be invited to peep into the work rooms of Freda Koblick, world renowned plastic designer, a stained glass window factory and the Rudolph Shaeffer School of Design.

All studios and work rooms will be open from 10 a.m. to 12, noon, and from 2 to 6 p.m. During the noon hour pause special luncheon arrangements are being made in selected nearby restaurants. From 5 until 7 p.m. a champagne reception will be held at the Telegraph Hill Neighborhood Center, 555 Chestnut street, San Francisco.

Mrs. Nicholas Boyd is general chairman of the "Artist at Work" project, and her assisting committee heads include: Mesdames Charles Pynchon Jr., Peter Avenali, Lancaster Cordes, Donald Gregory, John Hamilton, James Shields, Frank Hinman Jr., Thomas Cara, Robin Skewes-Cox and Robert Symon; Mimi Magee and Anne Giannini; Peter Macciarini.

Telegraph Hill Neighborhood Association board president John Logan is giving active assistance to the tour as are all current members of the board which includes: Mesdames Elmo de Martini, Peter Avenali, Daniel Boyd, John Hamilton, Frank Hinman Jr., St. George Holden Jr., Gene Prideaux - Brune, James Shields; Messrs. Jack McPherson, Leo Bianco, John Ertola, Edward Griffith, James Morena, Joseph Picetti, Ben Reed, Drs. John Cowan and Lindol French.

The final list of artists who will offer studio hospitality is to be announced at a later date.

MARIN VOLUNTEERS

Fashion Luncheon Guests See Jackie Morgan Fall Preview

When the July calendar says summer, the fashion calendar says fall and time for the first Fall Fashion Forecast.

In enthusiastic spirits prompted by a delightful day, a bevy of Marin's most experienced models, and gay umbrella tables around a cool pool for background, Fashion Focus did its mid-season shift to present the versatile collection of the popular designer, Jackie Morgan, flown up from Los Angeles especially for the show.

For the first of six exclusive showings of designer's collections, the popular Rickey luncheon honored the Marin Volunteers, one of the county's newest organizations dedicated to aiding the program for our Senior Citizens with financial and volunteer support.

Fall forecast for the Marin Volunteers includes continued work at their new thrift shop (very catchily titled "Trade Whims") open Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and located at 1825 Fourth street, San Rafael, on the ground floor of the Senior Citizens Center which welcomes the young-in-heart to its expanding program.

In just three well-chosen words, Marion Bellamy, Fashion Focus coordinator, summed up the fashion forecast for Fall: "You'll Like It." Actually, "you'll like it" is an understatement when it comes to describing how the majority of women will feel about autumn styles.

If the appreciative response to the Jackie Morgan collection is an indication, women will "love" the 1959 fall looks and for a very good reason. Designers are creating fashions to flatter and draw appealing glances from the man who pays the bills!

Trend-setters from the Jackie Morgan Fall Collection:

"Belted Coat," only the color was camel; the expensive camel's hair look was actually washable Arnel in a wrapped, loose tie full length coat completely lined in a provincial print; Mrs. Dan Williams wearing it over a dyed-to-match casual jersey sheath.

"Cape Collar," dramatically emphasizing the stand-away neckline of a gray Tweedy-Knit with contrasting grosgrain trim accenting the long-sleeved, slim lined coat dress for Caroline Ross, president of the Marin Volunteers.

"Unpressed Pleats," cardigan neckline, dolman sleeves, surplice bodice newsworthy style notes for a casual dress of Italian wool twist yarn, Mrs. William Byron Wallace to show it.

JERSEY SHEATH

"Discreet Necklines" such as the high oval trimmed with slate green satin to accent Mrs. Clarence Amonette's slate green wool jersey sheath.

"Printed Wool" for Mrs. Ray Brusati, a royal print topcoat with large collar and newsy dropped shoulder line to chaperon a princess line solid tone sheath with floral applique of the coat on the bodice.

"Fur Trim," a shawl collar of black fox hugging a brief shrug jacket of black wool broadcloth to cover a companion sheath making it a late-day theater ensemble for Mrs. William Donohoe.

"Costume Look," the epitome of fashion, a walking coat in woven all wool gold-toned plaid to emphasize the slim lines of a gold V necked sheath and Corky Jones.

Next Tuesday, Fashion Focus goes "Sale-ing Through Summer" to show pool, patio and party fashions at bargain price tags for hot summer days with The Sisterhood of the Jewish Community Center as the Tuesday honored group.

Your Children To Have Tough Job Getting Into College They Want

Did you attend college? Do you plan to have your children attend too? Then let me warn you. It will be harder for them to get into college than it was for you. They'd better start working for it, now.

We've been having babies at a tremendous rate. The baby boom started during the war years. We had to nearly double our public schools to accommodate them. Now the first wave is entering college. We should double our colleges too. But we can't. That's why the trouble.

Colleges are expanding, especially the tax supported ones. But they just don't have the money to grow fast enough. They must restrict their enrollment. They do it by raising their entrance requirements.

You should do four things for your college-bound youngsters. (1) Start saving money for their education. College is much more expensive than it was when you were a student. (2) Help them choose their high school courses wisely. Talk with teachers and counselors. Get the college catalogues, and check entrance requirements. The requirements must be met. (3) Be sure your children take part in some sort of extracurricular activities. If they can hold office in a club or two, so much the better. Colleges are looking for what they call "well-rounded scholars." (4) Encourage them to get good grades. High school grades matter greatly for college entrance. They're still the best way to predict college success.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, July 23, the 204th day of the year, with 161 more days to follow in 1959.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn, Venus and Mars.

On this date in history:

In 1829, William Burt received a patent for his "typographer," claimed to be the first typewriter in history.

In 1886, New York saloon keeper Steve Brodie said he jumped off the Brooklyn Bridge; thus giving birth to the slang expression, "pulling a Brodie."

In 1904, the ice-cream cone was born.

In 1914, Austria followed up the assassination of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand with a series of harsh demands on Serbia.

In 1942, Private Marion Hargrove published the immediate best seller, "See Here, Private Hargrove."

In 1947, President Harry Truman took the Senate by surprise by taking the seat he held as senator from Missouri. Mr. Truman said: "I sometimes get homesick for this seat."

A thought for today: Congressman Willard Duncan Vandiver said: "I am from Missouri. You have got to show me."

Benicia-Martinez Span Bid Offered

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A low bid of $5,769,000 was offered yesterday for construction of one of the two largest units of the Benicia-Martinez bridge across Carquinez Strait.

The bid for substructure construction was made to the state Division of Highways by Yuba Consolidated Industries Inc. through its Judson Pacific-Murphy Division in Emeryville.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Billy Rose Divorced

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Joyce Mathews was back in New York today after a rapid trip to Juarez for a Mexican divorce from her Broadway producer husband Billy Rose.

Judge Ignacio Martinez Aguayo of the 1st Civil Court here indicated the final decree would be granted sometime today.

Church Leader Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. William Lindsay Young, former moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A., died Tuesday night in his sleep. He was 66.

State Rites for McKay

SALEM, Ore. (UPI) — A state funeral will be held here in the House of Representatives chamber at 10 a.m. Saturday for Douglas McKay, 66-year-old former governor and secretary of interior, who died yesterday.

Cohen Faces Jail

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mickey Cohen is faced with five days in jail—because he refused to discuss his financial affairs in court.

The ex-gambler was slapped with a contempt of court citation yesterday while testifying in a $50,000 damage suit brought against him by a waiter, Arthur Black. The waiter says Cohen hit him and threatened his wife during a party in a Hollywood restaurant Jan. 29, 1958. Cohen paid a $500 fine on a battery charge—but denies he hit Black.

Nikita Calls Meeting

LONDON (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev has called leaders of the communist bloc in eastern Europe to a conference in Moscow early next month, diplomatic sources in London report.

Pa. To Drop Curfew

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew was abolished under terms of a bill passed by the Legislature and sent to Gov. Lawrence for his signature yesterday.

U.S. Jet Sets Record

MOSCOW (UPI) — America's biggest commercial jetliner today streaked non-stop from New York to Moscow in the record time of 8 hours and 45 minutes.

The flight of the "intercontinental" version of the Boeing 707 knocked 63 minutes off the flying time of the Russian TU-114 prop-jet that set the previous New York-Moscow record when Soviet First Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov returned to Russia earlier this month.

State Colleges Gain

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Department of Education says that state college enrollment during the 1958-59 academic year totaled 101,966 regular and limited students.

The total is 9.4 per cent over the previous year's 93,175 students.

'Nazi' Admits Arson

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI) — An 18-year-old youth who police said "hated Jews" and was an "avid follower of the Nazi doctrines of Adolf Hitler" was held in jail here today on arson charges.

Richard Vernon Smith Jr., a mild-mannered library clerk, was arrested in connection with the burning of 165 paintings and art exhibits at the Columbus Museum of Arts and Crafts Saturday night.

Police Chief E. F. Moncrief said the youth confessed he started the $50,000 blaze and also admitted he painted Nazi swastikas in the museum and at two Jewish synagogues last week.

Open Housing Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hearings opening today on the vetoed housing bill may determine whether Congress will attempt to override the veto or try to pass another housing measure before adjournment.

The two possible outcomes were listed for reporters by Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala). He is chief sponsor of the vetoed bill and chairman of the Senate Housing subcommittee that has scheduled seven days of public sessions.

The bill's sponsors hope to counter the President's attack on the vetoed measure and build up pressures for broad housing legislation.

10 Negroes Sign Up

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Registration at the city's four public high schools, closed throughout the 1958-59 school year, went into its third day today. Registration so far has been light.

Five of the nine Negroes who integrated Central High School behind federal troops in 1957 have registered. Parents of four reported to Central High Tuesday and the mother of the fifth showed up yesterday. 10 Negroes have registered so far at Central and Hall high schools.

Troubled Jet Lands

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — An American Airlines Boeing 707 jet en route from New York to Los Angeles with 98 persons aboard made a safe emergency landing at Tucson last night.

Airline officials said the huge plane developed hydraulic trouble in the landing gear system while in flight. It landed smoothly with all wheels down.

Youth Wounds Six

NEW YORK (AP)—A teen-age boy fired a shotgun into a Bronx crowd last night, wounding five children and a man. He was shot to death minutes later by an off-duty policeman.

Police said the shooting was the outgrowth of a feud between the slain boy, Carlos Rosario, 16, and Tommy Lee Allen, 23. Allen was among those wounded by Rosario, none seriously, before Patrolman Walter W. Downs killed the teen-ager.

State Engineers Prepare For Speed Limit Change

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Division of Highways engineers have begun checking the pulse of traffic throughout California to see where the new 65 mile an hour maximum speed limit will have ill effects, and where it will be beneficial.

They are also moving, at a cautious pace, to implement a new law authorizing the division to post minimum speed limits on state freeways.

Assistant traffic engineer R. J. Israel said today that even after the 65-mile limit goes into effect Jan. 1, attempts will still be made to keep drivers at speeds that are "reasonable and prudent."

Israel said he doubted, for instance, that the 65-mile limit would be safe on the congested Pasadena freeway or on the East Shore freeway near the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

He said that older freeways will be rechecked and some may require a reduced limit. He did not think the state's 5,000 miles of mountain roads were likely to sprout signs inviting motorists to clip along at 65 miles an hour.

But Israel insisted that state engineers were not trying to drag the pace of traffic in California.

In recent months, he said, engineers had boosted speed limits from 25 to 35 miles an hour along several city arterials, especially in Southern California.

"The accident rates don't go up with that type of increase, if it's appropriate," he said.

The survey showed that drivers traveling at less than 40 miles an hour on open highways had six times more involvement in accidents than those driving at 65.

However, the 65-mile group had 65 injuries per 100 accidents, while the under-40-mile group had only 24.

Tabulating the accident frequency and accident injury rates, Israel said the safest drivers on the road probably were those proceeding between 45 and about 65 miles an hour on open highways.

Despite the statistics, Israel indicated the department was taking a long, careful look at the new law authorizing minimum speed limits on freeways.

He said any minimum speed experiment would probably be tested first in Los Angeles, where pressures are greatest to move huge numbers of vehicles along freeways as efficiently as possible.

"We're a little afraid of it," Israel said. "You can't enforce minimum speeds at peak hours."

He said the state had failed in an earlier attempt to re-acquaint inside lane slowpoke drivers with their gas pedals. "Posted signs reading 'Slow Vehicles Keep Right' had no effect at all," he said.

California Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford Crittenden, former San Joaquin County district attorney, maintained that minimum speed laws could be enforced only if the public supported them.

"I don't think we can enforce it just by putting people in jail," Crittenden said. "I think the public has to be sold that it's reasonable."

Crittenden cited a "hard sell" effort now under way in the patrol's Redwood City area.

Patrol cars on the Bayshore freeway bear, in the left side of their rear window, a sign reading: "Use right lane." Patrolmen pull up ahead of drivers dawdling along the inside lane and call attention to the sign.

Capt. John Kennedy, of the patrol's Redwood City office, said he was "very satisfied" so far with the results of the two-month campaign.

"Ninety-nine out of 100 get the idea and pull over to the right hand lane," Kennedy said.

Commissioner Crittenden said he was awaiting Kennedy's final report on the "Sightseer" experiment before trying it on a statewide basis. "This may do the job," he said.

Transit Plans For Marin To Be Explained

An explanation of how the Bay Area Rapid Transit District plans to proceed in laying out Marin County routes will be given at 2 p.m. tomorrow at a meeting scheduled for the chambers of the Marin County Board of Supervisors at the county courthouse.

The rapid transit district's delegation will be headed by Keneth M. Hoover, chief engineer, and Richard J. Shephard, administrative assistant.

They will introduce engineers from Tudor Engineering Co. of San Francisco, one of the three firms that will engineer routes in the five-county rapid transit district. It covers San Francisco, Contra Costa, San Mateo and Alameda counties as well as Marin County.

County and city officials including planning commissioners, planning directors, engineers, mayors and councilmen have been invited to tomorrow's meeting.

Long in High Spirits

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana was in fine spirits yesterday.

Proof? He left his hotel, found Catherine Gerkin, a Denver meter maid, writing him a ticket for parking in a building entrance zone.

The governor? Why, he just grinned broadly, didn't say a word.

ANSWER: A 6X9-INCH BOOK OF 204 PAGES. In order to put something in the daily newspaper to bring everybody into one market place requires a variety of features. Sports pages for the sports lovers, recipes and household hints for the housewives, different news for different people. The newspaper's ability to reach all members of the family is an important reason why so many advertisers use the daily newspaper.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, July 23, the 204th day of the year, with 161 more days to follow in 1959.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn, Venus and Mars.

On this date in history:

In 1829, William Burt received a patent for his "typographer," claimed to be the first typewriter in history.

In 1886, New York saloon keeper Steve Brodie said he jumped off the Brooklyn Bridge; thus giving birth to the slang expression, "pulling a Brodie."

In 1904, the ice-cream cone was born.

In 1914, Austria followed up the assassination of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand with a series of harsh demands on Serbia.

In 1942, Private Marion Hargrove published the immediate best seller, "See Here, Private Hargrove."

In 1947, President Harry Truman took the Senate by surprise by taking the seat he held as senator from Missouri. Mr. Truman said: "I sometimes get homesick for this seat."

A thought for today: Congressman Willard Duncan Vandiver said: "I am from Missouri. You have got to show me."

Benicia-Martinez Span Bid Offered

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A low bid of $5,769,000 was offered yesterday for construction of one of the two largest units of the Benicia-Martinez bridge across Carquinez Strait.

The bid for substructure construction was made to the state Division of Highways by Yuba Consolidated Industries Inc. through its Judson Pacific-Murphy Division in Emeryville.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

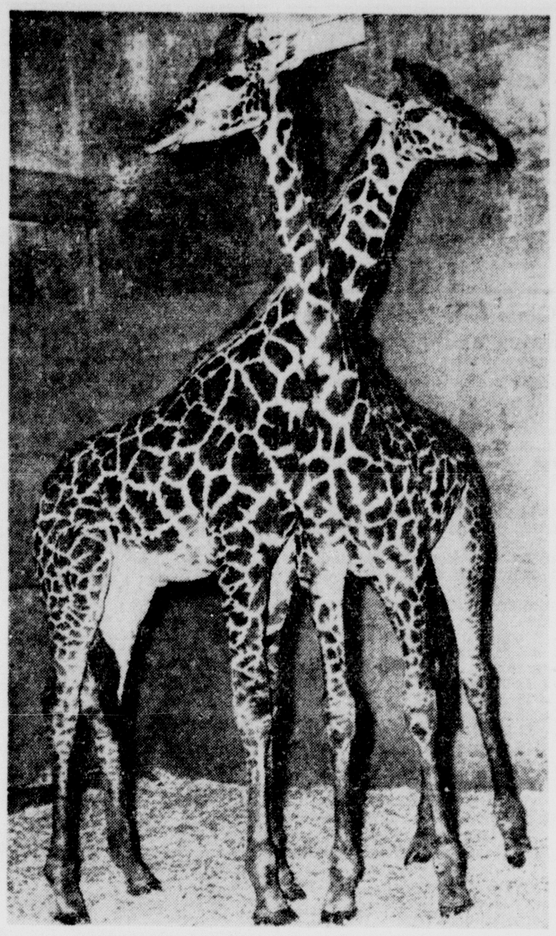

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

This pair of African Masai giraffes stuck together on their arrival at the St. Louis Zoo this week. Masai refers to a tribe in Africa where the giraffes are found. They differ from the ordinary type in having dark brown leaf-shaped blotches, outlined by wide cream-colored markings. (AP Wirephoto)

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Billy Rose Divorced

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Joyce Mathews was back in New York today after a rapid trip to Juarez for a Mexican divorce from her Broadway producer husband Billy Rose.

Judge Ignacio Martinez Aguayo of the 1st Civil Court here indicated the final decree would be granted sometime today.

Church Leader Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. William Lindsay Young, former moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A., died Tuesday night in his sleep. He was 66.

State Rites for McKay

SALEM, Ore. (UPI) — A state funeral will be held here in the House of Representatives chamber at 10 a.m. Saturday for Douglas McKay, 66-year-old former governor and secretary of interior, who died yesterday.

Cohen Faces Jail

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mickey Cohen is faced with five days in jail—because he refused to discuss his financial affairs in court.

The ex-gambler was slapped with a contempt of court citation yesterday while testifying in a $50,000 damage suit brought against him by a waiter, Arthur Black. The waiter says Cohen hit him and threatened his wife during a party in a Hollywood restaurant Jan. 29, 1958. Cohen paid a $500 fine on a battery charge—but denies he hit Black.

Nikita Calls Meeting

LONDON (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev has called leaders of the communist bloc in eastern Europe to a conference in Moscow early next month, diplomatic sources in London report.

Pa. To Drop Curfew

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew was abolished under terms of a bill passed by the Legislature and sent to Gov. Lawrence for his signature yesterday.

U.S. Jet Sets Record

MOSCOW (UPI) — America's biggest commercial jetliner today streaked non-stop from New York to Moscow in the record time of 8 hours and 45 minutes.

The flight of the "intercontinental" version of the Boeing 707 knocked 63 minutes off the flying time of the Russian TU-114 prop-jet that set the previous New York-Moscow record when Soviet First Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov returned to Russia earlier this month.

State Colleges Gain

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Department of Education says that state college enrollment during the 1958-59 academic year totaled 101,966 regular and limited students.

The total is 9.4 per cent over the previous year's 93,175 students.

'Nazi' Admits Arson

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI) — An 18-year-old youth who police said "hated Jews" and was an "avid follower of the Nazi doctrines of Adolf Hitler" was held in jail here today on arson charges.

Richard Vernon Smith Jr., a mild-mannered library clerk, was arrested in connection with the burning of 165 paintings and art exhibits at the Columbus Museum of Arts and Crafts Saturday night.

Police Chief E. F. Moncrief said the youth confessed he started the $50,000 blaze and also admitted he painted Nazi swastikas in the museum and at two Jewish synagogues last week.

Open Housing Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hearings opening today on the vetoed housing bill may determine whether Congress will attempt to override the veto or try to pass another housing measure before adjournment.

The two possible outcomes were listed for reporters by Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala). He is chief sponsor of the vetoed bill and chairman of the Senate Housing subcommittee that has scheduled seven days of public sessions.

The bill's sponsors hope to counter the President's attack on the vetoed measure and build up pressures for broad housing legislation.

10 Negroes Sign Up

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Registration at the city's four public high schools, closed throughout the 1958-59 school year, went into its third day today. Registration so far has been light.

Five of the nine Negroes who integrated Central High School behind federal troops in 1957 have registered. Parents of four reported to Central High Tuesday and the mother of the fifth showed up yesterday. 10 Negroes have registered so far at Central and Hall high schools.

Troubled Jet Lands

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — An American Airlines Boeing 707 jet en route from New York to Los Angeles with 98 persons aboard made a safe emergency landing at Tucson last night.

Airline officials said the huge plane developed hydraulic trouble in the landing gear system while in flight. It landed smoothly with all wheels down.

Youth Wounds Six

NEW YORK (AP)—A teen-age boy fired a shotgun into a Bronx crowd last night, wounding five children and a man. He was shot to death minutes later by an off-duty policeman.

Police said the shooting was the outgrowth of a feud between the slain boy, Carlos Rosario, 16, and Tommy Lee Allen, 23. Allen was among those wounded by Rosario, none seriously, before Patrolman Walter W. Downs killed the teen-ager.

State Engineers Prepare For Speed Limit Change

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Division of Highways engineers have begun checking the pulse of traffic throughout California to see where the new 65 mile an hour maximum speed limit will have ill effects, and where it will be beneficial.

They are also moving, at a cautious pace, to implement a new law authorizing the division to post minimum speed limits on state freeways.

Assistant traffic engineer R. J. Israel said today that even after the 65-mile limit goes into effect Jan. 1, attempts will still be made to keep drivers at speeds that are "reasonable and prudent."

Israel said he doubted, for instance, that the 65-mile limit would be safe on the congested Pasadena freeway or on the East Shore freeway near the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

He said that older freeways will be rechecked and some may require a reduced limit. He did not think the state's 5,000 miles of mountain roads were likely to sprout signs inviting motorists to clip along at 65 miles an hour.

But Israel insisted that state engineers were not trying to drag the pace of traffic in California.

In recent months, he said, engineers had boosted speed limits from 25 to 35 miles an hour along several city arterials, especially in Southern California.

"The accident rates don't go up with that type of increase, if it's appropriate," he said.

The survey showed that drivers traveling at less than 40 miles an hour on open highways had six times more involvement in accidents than those driving at 65.

However, the 65-mile group had 65 injuries per 100 accidents, while the under-40-mile group had only 24.

Tabulating the accident frequency and accident injury rates, Israel said the safest drivers on the road probably were those proceeding between 45 and about 65 miles an hour on open highways.

Despite the statistics, Israel indicated the department was taking a long, careful look at the new law authorizing minimum speed limits on freeways.

He said any minimum speed experiment would probably be tested first in Los Angeles, where pressures are greatest to move huge numbers of vehicles along freeways as efficiently as possible.

"We're a little afraid of it," Israel said. "You can't enforce minimum speeds at peak hours."

He said the state had failed in an earlier attempt to re-acquaint inside lane slowpoke drivers with their gas pedals. "Posted signs reading 'Slow Vehicles Keep Right' had no effect at all," he said.

California Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford Crittenden, former San Joaquin County district attorney, maintained that minimum speed laws could be enforced only if the public supported them.

"I don't think we can enforce it just by putting people in jail," Crittenden said. "I think the public has to be sold that it's reasonable."

Crittenden cited a "hard sell" effort now under way in the patrol's Redwood City area.

Patrol cars on the Bayshore freeway bear, in the left side of their rear window, a sign reading: "Use right lane." Patrolmen pull up ahead of drivers dawdling along the inside lane and call attention to the sign.

Capt. John Kennedy, of the patrol's Redwood City office, said he was "very satisfied" so far with the results of the two-month campaign.

"Ninety-nine out of 100 get the idea and pull over to the right hand lane," Kennedy said.

Commissioner Crittenden said he was awaiting Kennedy's final report on the "Sightseer" experiment before trying it on a statewide basis. "This may do the job," he said.

Transit Plans For Marin To Be Explained

An explanation of how the Bay Area Rapid Transit District plans to proceed in laying out Marin County routes will be given at 2 p.m. tomorrow at a meeting scheduled for the chambers of the Marin County Board of Supervisors at the county courthouse.

The rapid transit district's delegation will be headed by Keneth M. Hoover, chief engineer, and Richard J. Shephard, administrative assistant.

They will introduce engineers from Tudor Engineering Co. of San Francisco, one of the three firms that will engineer routes in the five-county rapid transit district. It covers San Francisco, Contra Costa, San Mateo and Alameda counties as well as Marin County.

County and city officials including planning commissioners, planning directors, engineers, mayors and councilmen have been invited to tomorrow's meeting.

Long in High Spirits

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana was in fine spirits yesterday.

Proof? He left his hotel, found Catherine Gerkin, a Denver meter maid, writing him a ticket for parking in a building entrance zone.

The governor? Why, he just grinned broadly, didn't say a word.

Teaches at Humboldt

SUMMONS
SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
FOR THE COUNTY OF MARIN

SIDNEY C. B. FRASER and JOSEPHINE FRASER, his wife, Plaintiffs,
vs.
ROACH BROTHERS AND COMPANY, a corporation; J. R. Gilbert, Trustee; JAMES L. McLAIN; and FIRST DOE to FIFTIETH DOE, inclusive; Defendants.

No. 31204.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, TO ROACH BROTHERS AND COMPANY, A CORPORATION; J. R. GILBERT; Trustee; JAMES L. McLAIN; and FIRST DOE TO FIFTIETH DOE, INCLUSIVE; ALSO ALL OTHER PERSONS UNKNOWN, claiming any right, title, estate, lien, or interest in the real property described in the complaint adverse to plaintiffs' ownership or any cloud upon plaintiffs' title hereto, defendant:

You are hereby directed to appear and answer the complaint of the above-named plaintiffs filed in the above-entitled court in the above-entitled action brought against you in said court, within TEN days after the service on you of this summons, if served within the above-named county, or within THIRTY days if served elsewhere.

You are hereby notified that unless you so appear and answer said plaintiffs will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the complaint as arising upon contract, or will apply to the court for any other relief demanded in the complaint.

The object of this action is to make the above-named defendants set forth the nature of their claim or claims to the real property in the complaint and hereinafter described, if any they have, and that such claim or claims be adjudged to be of no effect and void, and that plaintiffs' title to said real property be quieted against them.

That said real property is situate in the County of Marin, State of California, and is particularly described as follows:

That certain real property situate in the County of Marin, State of California, described as follows: Lot Three Hundred Twenty-two (322) as laid down and delineated on that certain map of Grand View, entitled, "Map "B" East part of Division "D" Rancho de Novato, Marin County, California," recorded November 13, 1905, in Book 2 of Maps, at page 41, in the office of the County Recorder of Marin County, California.

CHARTER ORDINANCE NO. 694 AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL TRANSFERRING THE ASSESSMENT AND TAX COLLECTION DUTIES AND THE COLLECTION OF ASSESSMENTS LEVIED FOR MUNICIPAL PURPOSES NOW PERFORMED BY THE CITY ASSESSOR AND THE CITY TAX COLLECTOR TO THE ASSESSOR AND TAX COLLECTOR OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN AND REPEALING ALL ORDINANCES OR PARTS OF ORDINANCES IN CONFLICT HEREWITH.

WHEREAS, the City of San Rafael, a Municipal Corporation desires to transfer the assessment and tax collection duties performed by the City Assessor and the City Tax Collector to the Assessor and Tax Collector of the County of Marin, pursuant to the provisions of Article I of Chapter II Title V of the Government Code of the State of California; the City Council of the City of San Rafael does ordain as follows:

Section 1. Definitions. The following words and expressions, when used in this ordinance, shall for the purpose of this ordinance have the meanings respectively ascribed to them as follows:

(a) City: The word "City" as used in this ordinance shall mean the City of San Rafael, a chartered municipal corporation, situated in the County of Marin, State of California.

(b) County: The word "County" as used in this ordinance shall mean the County of Marin, a political subdivision of the State of California.

Section 2. Transfer of Duties: The assessment and tax collection duties, involving property taxes only and the collection of assessments levied for municipal improvements, including the assessment and collection of both secured and unsecured property taxes, now performed by the Assessor and the Tax Collector of the City, are hereby transferred to the Assessor and the Tax Collector of the County, effective on date hereof.

Section 3. Filing of Certified Copy: The City Clerk shall cause a certified copy of this Ordinance to be filed with the Auditor of the County on or before the first Monday of February, 1960, and immediately thereafter shall notify the State Board of Equalization thereof.

Section 4. Repealing: All ordinance or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 5. Effective Date: This ordinance shall be published once in the Independent Journal, a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the City of San Rafael, and shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after its final passage.

The foregoing ordinance was duly and regularly introduced at a regular meeting of the City Council of The City of San Rafael held in said City on the 20th day of July, 1959, and was ordered passed to print by the following vote, to wit:

AYES: Councilmen Aby, Baar, Jensen, Sauer and Mayor McInnis

CHARTER ORDINANCE NO. 694 AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL TRANSFERRING THE ASSESSMENT AND TAX COLLECTION DUTIES AND THE COLLECTION OF ASSESSMENTS LEVIED FOR MUNICIPAL PURPOSES NOW PERFORMED BY THE CITY ASSESSOR AND THE CITY TAX COLLECTOR TO THE ASSESSOR AND TAX COLLECTOR OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN AND REPEALING ALL ORDINANCES OR PARTS OF ORDINANCES IN CONFLICT HEREWITH.

WHEREAS, the City of San Rafael, a Municipal Corporation desires to transfer the assessment and tax collection duties performed by the City Assessor and the City Tax Collector to the Assessor and Tax Collector of the County of Marin, pursuant to the provisions of Article I of Chapter II Title V of the Government Code of the State of California; the City Council of the City of San Rafael does ordain as follows:

Section 1. Definitions. The following words and expressions, when used in this ordinance, shall for the purpose of this ordinance have the meanings respectively ascribed to them as follows:

(a) City: The word "City" as used in this ordinance shall mean the City of San Rafael, a chartered municipal corporation, situated in the County of Marin, State of California.

(b) County: The word "County" as used in this ordinance shall mean the County of Marin, a political subdivision of the State of California.

Section 2. Transfer of Duties: The assessment and tax collection duties, involving property taxes only and the collection of assessments levied for municipal improvements, including the assessment and collection of both secured and unsecured property taxes, now performed by the Assessor and the Tax Collector of the City, are hereby transferred to the Assessor and the Tax Collector of the County, effective on date hereof.

Section 3. Filing of Certified Copy: The City Clerk shall cause a certified copy of this Ordinance to be filed with the Auditor of the County on or before the first Monday of February, 1960, and immediately thereafter shall notify the State Board of Equalization thereof.

Section 4. Repealing: All ordinance or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 5. Effective Date: This ordinance shall be published once in the Independent Journal, a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the City of San Rafael, and shall be in full force and effect thirty (30) days after its final passage.

The foregoing ordinance was duly and regularly introduced at a regular meeting of the City Council of The City of San Rafael held in said City on the 20th day of July, 1959, and was ordered passed to print by the following vote, to wit:

AYES: Councilmen Aby, Baar, Jensen, Sauer and Mayor McInnis

N. Bay Span Traffic Up

All categories of traffic over the Richmond-San Rafael bridge showed increases for last month as compared with June a year ago.

Total of vehicles was 278,746, as compared with 253,330 for June, 1958, the California Toll Bridge Authority reported yesterday.

Collections were similarly up, not only as to total but as to average toll per vehicle. Last month the tolls aggregated $243,320.75 with an average toll of 87.3 cents per vehicle; corresponding figures for June of last year were $213,672.75 and 84.3 cents.

An average of 9,292 vehicles crossed daily last month while the previous year's daily June total was 8,444.

Variety Marks Selections Of Ross Players

Three plays providing a wide range of different types of comedy and drama have been selected by the Ross Valley Players for the coming season, president Roland Irving of Terra Linda announced today.

All plays will be presented on Thursday, Friday and Saturday for four successive weekends at the Barn, Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross.

Opening the season on Oct. 22 will be N. Richard Nash's "The Rainmaker", a comedy about a remote family whose lives are sparked into happiness and romance following a visit by an itinerant rainmaker. Tryouts for "The Rainmaker" will be held Sept. 2. The director will be Cliff Badger, who directed "The Matchmaker" last spring.

"Come Back Little Sheba" by William Inge will be the winter presentation, to open Feb. 18. This is a compassionate drama of human emotions at the domestic level.

Last on the schedule will be "Sabrina Fair," Samuel Taylor's romantic comedy. It will be presented by the Players starting May 5.

Belvedere Wharf Draws No Protests

No protests were received by the Army Corps of Engineers to a proposal by Capt. E. J. Towle, of Corinthian Island, Belvedere, for construction of a 30 by 40-foot wharf on concrete piling to be built on his property.

The army engineers had received his application for construction to determine if there were any objections on a basis of navigational hazards.

Final date for receipt of protests was July 19.

Muir Woods Group Hears Talk On Senility Problems

Dr. Allen Barbour of the Marin County Medical Assn. thinks you may become senile at 50 — or you may escape it altogether.

He told the July meeting of the Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. that medical science has made great progress in control of many problems of the aging but that senility still poses frequent choice between putting an elderly family member in a home, or disrupting the happiness of others in the family group.

The improvement group thanked Marin County supervisors for exercise of special caution this year in appropriating public funds to subsidize private organizations.

It urged officials to investigate why the state Division of Beaches and Parks has not yet bought the Diaz ranch property in the course of its program of adding to public recreation area in the Mt. Tamalpais vicinity. Valuable lumber rights have already been sold and development interests are said to contemplate making an offer for the ranch for use as a subdivision, club members reported.

19 Young Musicians To Seek Scholarships

At least 19 young musicians will audition next month for Marin Music Chest scholarships, it was announced today by Carlos R. Freitas, Music Chest president.

The auditions, not open to the public, are scheduled for August 18, 1:30 p.m., in Angelico Hall, Dominican College, San Rafael. Deadline for application is August 13.

Four $200 scholarships are awarded annually by the organization, each scholarship covering a period of approximately nine months' tuition.

This year's list of young hopefuls to date include Janey Marsh, Helene Mills, Sally Freitas, Rosemary von Bima, Nicholas Marlowe, Claudia Colburn, Robert Lamb, Carroll Solo, Sheldon Bachus, Anna Clare Van Dalen, George MacDuke, Forest McKie, Marilyn Covell, Lynn Howard, Linda Salvisberg, Barbara Jo Ferguson, Patrick Hurtardo, Michele Meyer and Robert Silva.

Members of the audition board, in addition to Judge Freitas, chairman, are E. L. Blackmore; Sister Francis Xavier, Dominican School of Music; Miss Louise A. Boyd and Mmes. Milton Esberg, Boyd Stewart, Frank Howard Allen, Howard Blank, Harrison Leppo, Uda Waldrop, Emmett Rixford, George Stephens, Natale Andreotti, Harold Hansen, James Wyatt, J. Boatner Chamberlain and Kitty Oppenheimer.

Petaluma Draws Rodeo Champs

Champion and near-champion rodeo performers will highlight the entertainment at the Sonoma-Marin Fair in Petaluma on August 8, it was announced today by Dom Fusaro, fair manager.

The six-event show, contracted by Dick Hemsed of Redding, will include saddle and bareback bronc riding, calf and team roping, bulldogging and Brahma bull riding.

More than 100 cowboys will compete for prize money as well as points toward the northern California cowboy championships, Fusaro said.

Variety Marks Selections Of Ross Players

Three plays providing a wide range of different types of comedy and drama have been selected by the Ross Valley Players for the coming season, president Roland Irving of Terra Linda announced today.

All plays will be presented on Thursday, Friday and Saturday for four successive weekends at the Barn, Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross.

Opening the season on Oct. 22 will be N. Richard Nash's "The Rainmaker", a comedy about a remote family whose lives are sparked into happiness and romance following a visit by an itinerant rainmaker. Tryouts for "The Rainmaker" will be held Sept. 2. The director will be Cliff Badger, who directed "The Matchmaker" last spring.

"Come Back Little Sheba" by William Inge will be the winter presentation, to open Feb. 18. This is a compassionate drama of human emotions at the domestic level.

Last on the schedule will be "Sabrina Fair," Samuel Taylor's romantic comedy. It will be presented by the Players starting May 5.

Belvedere Wharf Draws No Protests

No protests were received by the Army Corps of Engineers to a proposal by Capt. E. J. Towle, of Corinthian Island, Belvedere, for construction of a 30 by 40-foot wharf on concrete piling to be built on his property.

The army engineers had received his application for construction to determine if there were any objections on a basis of navigational hazards.

Final date for receipt of protests was July 19.

Muir Woods Group Hears Talk On Senility Problems

Dr. Allen Barbour of the Marin County Medical Assn. thinks you may become senile at 50 — or you may escape it altogether.

He told the July meeting of the Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. that medical science has made great progress in control of many problems of the aging but that senility still poses frequent choice between putting an elderly family member in a home, or disrupting the happiness of others in the family group.

The improvement group thanked Marin County supervisors for exercise of special caution this year in appropriating public funds to subsidize private organizations.

It urged officials to investigate why the state Division of Beaches and Parks has not yet bought the Diaz ranch property in the course of its program of adding to public recreation area in the Mt. Tamalpais vicinity. Valuable lumber rights have already been sold and development interests are said to contemplate making an offer for the ranch for use as a subdivision, club members reported.

N. Bay Span Traffic Up

All categories of traffic over the Richmond-San Rafael bridge showed increases for last month as compared with June a year ago.

Total of vehicles was 278,746, as compared with 253,330 for June, 1958, the California Toll Bridge Authority reported yesterday.

Collections were similarly up, not only as to total but as to average toll per vehicle. Last month the tolls aggregated $243,320.75 with an average toll of 87.3 cents per vehicle; corresponding figures for June of last year were $213,672.75 and 84.3 cents.

An average of 9,292 vehicles crossed daily last month while the previous year's daily June total was 8,444.

19 Young Musicians To Seek Scholarships

At least 19 young musicians will audition next month for Marin Music Chest scholarships, it was announced today by Carlos R. Freitas, Music Chest president.

The auditions, not open to the public, are scheduled for August 18, 1:30 p.m., in Angelico Hall, Dominican College, San Rafael. Deadline for application is August 13.

Four $200 scholarships are awarded annually by the organization, each scholarship covering a period of approximately nine months' tuition.

This year's list of young hopefuls to date include Janey Marsh, Helene Mills, Sally Freitas, Rosemary von Bima, Nicholas Marlowe, Claudia Colburn, Robert Lamb, Carroll Solo, Sheldon Bachus, Anna Clare Van Dalen, George MacDuke, Forest McKie, Marilyn Covell, Lynn Howard, Linda Salvisberg, Barbara Jo Ferguson, Patrick Hurtardo, Michele Meyer and Robert Silva.

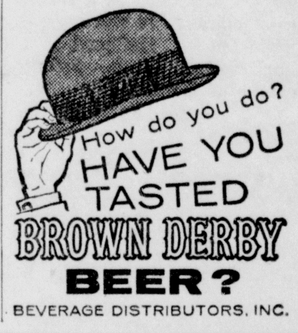

Members of the audition board, in addition to Judge Freitas, chairman, are E. L. Blackmore; Sister Francis Xavier, Dominican School of Music; Miss Louise A. Boyd and Mmes. Milton Esberg, Boyd Stewart, Frank Howard Allen, Howard Blank, Harrison Leppo, Uda Waldrop, Emmett Rixford, George Stephens, Natale Andreotti, Harold Hansen, James Wyatt, J. Boatner Chamberlain and Kitty Oppenheimer.

Petaluma Draws Rodeo Champs

Champion and near-champion rodeo performers will highlight the entertainment at the Sonoma-Marin Fair in Petaluma on August 8, it was annouced today by Dom Fusaro, fair manager.

The six-event show, contracted by Dick Hemsed of Redding, will include saddle and bareback bronc riding, calf and team roping, bulldogging and Brahma bull riding.

More than 100 cowboys will compete for prize money as well as points toward the northern California cowboy championships, Fusaro said.

Residential Phase Of United Crusade Nearly Organized

Organization of the residential phase of Marin's 1959 United Crusade campaign is rapidly nearing completion, chairman E. D. Bullard announced today.

Appointments are being made under a new system which will find member agencies of the Marin United Fund assuming responsibility for covering specific geographical areas of the county. Overall supervision will be provided by the Red Cross, with Mrs. E. Gould Ingram of Belvedere serving as residential chairman.

Among the various cities, major attention will be focused on the greater Mill Valley district, which has been selected this year for initiation of a "block solicitation assignment" project which Crusade officials hope to expand over the next three years to cover all of the county, Bullard said. The pioneering moves will be made by the Sunny Hills organization, with Mrs. Robert Lashly of Mill Valley in charge.

The residential campaign in the major San Rafael area will be conducted by Catholic Social Service with Mrs. John J. Egan of Greenbrae as chairman.

The Girl Scouts will conduct the residential drive in the Southern Marin area, including Sausalito and Marin City and the Tiburon Peninsula to Highway 101, with Mrs. Frank Duhme Jr. of Tiburon in charge, assisted by Mrs. Robert Kettenbach of Belvedere.

The residential solicitations in Ross will be expanded to include local business, Bullard said. Supervising agency will be the Marin Assn. for Retarded Children, with Jess J. France Jr. of San Anselmo as chairman.

In the Kentfield area, including Del Mesa and Kent Woodlands, the campaign will be handled by the Family Service Agency with Mrs. Sam Hanzel of Kent Woodlands as chairman.

In Greenbrae and Bon Air, the directing agency will be the Children's Home Society, with Mrs. V. Neil Fulton of Greenbrae as chairman.

The Larkspur solicitations of homes will be conducted by the Catholic Youth Organization with Mrs. David Callahan of San Anselmo and Mrs. Adolph Lubamersky of Corte Madera serving as co-chairmen.

In Corte Madera, the Marin unit of the Junior League of San Francisco will be in charge, with Mrs. George Cunningham of San Anselmo as chairman.

The campaign in the San Anselmo area, including Sleepy Hollow, will be conducted by the Camp Fire Girls with Mrs. Edward M. Zeller of Kent Woodlands as chairman.

Kickoff date for the United Crusade is Oct. 1.

Fairfax Native Sons, Daughters To Install

Officers of Fairfax Parlor 307 of Native Sons of the Golden West and Fairfax Parlor 225 of Native Daughters of the Golden West will be installed in joint ceremonies at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Fairfax Women's Clubhouse.

Installing officers will be Leo Lavio of Nicasio Parlor 183 of the Native Sons, and Caroline Faustine of Sea Point Parlof 196, Sausalito, of the Native Daughters. Both Lavio and Mrs. Faustine are district deputy grand presidents.

Warren McGuire, junior past president; Frank L. Lawrence, senior past president; Larry Benjamin, marshal; Eddie Fredericks, inside sentinel; Edward Treleven, outside sentinel; William H. Lane, recording secretary; Eugene Ardito, financial secretary; Norman Ferrari, treasurer; and Ed Fuselli, Jean Lestanguet and George Della, trustees.

Native Daughters: Shirley Shepley, president; Julia Kelso, first vice president; Bernice Treleven, second vice president; Elna Roselli, third vice president; Jean Reid, past president; Annie Lestinguet, junior past president; Susan Reid, marshal; Claudia Montgomery, inside sentinel; Edna Wurtz, outside sentinel; Rosalia Hurt, organist; Ann Barford, recording secretary; Alice Powers, financial secretary; Catherine Ingram, treasurer; and Myrtle Arata, Tina Price and Louise Johnson, trustees.

Woman Heads Demo Drive

Mrs. Mary Jo Gentes of Ross has been named Marin chairman of the 1959 Dollars for Democrats drive, it was announced today by Assemblyman William Munnell, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee.

The drive is scheduled for Oct. 1, 2 and 3. Northern California co-chairmen are Reginald Watt of Chico and Mrs. Ann Alanson of San Francisco. Mrs. Gentes is one of nine county chairmen in the Bay Area.

In addition, others from Marin named to a steering committee are Roger Kent and Mrs. Elizabeth Smith of Kentfield; Mrs. Gordon Strawbridge of Belvedere, and Mrs. Nancy Swadesh of Mill Valley.

Kent is northern California state central committee chairman; Mrs. Smith is democratic national committeewoman, and Nancy Swadesh is executive secretary of Dollars for Democrats, northern California division.

Guest To Lead Jewish Worship

Dr. Elliott L. Grafman will serve as pulpit guest tomorrow at Congregation Rodef Sholom in the absence of Rabbi Morton Hoffman.

Worship will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the Jewish Community Center at 1618 Mission avenue, San Rafael. Dr. Grafman will be assisted by Sam Herst, who will recite the blessing over the Sabbath Lights.

An Oneg Shabbat will follow with refreshments served by the women's auxiliary of the congregation.

Base Opens Dining Hall

The new $400,000 dining hall at Hamilton Air Force Base opened its doors this week, to hundreds of hungry airmen.

The new facility was built by Martinelli Construction Co. of San Francisco. Col. Paulette Spivey, commander of the 78th Air Base Group, cut the ceremonial ribbon, officially opening the hall.

The plant is staffed by two five-man shifts of cooks, 24 kitchen police per day, and a mess sergeant. It is capable of serving 800 men per meal. It features the latest in cooking and serving equipment, an automatic ice machine, walk-in refrigerators and freezers, refrigerated garbage bins, automatic coffee urns and a public address system.

BRANCH BANK GETS ITS OWN BRANCH BANK

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — A branch bank here is getting a branch of its own.

First Union National Bank officials say their plaza branch in a suburban area has outgrown its confines.

So a small structure with two drive-in windows is to be constructed just around the corner.

Earns Promotion

David Morgan Evans Jr. of Corte Madera has been named assistant manager of division accounting for General Petroleum Corp.'s central division, William M. Frizell, division manager, announced. Evans began his career with General Petroleum in 1932. He and his family live at 28 Mohawk avenue.

Reed Meet Canceled

The regular Tuesday night meeting of the Reed Union School District trustees has been cancelled because of vacation schedules, Asst. Supt. Lloyd R. O'Connor reported today. The next meeting will be held Aug. 11, O'Connor said.

JOINS FATHER — John R. Preston of 56 Monte Vista avenue, Mill Valley, has joined the real estate office of his father, Del Preston, at 322 Miller avenue, Mill Valley. Young Preston for three years has been employed in the Division of Highways.

Incorporation Articles Filed For Sabella's

Incorporation of Sabella's Restaurant on U. S. Highway 101 opposite Strawberry for $200,000 capitalization was announced this week by Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan.

The announcement stated that the articles of incorporation called for $100 par shares for "a restaurant, motel and specialty shop."

Owner Angelo Sabella said today the move was made on the advice of his attorney as "a proper business procedure," since the firm had been operated as his own venture.

Sabella said that he is considering expansion but none is planned for the immediate future.

He said the new corporation will be strictly a family affair with himself, his wife, Vito, and son, Luciano, as officers. His daughter, Angela, who lives with her parents in San Francisco, will also be a stockholder. Son Luciano lives in San Anselmo. All four work at the restaurant.

Sabella has recently completed an outdoor patio expansion which will accommodate an added 60 diners, bringing the total capacity to 200. He is now conducting a contest to name the addition.

Residential Phase Of United Crusade Nearly Organized

Organization of the residential phase of Marin's 1959 United Crusade campaign is rapidly nearing completion, chairman E. D. Bullard announced today.

Appointments are being made under a new system which will find member agencies of the Marin United Fund assuming responsibility for covering specific geographical areas of the county. Overall supervision will be provided by the Red Cross, with Mrs. E. Gould Ingram of Belvedere serving as residential chairman.

Among the various cities, major attention will be focused on the greater Mill Valley district, which has been selected this year for initiation of a "block solicitation assignment" project which Crusade officials hope to expand over the next three years to cover all of the county, Bullard said. The pioneering moves will be made by the Sunny Hills organization, with Mrs. Robert Lashly of Mill Valley in charge.

The residential campaign in the major San Rafael area will be conducted by Catholic Social Service with Mrs. John J. Egan of Greenbrae as chairman.

The Girl Scouts will conduct the residential drive in the Southern Marin area, including Sausalito and Marin City and the Tiburon Peninsula to Highway 101, with Mrs. Frank Duhme Jr. of Tiburon in charge, assisted by Mrs. Robert Kettenbach of Belvedere.

The residential solicitations in Ross will be expanded to include local business, Bullard said. Supervising agency will be the Marin Assn. for Retarded Children, with Jess J. France Jr. of San Anselmo as chairman.

In the Kentfield area, including Del Mesa and Kent Woodlands, the campaign will be handled by the Family Service Agency with Mrs. Sam Hanzel of Kent Woodlands as chairman.

In Greenbrae and Bon Air, the directing agency will be the Children's Home Society, with Mrs. V. Neil Fulton of Greenbrae as chairman.

The Larkspur solicitations of homes will be conducted by the Catholic Youth Organization with Mrs. David Callahan of San Anselmo and Mrs. Adolph Lubamersky of Corte Madera serving as co-chairmen.

In Corte Madera, the Marin unit of the Junior League of San Francisco will be in charge, with Mrs. George Cunningham of San Anselmo as chairman.

The campaign in the San Anselmo area, including Sleepy Hollow, will be conducted by the Camp Fire Girls with Mrs. Edward M. Zeller of Kent Woodlands as chairman.

Kickoff date for the United Crusade is Oct. 1.

Woman Heads Demo Drive

Mrs. Mary Jo Gentes of Ross has been named Marin chairman of the 1959 Dollars for Democrats drive. it was announced today by Assemblyman William Munnell, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee.

The drive is scheduled for Oct. 1, 2 and 3. Northern California co-chairmen are Reginald Watt of Chico and Mrs. Ann Alanson of San Francisco. Mrs. Gentes is one of nine county chairmen in the Bay Area.

In addition, others from Marin named to a steering committee are Roger Kent and Mrs. Elizabeth Smith of Kentfield; Mrs. Gordon Strawbridge of Belvedere, and Mrs. Nancy Swadesh of Mill Valley.

Kent is northern California state central committee chairman; Mrs. Smith is democratic national committeewoman, and Nancy Swadesh is executive secretary of Dollars for Democrats, northern California division.

Guest To Lead Jewish Worship

Dr. Elliott L. Grafman will serve as pulpit guest tomorrow at Congregation Rodef Sholom in the absence of Rabbi Morton Hoffman.

Worship will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the Jewish Community Center at 1618 Mission avenue, San Rafael. Dr. Grafman will be assisted by Sam Herst, who will recite the blessing over the Sabbath Lights.

An Oneg Shabbat will follow with refreshments served by the women's auxiliary of the congregation.

Base Opens Dining Hall

The new $400,000 dining hall at Hamilton Air Force Base opened its doors this week, to hundreds of hungry airmen.

The new facility was built by Martinelli Construction Co. of San Francisco. Col. Paulette Spivey, commander of the 78th Air Base Group, cut the ceremonial ribbon, officially opening the hall.

The plant is staffed by two five-man shifts of cooks, 24 kitchen police per day, and a mess sergeant. It is capable of serving 800 men per meal. It features the latest in cooking and serving equipment, an automatic ice machine, walk-in refrigerators and freezers, refrigerated garbage bins, automatic coffee urns and a public address system.

BRANCH BANK GETS ITS OWN BRANCH BANK

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — A branch bank here is getting a branch of its own.

First Union National Bank officials say their plaza branch in a suburban area has outgrown its confines.

So a small structure with two drive-in windows is to be constructed just around the corner.

Earns Promotion

David Morgan Evans Jr. of Corte Madera has been named assistant manager of division accounting for General Petroleum Corp.'s central division, William M. Frizell, division manager, announced. Evans began his career with General Petroleum in 1932. He and his family live at 28 Mohawk avenue.

JOINS FATHER — John R. Preston of 56 Monte Vista avenue, Mill Valley, has joined the real estate office of his father, Del Preston, at 322 Miller avenue, Mill Valley. Young Preston for three years has been employed in the Division of Highways.

Incorporation Articles Filed For Sabella's

Incorporation of Sabella's Restaurant on U. S. Highway 101 opposite Strawberry for $200,000 capitalization was announced this week by Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan.

The announcement stated that the articles of incorporation called for $100 par shares for "a restaurant, motel and specialty shop."

Owner Angelo Sabella said today the move was made on the advice of his attorney as "a proper business procedure," since the firm had been operated as his own venture.

Sabella said that he is considering expansion but none is planned for the immediate future.

He said the new corporation will be strictly a family affair with himself, his wife, Vito, and son, Luciano, as officers. His daughter, Angela, who lives with her parents in San Francisco, will also be a stockholder. Son Luciano lives in San Anselmo. All four work at the restaurant.

Sabella has recently completed an outdoor patio expansion which will accommodate an added 60 diners, bringing the total capacity to 200. He is now conducting a contest to name the addition.
